Missionaries Among Us.
Water and Air Waves.
A Mania for Excess.
Fearfully Made.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright 1928.)

LAST Sunday Hindu gentlemen distributed at the entrance of Mr. Rockefeller's and other New York churches handbills saying "Christianity has outlived its usefulness," asking the public to embrace Hinduism.

That seems to us outrageous. But we finance devoted missionaries that do the same thing in foreign countries. The mote in our brother's eye is always visible.

OLD British builders of wooden ships who said ships made of steel would sink in heavy storms would be interested in the Leviathan's latest trip.

She reached New York yesterday with her forecastle deck smashed, deck structures badly twisted by a wave said to be 150 feet high, that dropped 1,000,000 pounds of water on her deck at once.

Men build ships that the ocean cannot sink. Water waves are heavier than air waves. Airships will soon be built that no air wave will worry.

ST. PAUL reports a mania of endurance contests among children. Two boys kept one kite flying 48 hours. Sylvia Moskowitz bounced a golf ball 2,710 times without stopping. Another girl skipped the rope 535 times. A boy beat her by 50 skips.

A going-without-sleep contest started the thing. This type of excess explains the fact that heart disease threatens to hold the death championship in the United States.

THE case of Miss Irene Hamilton, 27, about to undergo her nineteenth blood transfusion to combat pernicious anemia, should make the average human being grateful for his body "fearfully and wonderfully made."

While we work and while we sleep, blood is manufactured, with red corpuscles to do the building and white corpuscles to fight disease. That blood is transformed by the gallon into other fluids of the body and retransformed into blood over and over. In each of us a marvelous chemical and physical laboratory is doing work of which we know nothing.

CHICAGO criminals admit planning a kidnaping campaign expected to yield $1,000,000. If the friends of the kidnaped failed to pay, the kidnaped would never return.

The penalty for that crime is death, but that made no difference with $1,000,000 in sight.

THAT kidnaping is unpleasant but not as bad as in old days of the "Jacquarie" in France, when there were 70 local famines in one year, and peasants, tired of eating the bark of trees, kidnaped and ate each others' children, or seized travelers and ate them. In one hiding place were found 45 skulls of travelers thus devoured. There is SOME improvement.

FRESH from pleasant pastimes and musings of Easter, the bulls returned to Wall Street yesterday more bullish than ever. Prices went up all along the line, more than 4,000,000 shares were sold. New York banks called $35,000,000 in loans, but that bothered nobody. It is hard to discourage a determined bull.

SMALLPOX is raging in Mexico, 650 deaths within a few days in the state of Jalisco.

Investigation will show that inhabitants of that region do not "believe in vaccination." They call it scientific folly or have superstitious fear of it.

IN CHINA because of famine, caused by poor crops and constant war, girls 10 years old are offered for sale at $10, Mexican money. Those younger sell for 5 Mexican dollars, and business is bad, even at those prices. In the provinces of Shantung and Chihli, alone, 4,000,000 persons are destitute and half starved. In China, as elsewhere, war doesn't pay.

HOWARD BISHOP, middle-aged married man, interrupted his "calling off" at a country dance. When he returned shortly to resume the calling off, he remarked: "I have killed Merritt Manning, and I am damn glad of it."

Mr. Manning was with Mr. Bishop's wife at the time of the killing and everybody who believes that a jury will convict Bishop of murder in the first degree knows little about human nature.

MR. ROLVAAG who wrote "Giants of the Earth," fresh from Norway, says this "is a country of tremendous extremes and tremendous excesses."

The gentleman should remember that he who doesn't go too far never goes far enough.

IN SEATTLE a tiny Pomeranian barked too much. Its owner wanted the vocal cords removed, reducing the bark to a gesture, but humane societies said "no."

Dog Trainer Sanderlin removed the bark in two weeks by training. "obedience is the secret," says he. "I taught Darkie (the Pomeranian) the meaning of the words 'shut up.'"

That trainer might make a fortune in politics.

COOLIDGE PITCH OPENS SEASON

CHICAGO HAS AN ELECTION

In the first four hours of Chicago's voting in the primary election today the following disorders were reported to police.

GOV. LEN SMALL

—Up for re-election and backed by Thompson.

CARRYING a crippled woman election worker across the street to a polling place, R. H. Taylor, Deneen man, was slugged by four with shotguns and kidnaped.

SENATOR CHARLES S. DENEEN

—Leader of the faction opposing Thompson.

FOUR election workers were kidnaped. Three election workers were badly beaten.

STATE'S ATTORNEY ROBERT CROWE

—Up for re-election on the Thompson ticket.

SEVEN reports were received of ballot box stuffing. Eleven polling places reported invasion by hoodlums.

MAYOR BIG BILL THOMPSON

—Heading one faction in the Chicago Republican primaries.

ONE alderman was released after he was said to have been kidnaped; one political worker was shot.

FRANK L. SMITH

—Rejected by the Senate; running a second time.

A GANG in an automobile appeared before a precinct in the Forty-second Ward and sat with machine guns trained on voters, directing them to vote for State's Attorney Crowe.

BASEBALL'S OPENER PERILED BY RAIN

1st Game of 1928

President Coolidge started the hostilities by tossing out the first ball.

With weather anything but propitious for baseball, the scheduled opening was followed regardless of the comfort of the general public, to say nothing of His Excellency, Calvin Coolidge, as a chill dampness pervaded the capital after a rain that started during the night and did not let up until well toward noon.

Vice President Dawes, Secretary Hoover, Secretary Jardine and Attorney General Sargent were in attendance as the game started.

Bucky Harris stuck to his pre-season pitching selection, Milton Gaston, a winter-time acquisition from the St. Louis Browns, and Bill Carrigan depended on the bespectacled Danny MacFayden.

Council Gets Bills For Gold Keys For Guests

Council will act this week on the bills, amounting to about $5,000, that were run up during the entertainment of the Hungarian delegation that visited Pittsburgh March 22-23. Among the items included are the banquet at the William Penn Hotel, 150 golden keys and bound volumes of the incidents of the visit.

OPERATORS STILL HIDE BOOKS

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Striving desperately to conceal their production costs, the Southern West Virginia coal operators continued today their attack on the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee's right to require them to show their books in connection with the committee's investigation of the coal industry.

Defeated yesterday in their attempt to convince the committee that Congress lacked constitutional authority to conduct such inquiries, the operators, through their attorney, former United States Senator A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, argued today that coal mining was not interstate commerce and therefore was outside of the committee's jurisdiction.

Boomerang

Senator Stanley employed some of the very arguments that were used by the United Mine Workers in opposing the injunctions issued against the union by federal judges in West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The judges in granting the writs held that inteference with coal mining was interference with interstate commerce.

At that time the operators held that mining was interstate commerce because coal figured in interstate shipments, while the United Mine Workers took the opposing view. Today the position of the contending parties was exactly reversed.

Questions and comments by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, and by Senators Hugo L. Black, of Alabama, Robert F. Wagner, of New York, and Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, as Stanley was speaking, suggested that the committee was scarcely any more sympathetic to-

Gunin Hand, Slain

"The gorillas"—underworld's own description of professional killers—cut another notch in their willing guns today.

Partly submerged in water, the bullet-riddled form of an unidentified man was found on the edge of Squaw Run creek near the Pittsburgh Field Club, near Aspinwall, early today. A county road employe, Gilbert Reister, stumbled on the body.

"Somebody took him for a ride," George Murren, chief of county detectives, was convinced.

The victim had evidently battled before submitting to four bullets that raced through his forhead, jaw, neck and left ear. A loaded revolver was in his hand and a long stiletto within a few feet of the body.

The victim was about 37. In his pocket was a $1 bill.

PLANS PEDESTRIAN PATH AT FORBES-BEECHWOOD

TITUSVILLE OIL MAN LEAVES BIG ESTATE

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 10.—(AP.)—An estimated estate of $1,050,000 was left to heirs of Joseph Seep, prominent Titusville, Pa., oil man, who died April 1. His will was probated here yesterday. The division was made in eight equal shares among children and grandchildren.

HELD IN HOUSE ENTRY, CLEARED AFTER WEEK

Arrested last week on a suspicious person charge, F. J. Timm, 22, of Renfrew street, was discharged in Frankstown Avenue Police Court yesterday. Police were unable to prove Timm was one of four men who had tried to enter a residence in Aurelia street. He had been detained a week.

SAYS KLAN DID OWN BOMBING

BULLETIN.

William McElravey, former exalted cyclops of the Coraopolis Klan, on the stand, told of participating in the demonstration which terminated in the Carnegie riots. He said when the klansmen left the field and reached the bridge someone shouted "Let's go." He said a short time later a volley was heard from the crowd that surrounded the marchers. It was this volley, the witness said, that killed Thomas R. Abbott, a klansman. The volley was returned, the witness said, and soon the klansmen disrobed and rallied for their own safety. Evans, the witness declared, was present at the Carnegie demonstration and gave orders for the march through the town.

How Klansmen bombed their own meetings to increase membership, and a klan chief's order to murder were described in the testimony today in the litigation between the klan organization and the so-called banished members before Judge W. H. S. Thomson in Federal Court.

That the Ku Klux Klan had five secret service agents in each county in Pennsylvania was the testimony of Roy F. Barclay this morning when he returned to the witness stand as the trial resumed.

Barclay, known as Agent G-2, who yesterday vividly described the punishment of a Negro at Beaver, this morning told of being present at the Niles (O.) riot in the fall of 1924, when members of the klan, he said, used machine guns. He said the riot was led by deputy sheriffs who were klansmen. Barclay said he was there in an unofficial capacity. He also told of being present at the klan riot in Lilly, Pa., when one man was killed.

Barclay said his pay as a secret service agent came from the "Palace" at Atlanta—at least, that was what he was told by David C. Stephenson.

RIOT AGITATED

The witness said that the Niles riot was agitated by crowding foreigners off the sidewalk, which resulted in a general melee.

Before Barclay resumed his testimony, Attorney J. H. Connaughton, chief counsel for the klan organization, made a motion asking dismissal of the counter-suit brought by the five "banished" members, because, he said, there has been no division in the testimony. The motion was denied.

As Barclay's cross-examination proceeded, Attorney Connoughton, for the klan questioned him concerning his conversation with George Ulrich at the time Barclay and others were assembled to kidnap Ulrich's 4-year-old daughter from the home of her mother.

Van A. Barrickman, defendant-attorney, objected to his questioning. Judge Thomson, in sustaining the objection, instructed Attorney Connoughton to "establish your point by direct questioning" when Connoughton explained that he in-

Bridgeville Plant Destroyed by Fire

UNUSED

The dismantled plant of the Standard Steel Box Company, Bridgeville, has been almost completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin, starting suddenly and baffling the most strenuous efforts of Bridgeville firemen. Above are shown views of the blaze, with hosemen pouring streams into the flames.

SPECTACULAR

The fire was the most spectacular Bridgeville has had for many years, residents say. The Standard Steel Box factory closed the plant after a prosperous period when automobiles, small and pretentions, carried steel tool boxes on their running board. The market disappeared, residents say.

SPREADS

The fire, starting suddenly, was leaping high above the roof and throwing out dense billows of smoke when firemen arrived and, for a time, spread rapidly before it was brought under control. A number of smaller adjoining units of the plant caught fire from the main building and were destroyed.

FORMER NEW YORK GOVERNOR SUCCUMBS

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—John Alden Dix, 67, former governor of New York, died last night, in Harbor Sanitarium. Death was caused by angina pectoris. Mr. Dix, Democrat, was governor from 1910 to 1912 and was prominent as a banker and manufacturer.

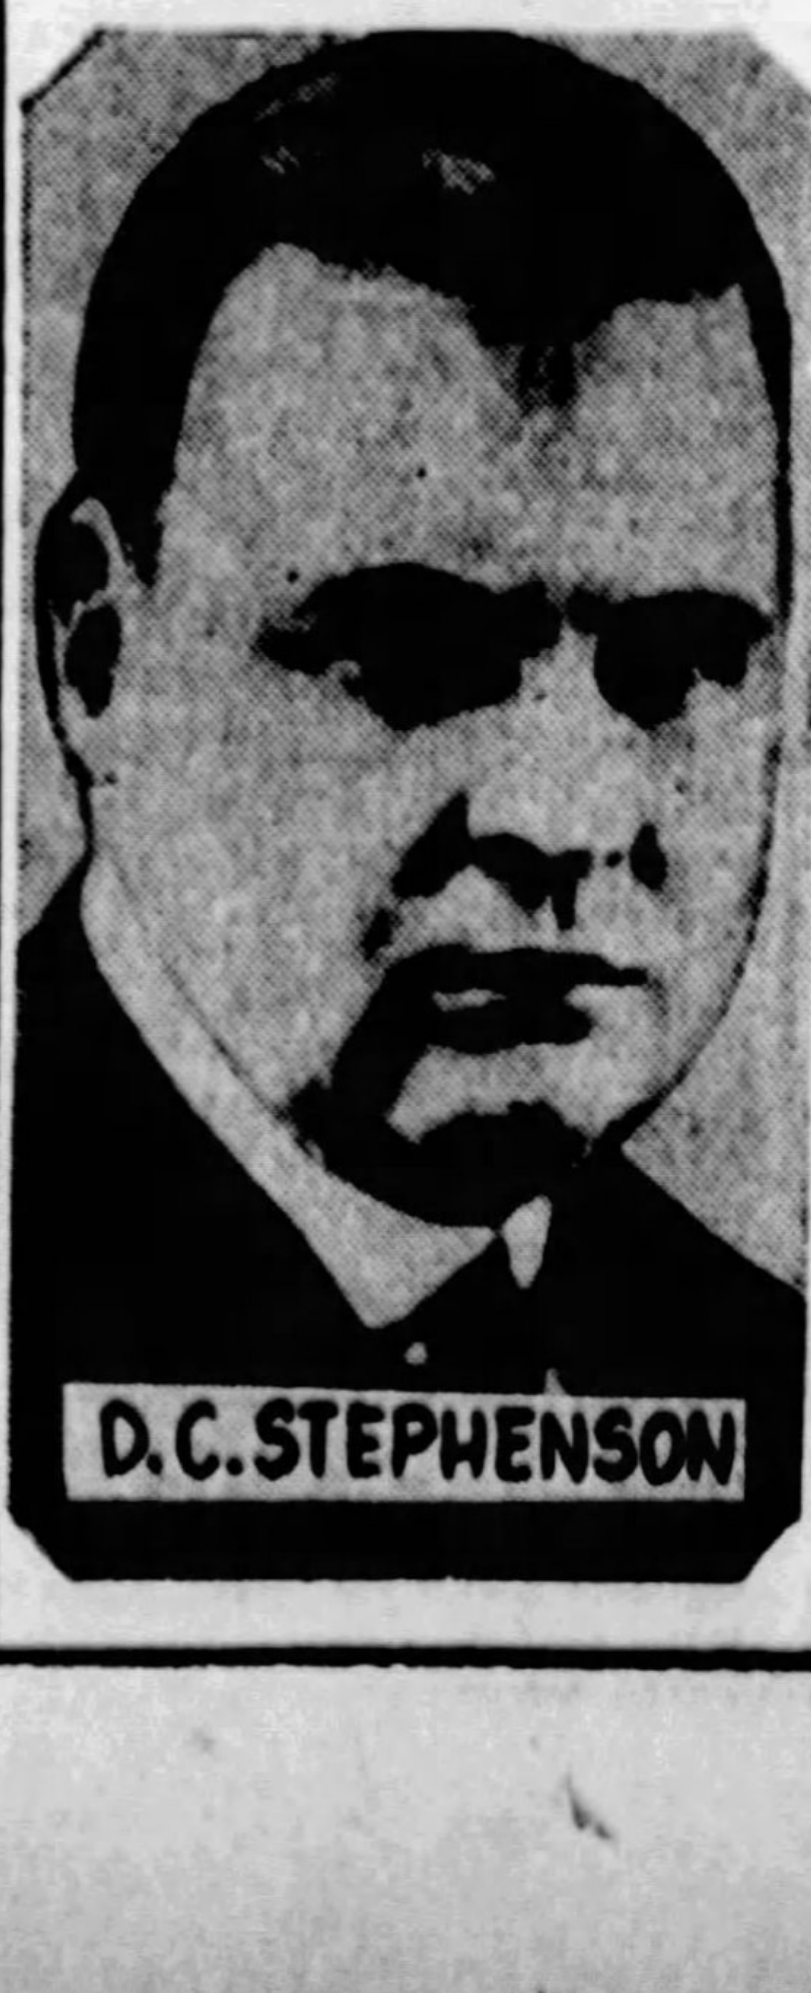
How Klan Used Women Related by Stephenson



D.C. STEPHENSON

D. C. STEPHENSON, ex-Indiana klan leader, says in his deposition now running in The Sun-Telegraph:

"I informed them (the newspapers) that there are in the United States at this time some three million members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

"I told them the klan stood for 100 per cent Americanism; that it stood for devotion to God and country; that it believed in the upholding of the law and that it stood for close relation of capital and labor."

And then—Stephenson says—

"I talked that day with a prominent man from Denver, Col., who told me the klan, under direction, was engaging in every petty political intrigue known to a ward heeler. He asked me if I knew of a number of instances where women had been used to besmirch the names and characters of good men and I told him I did. I told him about many such cases."

Today's revelations by Stephenson are carried on Pages 8 and 9.

GUNS ROAR, BALLOTS STOLEN IN RIOTS

By FRANCIS F. HEALY,
International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Bewildered Chicago marched to the polls today for a primary election, but instead found disorder and rioting rampant.

Thirty thousand special police and poll watchers, including federal agents, failed to make any large number of arrests as Chicago gangsters attempted to take charge of the voting in some precincts, backed by machine guns, black jacks, clubs, revolvers and other warfare implements.

The polls had been opened but a few minutes when the roar of machine guns sounded on the West Side. Like an echo, from another part of the city came the bark of sawed-off shotguns as hoodlums and gangsters took this method of obtaining votes for their candidates.

Election workers were beaten, one man was shot, a dozen kidnaped, ballot boxes were stolen and destroyed — bloodshed and warfare marked Chicago's wildest and bitterest primary election.

Women were beaten and hurled from polling places. Men were handed ballots, pens were jabbed into their hands, and, with the muzzle of a revolver boring into their backs, were instructed how to vote.

The entire personnel of a precinct polling place, including women clerks and judges, were summarily snatched from their tasks by armed gangsters and were kidnaped as other hoodlums rifled the ballot boxes.

GAS KILLS GIRL, MAN

Apparent mystery in the deaths of a student nurse at the West Penn Hospital and a young cigar clerk, found late yesterday in an East End rooming house, was cleared up today when it was determined that both were the victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The body of Herbert H. Nale, 21, was found sprawled on the floor of a room in a lodging house at 225 South Negley avenue, and dying in a chair beside him was Katherine Ludwig, 19. An open gas stove was burning. The girl died at 9:30 p. m. at St. Francis Hospital. An autopsy on each body determined death resulted from carbon monoxide.

Nale's parents reside in Altoona. Sunday night he drove to Pittsburgh with Miss Ludwig after they had spent Easter with the girl's parents at Ebensburg. It is believed they were stricken while sitting before the gas fire after their chilly drive.

SINCLAIR CITED IN BRIBERY

By GEORGE E. DURNO,
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—As far apart as the poles were the two stories related today to the guarded jury sitting in the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil operator.

From Owen J. Roberts, the government's special oil prosecutor, the 12 men heard of a sinister conspiracy, sealed by a $233,000 bribe, between Sinclair and former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to wrest fraudulently the Teapot Dome Naval oil reserve from the public.

From Judge Daniel Thew Wright, member of Sinclair's counsel, they heard of a legitimate business transaction, prompted by the highest patriotic motives, which saved the nation untold losses in oil lying under the public domain.

Roberts declared that he expected to prove that Sinclair gave Fall $233,000 in Liberty Bonds, unacknowledged "even by a receipt or the scratch of a pen," in exchange for a lease on the oil reserve. He said he would show that the negotiations were conducted in greatest secrecy and that other oil concerns eager to acquire the lease had been frozen out without their admitted privilege to bid on the property.

Wright led the jury through an intricate lecture on geology, claimed that had the reserve not been leased outside wells would have drained off all the oil and asserted that the negotiations with Sinclair were conducted in the open. The $233,000 transaction, the defense claims, was a legitimate purchase by Sinclair of a third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch and had no bearing on the oil deal. He said at the time the lease was made the Navy feared an invasion from the Pacific and needed fuel oil.

PIN RIOT ON KLAN

tended to establish that the kidnaping was not a "klan affair," but that the kidnapers were hired by Ulrich.

"Your contention does not appear to be borne out by the facts," Judge Thomson remarked.

"RIDERS" IDENTIFIED

"Night Riders" and the "Purple Robe," vandal organizations which flourished in the hey-day of the klan, were definitely linked with membership in the order by witnesses.

Capt. J. R. Ramsey, Dayton, O., who admitted membership in both the klan and the "Night Riders," said that the latter organization was formed "to put over programs that would be detrimental to the klan if they were caught."

"Work of the Night Riders," he said, "included burning barns, tar-and-feather parties and other ruthlessness."

Just before Ramsey took the stand, Mrs. Hattie Campey, Philadelphia, testified that the "Purple Robe" was a woman's organization within the klan.

Mrs. Campey said that she belonged to the order and that Paul Winters, a klan kleagle in Philadelphia, had told her of the "Purple Robe" and obtained her membership therein.

Attorney Barrickman also brought the declaration from Ramsey that klansmen bombed their own meetings to increase membership.

MEETING BOMBED

Ramsey recited how at a meeting of the klan in West Dayton, O., a bomb exploded at the front of the building and a moment afterward a brick was thrown through the window.

Attached to the brick was a note. It read, Ramsey testified:

"We have warned you not to meet here. Don't do it again."
(Signed)

CATHOLIC YOUTH.

Ramsey then told of an alleged order to murder.

A group of "Night Riders" went out to "administrate justice" to an "offending" citizen. The klan chief's order was "Kill that man before you come back."

"I refused to obey the order," Ramsey testified, "and instructed the 'Riders' to bring the man back alive."

Judge Thomson halted Barrickman's attempt to bring from Ramsey an alleged act of treason by the klan.

"Do you know of an order from Hiram Wesley Evans," Barrickman asked, "for a carload of klansmen and night riders to go to Mexico?"

Attorney Connoughton started to object but before he could address the court Judge Thomson ordered the stenographer to strike the question from the evidence.

"Your honor," Barrickman said in appeal, "I want to show that this carload of klansmen was sent to Mexico for the purpose of stirring up strife between the United States and Mexico."

Barrickman then had Ramsey identify Evans in a photograph of night riders. Ramsey also was in the photograph.

STORY OF BURNINGS

The story of repeated killings and floggings—death at stakes of fire—by the famed "Kangaroo Court" of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas was recited at this afternoon's session.

Clarence W. Ludlow, Pittsburgher, World War veteran and formerly of Dallas, Tex., told how white men and Negroes, sentenced by the "Kangaroo Court," had been soaked in oil and allowed to burn to death.

Seven or eight Negroes and white men were thus put to death, Ludlow said.

Asked how the burning was done, Ludlow answered:

"A man was taken out, coal oil was poured upon him and somebody struck a match to it. Brush was piled about the victim and he was burned up."

"How many members of the klan were present?"

"Three or four hundred."

"Were they in uniform?"

"Yes, in full uniform."

The witness then described the work of the "Kangaroo court," its floggings and other alleged atrocities, including the beating of victims over barrels and applying tar and feathers. Hiram Wesley Evans, he said, had served in the lodge at Dallas to which Ludlow belonged. Ludlow has lived in Pittsburgh six years.

Dr. L. D. Peebles, of Parnassus, former kleagle of the New Kensington klan and adjutant general of the klavaliers, was the next witness. He explained that the klavaliers is the klan military organization. The witness identified several panoramic photographs, one of which was said to be a picture of klan night riders, known as the "battalion of death." The photograph showed a large group of klansmen wearing black masks. Hiram Wesley Evans was picked out among the figures shown.

WOMEN ARMED

Dr. Peebles said he attended a demonstration held by the klan in Reading, Pa., in 1925, in which 2,500 klansmen and klanswomen were heavily armed.

"What were the arms?"

"Everything from a Krag rifle to a lump of lead on a chain," answered the witness.

"What is the purpose of these demonstrations of armed men?"

"Sometimes for advertising purposes, and often to repel outside interference."

"Are you familiar with the speeches of Dr. Herbert C. Shaw, grand dragon, and can you repeat some of his expressions?"

"He attacked the Catholics and Jews and assailed Gov. Smith."

On cross-examination Dr. Peebles said that as kleagle he was subject to orders from Sam D. Rich. He admitted that he was a klan organizer and solicited membership.

THUG BLINDS WOMAN WITH PEPPER

Blinded by red pepper which was thrown in her eyes by a footpad, Mrs. Alice Bancord, of 1235 Sheffield street, was robbed of her purse containing $2 while she was walking in Fayette street, near Fulton street, late last night. The thief, described as a middle-aged Negro, escaped by running toward Fulton street.

A squad of police from the Woods Run station headed by Lieut. Edward Arthurs scoured the neighborhood but found no trace of the fugitive. Mrs. Bancord was unable to see for several minutes after which she made her way home, a short distance away. A physician was summoned.

2 WOMEN FAIL IN FLIGHTS

LONDON, April 10.—(AP.)—Two women flying rivals today apparently faced defeat in attempts to make flights between London and Cape Town, South Africa.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Capt Town said that Lady Mary Bailey, en route to Cape Town, had crashed while attempting to land at Tabora, Tanganyika. Her plane was badly wrecked but she escaped injury.

A Cairo dispatch to the Daily Mail said that Lady Heath, the former Mrs. Elliott Lynn, flying rival to Lady Bailey, had been prevented from continuing her flight to London from Cape Town by British authorities.

Her plane was locked in the army shed at Heliopolis airdrome, five miles from Cairo, and she was refused permission to fly over the Mediterranean unaccompanied. No escort was available.

PLAN FURTHER NET TRIALS

SAN ANTONIO, April 10.—(INS.)—Final selection of the American Davis cup team that will play the French team in Paris later in the year cannot be made until further tryouts are held. This statement was made by William T. Tilden, II., captain of the team that defeated the Mexican representatives, before he left Mexico for the United States.

John Hennessey and Tilden are certain of places on the team, according to the statement, but a third man must be chosen from the group including George Lott of Chicago, Francis Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Wilber F. Coen, Jr., 16-year-old schoolboy of Kansas City.

CONTINUANCE ASKED IN MINE BLAST CASE

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 10.—(AP.)—A representative of Walter Haggerty, attorney for the United Mine Workers, who is ill in a local hospital, yesterday filed a motion asking for a continuance of the trial of five men charged with having attempted to dynamite a Consolidation Coal Company mine at Monongah. Attorney U. A. Knapp, appearing in Haggerty's behalf, said the union counsel would be unable to appear next Monday when the trial is scheduled to start, and also that T. C. Townsend, union labor chief in West Virginia, would still be occupied in Washington at that time.

AIR LINES READY TO START

Representing the National Airway Terminals, Inc., of New York, D. C. Ferguson, former war time aviator and now general manager of the company, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday to confer with city and county officials to arrange for a terminal here for his company. Mr. Ferguson stated that if the airport is provided here his company is ready to make Pittsburgh a terminal.

Ferguson and M. M. Merrill, manager of the Curtiss Service Company, also of New York, visited County Commissioner E. V. Babcock yesterday and talked over the matter. The commissioner was taken for a flight over the county. Mr. Babcock said that county finances were ready to take their part in equipping a field.

A new airplane passenger service will be afforded Pittsburghers within a few weeks, an extension to this city being planned for the Detroit-Cleveland line now in operation, William B. Stout, operator of the service, said last night in Cleveland. A Detroit bank will finance the extension, which will provide for tri-motored planes making daily trips here from the Ohio city. Mr. Stout is head of the Stout Metal Airplane division of the Ford Motor Company.

FISHER TO SNUB SENATORS, CAPITAL HEARS

Germans' Plane to Hop Off in 48 Hours

THE DAILY PICTORIAL THE SUN TELEGRAPH GENERAL NEWS SECTION

TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1928

PRINTS 4,000 PHOTOS IN HOUR

PITTSBURGH INVENTION

A new machine, called the ortho-photo machine, has been invented by Maurice Schutte (left) and F. W. Hochstetter (right), both of Pittsburgh, for the production of photographic prints. It can turn out as many as 4,000 prints in a single hour. One person can operate the machine (demonstrated above). It prints from a roll of sensitized paper and at the same time develops, washes and completely finishes the prints, even drying them.

WRAPPED UP

Miss Marjorie Landan is literally, not figuratively, wrapped up in Al Smith, he who seeks the Democratic presidential nomination. This strip is one that came from the rolls of the new ortho-photo machine.

FLIERS ALL SET FOR OCEAN TRIP

BALDONNEL AIRDROME, Irish Free State, April 10.—(AP.)—The German plane Bremen is expected to start for New York in 48 hours, Col. James Fitzmaurice, co-pilot, told the Associated Press correspondent this morning.

Local weather conditions this morning were none too favorable for a hop-off today. A report on conditions over the Atlantic was anxiously awaited by the fliers before they announced their final decision as to a start.

The decision to postpone the flight last week when flying conditions over the Atlantic seemed to be ideal was held to be justified when advices received from New York described a wild storm on the mid-Atlantic which delayed and damaged big liners and through which no plane could have passed safely.

SEWARD, Alaska, April 10.—(AP.)—Silence, unbroken for five days, still enveloped the Wilkins Arctic expedition today.

Radio operators at government stations in Alaska have failed to pick up a signal of any kind from Capt. George H. Wilkins, Australian explorer, and Carl B. Eielson, his Alaskan pilot, who are presumably awaiting better weather at Point Barrow for their take-off on a flight to Spitzbergen.

The last message received from Wilkins was that cloudy weather had prevented the take-off scheduled for last week. It was assumed then that Wilkins dismantled his radio transmitter and installed it in his plane, preparatory for a hop-off at the first favorable moment.

Point Barrow is cut off from all communication except a tortuous journey by dog team during the winter months. It is only during summer months that vessels can penetrate the Arctic Sea to reach Point Barrow.

If Wilkins had taken off, radio operators here feel confident he would have sent out messages from his portable wireless transmitter in his plane. He expected to keep in touch with the United States Army station at Seward throughout his flight over the Polar Sea.

YELLS SAVE HER

EDNA MAY WILBUR

Edna May Wilbur, daughter of the Secretary of the Navy, was able today to tell of a thrilling rescue by forest rangers in Yosemite Valley. Lost in the darkness on a narrow ledge, 2,000 feet high. Miss Wilbur and Ona Ring cried out until forest rangers, hearing their pleas, hauled them back to their trail with ropes.

GOVERNOR UNLIKELY TO GO AS WITNESS

HARRISBURG, April 10.—(AP.)—There were strong indications about the Capitol today that Gov. John S. Fisher would not go to Washington to testify before the Senate committee investigating the bituminous situation with special reference to the coal and iron police.

It is known here that the Governor does not consider the subject of the coal and iron police to be of comparative importance with that of the freight rate structure. In his letter to the Governor made public here yesterday, United States Senator James E. Watson said that the committee wished to interrogate Mr. Fisher on this subject and as to their methods of operation in the Pennsylvania coal fields.

It was announced positively at the Governor's office that the coal investigation situation would not be permitted to interfere with the Governor's scheduled tour of inspection of state and state-aided institutions in the northern tier which will occupy all of next week.

PLAY "INDECENT"

ANN DAVIS

Ann Davis, member of the cast of "The Captive," as she appeared in a Los Angeles court, with other members of the cast, including Kenneth Thomson, of Pittsburgh, to answer charges against the producers that the play is "indecent."

PASS "BUCK" ON DANCE PERMIT

The promised resolution recommending that El Tower apartment be granted a dinner dance permit under strict regulations, failed to appear in Council yesterday.

Its non-appearance indicated that, on second thought, Council had decided to pass the "buck" to Public Safety Director James M. Clark, who has authority to renew the permit. The latter has been delaying action awaiting the promised resolution.

After a long hearing on charges against the conduct of the hotel last week, Councilman John S. Herron made a motion that a dinner dance permit be granted under strict regulations. Councilman James F. Malone, presiding, pointed out that only four of the nine councilmen were present and that the motion could not be acted upon. He said, however, that such a resolution would be introduced, adding, "and sent to the Mayor for approval, if necessary."

WOODSFIELD WOMAN, BURNED AT STOVE, DIES

WOODSFIELD, O., April 10.—Mrs. Charles C. Cassill, 60, died yesterday of burns suffered when she reached across a gas stove to get a towel and her clothing caught fire.

ASKS $15,000 FOR FALL DOWN STORE STAIRWAY

John Connelly, an electrician, entered suit for $15,000 claiming that while shopping in a downtown store he fell down a flight of steps, which he alleges were defective. He claims he was permanently injured.

BIG OIL WELL STRUCK IN OHIOAN'S BACK YARD

CROOKSVILLE, O., April 10.—Dr. Alger Vosper won't make a garden in his back yard this year. A 500-barrel oil well was drilled in on his lot.

ALLEGED EXTORTION "FIXER" HELD OVER

Accused of being the "fixer" in the extortion ring recently broken up with the arrest of four constables, Thomas Harrison, 33, of Creighton street, McKees Rocks, was held for further investigation by Magistrate A. D. Brandon in Morals Court yesterday. According to Detective P. E. Moran, who arrested Harrison, the prisoner "talked business" with persons who had been arrested on charges of liquor law violating.

CONNELLSVILLE CHIEF SEIZES WINE AT PARTY

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 10.—Police Chief G. L. Grubb interrupted a wine party at the home of John Trafficanti, arrested five guests, seized and dumped 13 barrels of wine into a sewer.

FLAMES SWEEP CARRICK STORE

Damage estimated at $8,000 was caused by flames which swept through a two-story building at 1822 Brownsville road, Carrick, early today.

The building was used as a confectionery store owned by Frank Yarsky, and Jacob Mitchell, 65, a resident, who walked from his rooms when the flames were discovered.

Mgr. Huggins Fails To Enthuse Over Shocker

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Pitcher Urban Shocker's announcement that he is returning to the diamond is not creating visible enthusiasm from boss Huggins of the Yankees.

"We don't care whether Shocker reports or not" Huggins said yesterday. "As a matter of fact I had not counted much on him this year. We have several young pitchers available and if Shocker doesn't care to report, it will be all the same with us."

Nevertheless, Huggins appeared to be interested in the news that Shocker had been granted reinstatement by Commissioner Landis. Shocker won 18 games and lost 6 with the world champions last season.

VETS' 'MOTHER' SHELTERS THEM

International News Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 10.—Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the famous singer, has presented to the disabled American veterans of the World war her home at Grossmont, Cal., valued at a quarter of a million dollars. The home will be used as a "rest camp" for the men maimed in the war.

The gift was announced by "Mother" Schumann-Heink at a dinner given in her honor here last night by the Minneapolis chapter of the D. A. V.'s. Mayor George E. Leach, of Minneapolis, a colonel of the One Hundred and Fifty-first Field Artillery and member of the D. A. V.'s, was named as trustee of the California home by Madame Schumann-Heink.

In her response to the welcoming speech made by Col. Leach, the singer said:

"I make this gift to the disabled American veterans of the World War, because they call me "mother."

"I am their mother and it is the duty of a mother to provide her boys with a home. I give to the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, my home at Grossmont, Cal. May they go there with their families and make it their home."

In closing, "Mother" Schumann-Heink said:

"Six years ago here in Minneapolis you disabled men drank a silent toast to the two sons I lost in the war—one on the American side and the other on the German side. May you all go to California and rest in the most glorious spot that I know of."

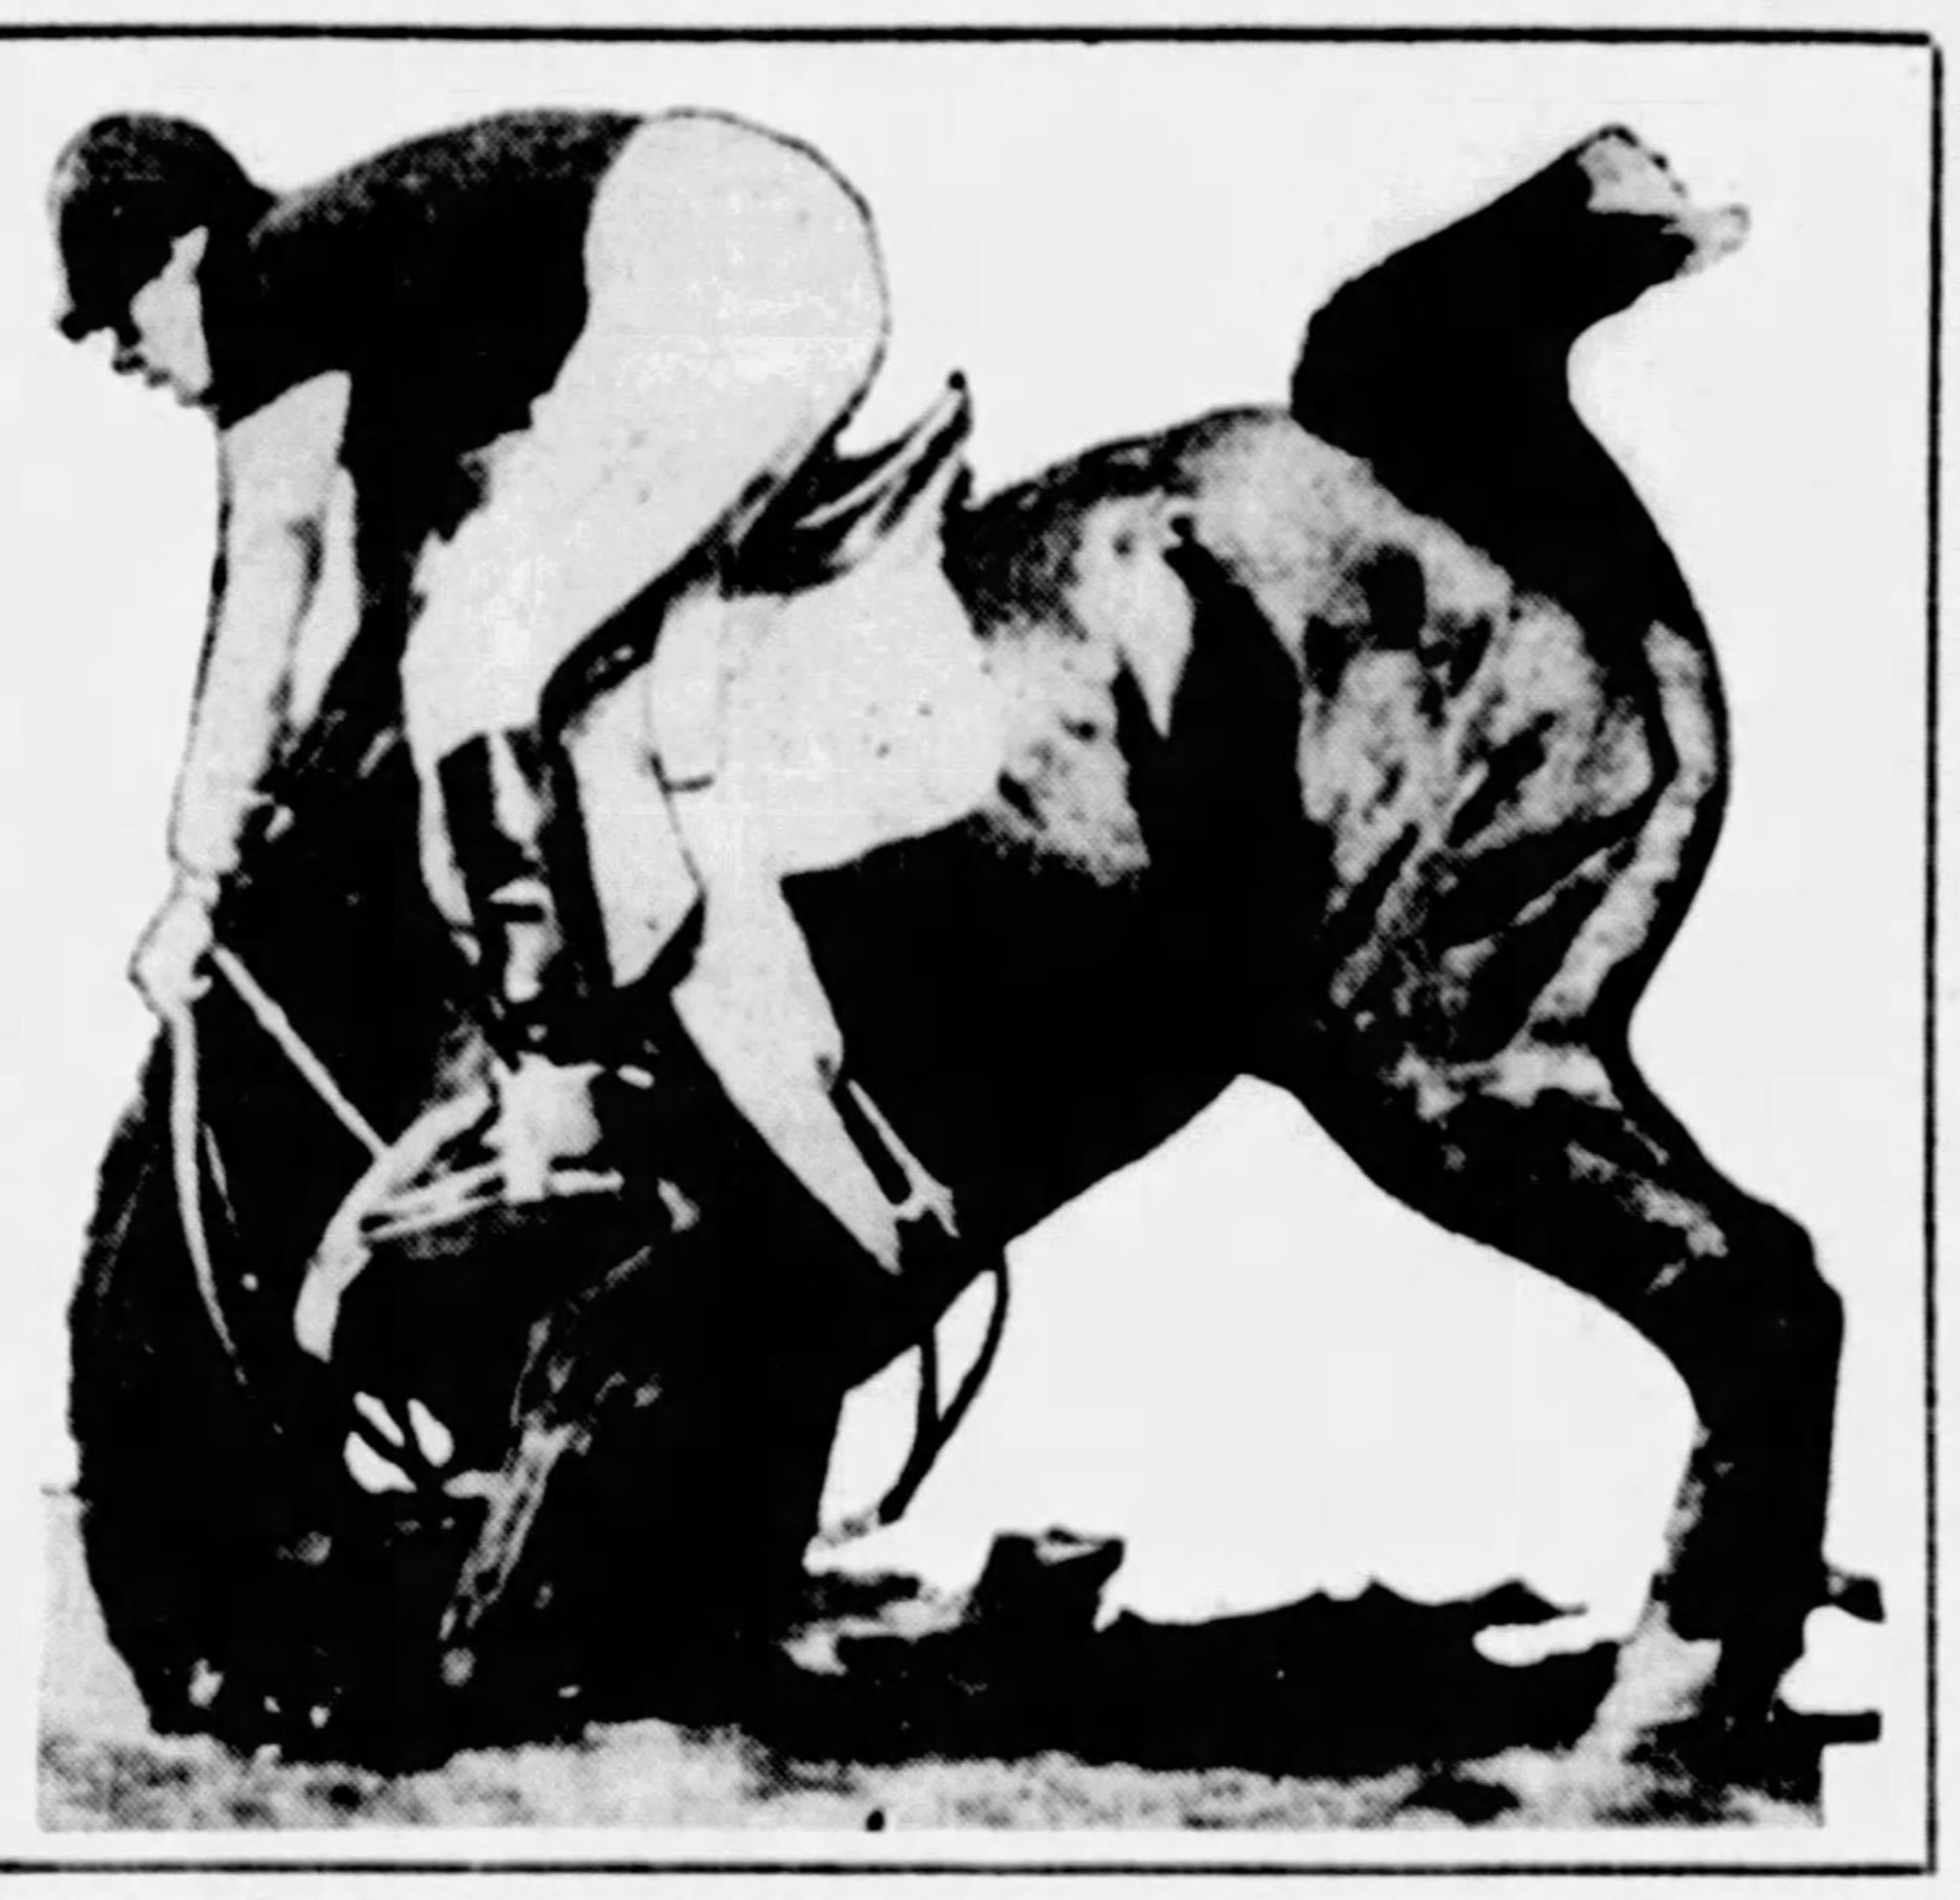
PLAN DAYLIGHT SAVING HERE

Councilman Robert Garland, father of daylight saving time, today will confer with Mayor Charles H. Kline to discuss the city's entering upon a program of daylight saving this month. Garland is a member of the National Daylight Time Association and has sponsored the movement here. No proclamation has yet been made by the Mayor, but it is expected that the change will take place April 29, the last Sunday in the month.

Local Police Like Mounties, They Get Their Man

John Krzensieski moved five times within six weeks, but finally stopped long enough in his last residence to be arrested by local motorcycle detectives as a hit-run motorist. Detectives say they traced him from Harmarville to Russellton, to Renton, to Tarentum and finally to West Natrona, where he was arrested yesterday. He is being held in Central Police Station on charges of reckless driving and assault and battery.

27 AND 28



Flagg Moor, Derbyshire, Eng., April 10.—(AP.)—The Prince of Wales fell twice while riding in the high peak hunt point-to-point race today, making his 27th and 28th fall.

Pray for Chicago Friends, Urges Col. Will

COLUMBUS, O., April 10.—Flew 220 miles from Louisville over here with the Cardinal Aircraft Pilot Gast. We got a head wind and made it in one hour and 45 minutes. Takes all day on train. Say, you luncheon clubs stop eating and singing songs 'ong enough to get you some paint and a brush and go out and put the name of your town on the biggest roofed building you got. It would be a tremendous aid to aviators. Lots of towns can't afford an airport, but any of you can do this. You Kiwanis's or Rotary's could do it some day and not miss over half of some speech. Pray for any friends in Chicago.

WEDDING BELLS -:- Tom Thumb 'Marries' Mary Tiny -:- IN WEST END

"HURRY UP"

No trouble to dress for the cameraman when you're a principal in a wedding—a Tom Thumb wedding! Members of Miss Negley's class will reveal their weeks of training at just such an affair in the West End Presbyterian Church next Friday evening. Mary Jane Youngling, maid of honor, is standing with the blushing bride, Ruth Mary Hardman, who lays a restraining hand on William Kuntz, the groom. Walter Davies, best man, backs up the groom. Betty Jane Neiser and Shirley Tanner are the train-bearers.

TO LAUGH OR CRY?

MAIDS, TOO!

Upon the silken cushion which Albert Barker holds is the golden band for the bride's finger, when she says "I do." And the pretty little maids each with a shepherd's crook, are the bridesmaids. They are Jeanne Swartz, Maragaret Reed, June Fairman and Ruth Nanze. Of course, you must understand, it's all in good fun and only a Tom Thumb wedding. The great big mans and ladies in this picture take it seriously.

BUZZ--BUZZ--BUZZ--

ISN'T IS GORGOUS?"

The in-laws will all be there. That stern-looking gentleman at the left is the bride's father, Calvin Rodgers, and besides him is the bride's grandmother, Catherine Fording. The groom's father is discussing with "Grandma," how times have changed, and the bride's mother, Betty Brown, seems to endorse his views. In the rear are the groom's mother, Helen Laughlin, and to the right, is the minister, Gerald Barker.

STOCK WINNERS SPEND THEIR PROFITS

By EARL L. SHAUB.
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, April 10—The recent stock market boom is now reacting to the benefit of all lines of retail business.

Everyone who made money on Wall Street during the last six weeks seems to be spending their profits with zest.

Automobile dealers report business better than ever at this time of the year, the biggest demand being for closed cars. Nearly all the purchasers tell the salesmen that "Wall Street is making me a present of this car."

Real estate agents are having a similar experience. Many of the winners are buying homes.

Even the night club business, which has been on the verge of collapse for almost a year, has picked up and the hostesses are now cutting in for their share of the General Motors and Radio spurts.

Many winners are going in for works of art. At the Customs Building it is reported that the importation of statuary, rare stone cuttings, etchings, paintings and other works of art has increased during the last two months.

Another evidence of the way the profits are being spent was shown in the Easter parade. More persons were dolled out in spring finery than ever before.

Retail dealers in all lines of business report trade much heavier than they expected at this time of year and most of them attribute it to the recent bull markets.

Down on Wall Street yesterday the bull drive continued, several stocks going to new high prices.

The whole list was up from $5 to $10 a share, but some of the special issues made much higher gains.

After three holidays in a row the traders appeared to be full of pep and ambition.

Business Brisk, City Artist in Demand

The city photographer, who spends a fair percentage of his time taking pictures of delegations visiting Mayor Charles H. Kline, may be transferred from the Department of Public Works to the Mayor's office. An ordinance to effect that transfer appeared yesterday in Council.

The photographer, it was said, works not only for the Public Works Department but for Public Safety, Welfare and all other departments and bureaus. The ordinance would increase his salary from $2,000 to $2,500.

WOMAN GUEST ON RIDE, HURT IN WRECK, SUES

Nellie Mitchell, 713 Camp street, McKees Rocks, went automobile riding with E. L. Buckley, of Island avenue, McKees Rocks, and while rolling along the Moon Run road, alleges Buckley swerved to the wrong side of the road and collided with another car. Her lower teeth were loosened and her face, head and knee cap hurt, she alleged in filing suit yesterday in Common Pleas Court against Buckley for $10,000 damages.

PLEA DAY COSTS SCORE BAIL

Bonds of 20 defendants in the Federal District Court were ordered forfeited yesterday by Judge R. M. Gibson, when they failed to appear in court to sign pleas to indictments and complaints charging offenses against the government, mostly violations of the prohibition law. The bonds ranged from $500 to $1,000.

It was arraignment day, a new procedure instituted by United States District Attorney John D. Meyer at the direction of the court, for entering of pleas. One hundred defendants, a number of whom are named in more than one indictment or complaint, entered pleas of "not guilty" and 45 signed pleas of "guilty."

The latter were notified to appear for sentences on April 20 and the others will go on trial at the May term of court.

OPERATORS STILL HIDE BOOKS

wards the plea made today than it was towards yesterday's contention.

Thomas C. Townsend, of Charleston, W. Va., one of the attorney's for the United Mine Workers, is to reply to Stanley. His argument was set for this afternoon but after the operators' lawyer had concluded the committee decided to adjourn until Wednesday morning. (Washington is to play Boston here this afternoon in the opening game of the American League baseball season.)

Arguments Technical

Stanley's argument was largely of a technical character, with much citing of court decisions.

Stanley contended that if coal mining is interstate commerce the right of the federal government to control it cannot be questioned, but that if it is not the federal authorities haven't jurisdiction.

"Can you give us a Supreme Court decision," asked Senator Watson, "that distinctly says that coal mining is not interstate commerce?"

"I can give you 50," answered Stanley.

"Well read one to us," suggested Senator Watson. "We are familiar with these general principles."

Stanley read a number of such decisions. One, in a case involving the United Leather Workers Union stated categorically:

"Coal mining is not interstate commerce and the power does not extend to its regulation as such."

Another decision was that the mining of coal is not interstate commerce, and the fact that the coal was afterward to be shipped in interstate commerce did not make its production interstate commerce.

A third decision characterized coal mining as "a local business."

These same decisions were used by the United Mine Workers in opposing injunctions issued against them by federal courts. But the judges were not influenced by them. Judge Schoonmaker, of the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, held that interference with coal mining was interference with interstate commerce when he granted his famous injunction against the union miners to the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation.

The operators, now arguing that coal mining is not interstate commerce, contended that it was, when they asked the federal courts for injunctions against the strikers.

Senator Watson suggested that even if coal mining were not interstate commerce, and the federal government had no right to regulate it, the Senate might have the power to investigate it because of some related legislation that might be contemplated.

"Do I understand you to suggest," asked Senator Stanley, "that you might have the right to ask these questions to satisfy legislative curiosity?"

"I don't like the way you phrase it," answered Senator Watson.

"Well, call it 'patriotic curiosity' then," retorted Stanley, who proceeded to argue that even in the situation supposed by Senator Watson the committee would still lack the power to require the operators to reveal production costs.

In his concluding remarks Stanley declared:

"If you can exercise any power, however slight, over the production of coal you immediately take entire control of the industry, and divest the state of its power, because there is no such thing as concurrent power over this industry. The power can reside in but one potentate."

If Congress, he argued, attempts to regulate the coal industry, it will have to perform all the regulatory functions now exercised by the states.

Redjacket Case

Senator Wheeler interrupted Stanley to say:

"You don't agree, do you, with the Supreme Court in the Redjacket case?"

"Of course I do," answered Stanley. "But, it has no relevancy to this."

"Oh yes it does," retorted Wheeler.

The Redjacket case was one in which 316 non-union coal operators in West Virginia secured an injunction from a federal judge to restrain the United Mine Workers from interfering with the mining of coal on the ground that the coal was destined for interstate commerce.

Senator Black said:

"I think that the Redjacket decision was wrong. I don't think the federal government should regulate an industry just because sometimes it may get into interstate commerce.

"There should be two sovereignties, that of the federal government and that of the states. But I believe that even though we do not have the power to legislate we have the power to inquire."

"If you have the power," said Stanley, "to make these coal operators say how much they are paying to produce coal, you have the power to say how much they must pay. If you can make them tell you what wages they are paying, you can tell them what wages they must pay.

"It is as much your duty," said Stanley to the committee in his peroration, "to preserve the autonomy of the states as to preserve the Union. It is as much your duty to preserve local self-government as to preserve the national government."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

Grandmother Knew

there was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musterole gives the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

A Particular Pet of Fashion—
Moire

Loveliest and most versatile of all the stiff fabrics which are so important just now. There are dozens of ways in which moire may be smartly worked into spring and summer wardrobes. Here are a few suggestions:

An ensemble suit of brown moire with seven-eighths length coat and a blouse of yellow moire.

An afternoon frock of black or blue moire—perhaps with the new full back, or the draped-to-hip silhouette.

An evening gown of off-white, black or soft-hued moire which might be a robe-de-style, or a puffy, draped-to-hip model.

An evening wrap of knee-length to be worn with the uneven hemlines so prevalent in evening gowns.

Or a Casino Coat,—straight in line, to be worn over a vaporous frock of the same color.

A slim tailored coat of black, navy, beige or gray for afternoon wear.

Moires in weights and colors for dresses and coats, $3.95 to $7.50 yd.

For the White Coat to Be Made at Home

Lovely white woolens, reasonably priced, which will tempt anyone who can sew at all to make one of the simple, straight little coats which are as smart as they are easy to make.

White coats are flattering and feminine; and they enhance immeasurably the beauty of sheer summer dresses.

At Horne's you will find a fine assortment of all-white woolens in plain or novelty weaves, and sports overplaids with white grounds. All 54 inches wide; priced from $2.95 to $8.50 yard.

White Fur Trimming

The addition of collar and cuffs of fur to the coat made at home is extremely simple, because smart fur comes in strips of just the right width, needing only to be faced and attached to the coat. For white coats we suggest:

White squirrel belly, 4 inches wide, $12.75 yard; 6 inches wide, $19.00 yard.

White Thibetine, 4 inches wide, $10.00 yard.

KLAN UNMASKED SHOWS NAME-SMIRCHING PLOT

WOMEN USED AS K. K. K. LURE

(This is the third of a series of articles on the deposition of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan leader now in an Indiana prison, which The Sun-Telegraph is printing in connection with the suit here to oust the K. K. K. from Pennsylvania. The next article will be printed tomorrow.)

(Copyright, 1928, by International News Service.)

Smirching the names of those who stood in their way was a specialty of the group of klansmen who sought to control the Ku Klux Klan after the abdication of Col. William L. Simmons.

David C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the klan of Indiana, tells today of how Charles G. Palmer, of Chicago, former grand dragon of Illinois, was trailed by klan scandal mongers, who photographed him with a lady as he alighted from a train and sought to use that photograph as a basis of charges, only to learn that the woman in the picture was Mr. Palmer's wife.

The Stephenson revelations are printed from a copy of a transcript taken in the Indiana State Penitentiary at Michigan City by Van A. Barrickman, of Pittsburgh, attorney for five members of the klan in Pennsylvania who seek to enjoin the klan from operating in this state in any way, on the ground that the organization has incited riots, misappropriated public funds and been a public nuisance.

Q.—You have previously stated that you were in accord with a certain program which you had for the states you represented and that you were likewise opposed to a program that was presided over by others in other sections. Will you state if the plaintiff organization had a national program and if it was uniform or had different ideas and conceptions of carrying on the work of the plaintiff organization?

A. There was no national policy. After Col. Simmons was retired from the organization in the manner I have previously described, the policy could best be described as a policy of expediency; that is to say in the absence of the nationally directed will there was done in the local community that thing thought best to serve their own interests. And also to assuage the anxieties of those who had attempted to oppose them. Perhaps the best illustration of this would be to call attention to a meeting held on the second day of June, 1923, in the New Willard Hotel in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of devising a national policy, or for the purpose of settling or proclaiming to the membership and the public the program of the klan.

Previous to this meeting they designated as a program committee a Mr. McCall, the deputy constable of Houston, Tex., and a Mr. Orbison, a lawyer from Indianapolis, to devise a national program and report on June 2 to a group of men referred to as the Imperial Kloncilium. Translated from mysticism to plain English that means a group of 16 men appointed to kid the membership into believing they had national officers. Pursuant to the call previously described we met in the New Willard Hotel on June 2 and the committee of the lawyer and the deputy constable assembled to make their report to that body and this is substantially what they reported: They reported that they had carefully canvassed the situation and had concluded thit it would be the national program of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—that is, the program of the committee composed of the lawyer and the deputy constable—to issue statements to the public at various time through the medium of the newspapers.

Wanted Policy

I was accompanied to that meeting by a man of national reputation who sincerely had upon his heart the welfare of the American people. He was so dumfounded at the report made that he left the meeting in disgust. Asked for permission to address the meeting, I said substantially this:

"Gentlemen, I am informed that there are in the United States at this time some 3,000,000 members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, possibly more. An audit of the books has not been made and it is impossible to tell what the membership is, but whether it is 3,000 or 3,000,000 or 30,000,000, the time has come when we must not only tell the membership, but we must tell the public of something why we are assembling together this large group of men and what the purpose of it is. Speaking for my own states there are a number of educated gentlemen who have identified themselves with the Klan, some of them ministers of the gospel with national reputation, and on every hand they are asking me, 'Stephenson, what is it all about, what is your program, what do you aim to do? What is the objective, why do you assemble this group of men together, and what do you propose to accomplish by their assembly and vote?'

"Every day these questions are being asked me and the time is come when an intelligent answer must be returned. I have stood before meetings of the citizens of my state and told them that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan stood for 100 per cent Americanism; that it stood for devotion to God and to country; that it believed in the upholding of the law; that it stood for close relation of capital and labor; and that it stood valiantly and courageously for state rights; and that it stood for the separation of the church and the state. That it also stood for everything else that is pointed on what we construe as a platform under the head of a non silvis sed anther which, translated into English, means not for self, but for others, and that is a beautiful program. But since we have told all of these men and women who have become members of the organization that we stand for these things, it strikes me that their common sense will lead them to the conclusion that there are only two ways by which this program can be accomplished. One of the means is by direct action by mob violence, the other is by going into politics and electing for public office men who will put into practice the program we preach; and since the section of the country from which I hail is not one that would disgrace itself by engaging in mob violence it seems to me that the only course left open for us is to go into politics, not as a partisan group, but as men, determined to change the principle from speech and platitudes to actual realization. And I have come here today in the hope that this official assembly will give me something that I can take back to answer intelligently the question of the half million men and women in the organization over which I have control."

Manifests Plan

This is substantially the discussion that took place, one man replying that he did not know anything of our financial program; that he was not posted on governmental affairs; that he had no understanding of the needs of the masses of the people; that he did not want to engage in an activity of that kind.

He also said that he thought the national program for the klan for the present would stand or be carried out by issuing statements at different intervals by the deputy

SOUTH SIDE WET SPOTS RAIDED

Pains said to have been taken by John C. Koscoe, of Douglas avenue, Elizabeth, to conceal whisky in an automobile he was driving, led to his arrest last evening in Strawberry way near Liberty avenue. Prohibition agents, walking nearby, became suspicious when they noticed a robe tucked tightly over two bulky objects. Investigating, they discovered two cases of whisky, they said.

In raids conducted yesterday by the agents, the following places were visited and persons arrested: Saloon at South Twelfth and Sarah streets, a gallon of moonshine, Mike Wezniak; saloon at 1818 Carson street, 69 cases of home brew, 10 gallons of moonshine; dwelling at 1315 Magic way, 50-gallon still, 16 barrels mash, 30 gallons of moonshine, Tony Carrado; dwelling at 33 Elmore street, 25 gallons of moonshine, one quart of gin, Philip Lerner; 328 O'Donovan way, McKees Rocks, four quarts of moonshine, Al Stewart and Thomas Gault; 2410 Webster avenue, confectionery, two quarts of moonshine, Sam Greenberg; 2433 Wylie avenue, saloon, two quarts moonshine, Reuben Wortman and Charles Bishop, a Negro.

constable and the lawyer. I conferred that way with a man from Denver, Col., who told me that in his state the klan, under direction, was engaging in every kind of petty political intrigue known to a ward heeler. He asked me if I knew of a number of instances where a woman had been used to besmirch the name of good men. I told him that I knew of a number of instances where they had done that, then informed him what I have just told you about efforts to involve the names of Col. Simmons and Capt. Coburn with that of a woman in some manner that would reflect upon these two gentlemen. I also told the Denver man at the time of an instance where they had imported to Atlanta, and lodged in the Cecil Hotel, the same women used to frame the Mann act violations against Col. E. Y. Clark, and that the purpose of having this same woman returned to Atlanta and engaged in a new campaign to frame Col. Coburn was to prevent him from exposing some hideous things about which I have no knowledge. I never took the trouble to learn, beyond the fact that it had to do with a term of penal servitude by one man in his early youth and had to do with his parentage of a child with the details of which I am not familiar.

Cites Frame-Ups

Q. Mr. Stephenson, do you know of any other instances wherein women were made to attack the character of innocent men?

A. Yes, sir. I know of a great many instances.

Q. Will you briefly state some of the more prominent and conspicuous ones that stand out in your personal memory?

A. Beyond the instances described as that of Mr. Clark, Mr. Coburn, Col. Simmons, Dr. Johnson, perhaps the next most conspicuous is that of a man by the name of Charles G. Palmer, a splendid fellow who lives in Chicago, Ill., and is very happily married. At one time he was the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in the state of Illinois, and in that capacity he became very popular with the membership throughout the state. They decided to "break" him, as they called it, and men were set the task of learning the personal habits of Mr. Palmer. One of them rode on a train from Cairo, Ill., to Chicago, where Mr. Palmer occupied a berth with a lady. As they alighted from the train on the following morning a man succeeded in photographing Mr. Palmer and the lady that accompanied him on the train. He thereafter took the photograph together with his own affidavit describing their actions on the train and delivered them to a federal agent in Chicago, Ill., and insisted that Mr. Palmer be indicted for violating the Mann act.

Boomerang

The affidavit states that Mr. Palmer had accompanied the woman from St. Louis to Cairo, thence to Chicago. The federal agent happened to know Mr. Palmer and knew that he was a gentleman of unimpeached integrity. Also, that he was a responsible member of the Chicago bar, and in every respect a worthy and upright citizen. He therefore was very careful in his investigation and finally showed the picture to Mr. Palmer, and Mr. Palmer said to him, "Yes, it is true that I accompanied that lady—or rather, she accompanied me—on the train on the night described in your affidavit and unless some misfortune happens in the future, she will doubtless accompany me on many other trips, because she happens to be my wife, and she will arrive at the office in a short time and I will be glad to have you accompany Mrs. Palmer and me to dinner."

And that blew up in a soap-bubble the effort to frame Mr. Palmer on that particular trip. But thereafter, they sent a stenographer from Atlanta, Ga., by the name of Nettie something, I don't know what her last name is. She is another one who has a long string of aliases after her first name and has been known in some instances as "Big Nettie." She was on the payroll and was known to be a notorious police court character. She worked for Palmer about a month—or rather, it is more accurate to say, she worked in Chicago in an effort to make some permanent connection with Mr. Palmer's office or in his social life. The nearest she ever came to succeeding with her plan was to follow Mr. Palmer to Springfield on two occasions, one of which was about October 30, or from October 30 to November 10, 1925. It was very shortly after this time that Capt. Coburn was killed in Atlanta, Ga. She cleared out of Atlanta for fear of being involved on account of her efforts to frame Capt. Coburn at the time of his murder.

Books Talk

DR. W. R. WHITNEY

Dr. W. R. Whitney, director of the General Electric Laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y., expects shortly to announce the perfection of the "talking book!" Why not, he reasons, sit in a soft light at home, saving the eyes for the day's business, and "listen" to a book. Unwinding film, telling the story, and a loud-speaker, it is understood, are involved in the machine.

CLUB'S APPEAL PART OF WAR ON CRIME

"A wave of crime that seems to mount constantly without sign of recession apparently has swept aside all the protective barriers of the home, church, state, school and social agencies in our nation," said William Edwin Hall, of New York, president of the International Federation of Boys' Clubs, last night.

Mr. Hall was principal speaker at the opening dinner for workers in the city-wide campaign for $200,000 for the Boys' Club of Pittsburgh, held last night at the Fort Pitt Hotel. The organization seeks the fund to purchase and remodel the building of the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Men's Christian Association and to provide endowment.

A. P. Brill, club president, introduced Hall, C. D. Armstrong, campaign chairman, and David I. McCahill, founder and honorary president of the Pittsburgh club and executive committeeman of the International Federation of Boys' Clubs.

SHE'S MURDER JUROR OFTEN

Life is one murder jury after another, these days, for Miss Vivian M. Dible, of Verona, secretary to the director of research for the Koppers Company at Mellon Institute. Last week Miss Dible served as juror No. 4 on the jury that acquitted Robert Stevens, West Homestead youth, of murder. Yesterday she was again drawn as juror No. 5 in the murder trial of Wade Johnson, Negro, charged with slaying Richard Smith, Negro, in a miners' brawl at Indianola.

"HELP MINERS" TRIO FINED

Three men who said they were solicitors for a miners' relief fund were fined $5 each in North Side Police Court today for soliciting from house to house without a license. The men said they were George Tolly, D. R. Porter and Bottista Buanzoni.

RACCOON TWP. WOMAN LIES HURT NEAR SNAKE

CONNELLSVILLE GIRL HOLDS CHURCH RECORD

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 10.—Fifteen years without missing a session was the Sunday school attendance record of Lily Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Marshall. She was given a medal at the Sunday services at the United Presbyterian Church school.

Skit in Hotel Lobby Costly To Actresses

Two actresses, playing in a downtown theater, and a booking agent, arrested in the Seventh Avenue Hotel lobby early today for an impromptu performance, forfeited $20 each when they failed to appear for hearing in Morals Court.

Witnesses testified the women had thrown a telephone book at the night manager and chased the clerk from his desk. The women said they were Marguerite Woods, booking agent; Jessie Lewis, 18, and [illegible] Tripp, 37.

VOTE MACHINES, SHULGOLD AIM

Candidates should be chosen according to fitness and character rather than because of their standing with political rings and groups, Jacob Shulgold, legislative candidate in the Fifth District, informed members of the Fourteenth Ward League of Women Voters at a meeting in the Morrowfield Hotel yesterday.

Shulgold urged stronger election laws, the adoption of voting machines to insure an honest count and the gradual reduction of the poll tax until it is entirely eliminated, in order to permit a woman to vote without a tax receipt which, he said, "is the bugaboo of the independent voter."

SON WINS SUIT AGAINST DAD

A son obtained a $1,000 verdict against his father in Judge A. B Reid's court.

Severio Santangelo, 67, of Pitcairn, defendant, assisted by his counsel, Frank F. Canuti and Louis Rosenberg, tottered to the witness stand and told how his son, Nick Santangelo, 37, had come home intoxicated, with a razor sticking out of his pocket. The father feared him and caused his arrest on a charge of entering a building.

The son was indicted, tried and acquitted. He brought suit for $50,000 damages for false arrest. The jury yesterday brought in a verdict for $1,000.

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Sharp Stock Company in Pitt Opens With "Take My Advice" Which Was Pleasant to Take

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

BEFORE an audience that overflowed into the boxes, George Sharp's stock company opened its summer season at the Pitt Theater last night—and if applause and laughter count for anything, the prospects for the venture are most promising.

GEORGE SEIBEL

The play was well chosen—Elliott Lester's very amusing comedy, "Take My Advice;" and the company was well cast, almost every one fitting the role assigned as if it had been written for him. The old favorites of last season were there—Anne Forrest and Mabel Kroman, Gus Forbes and Edwin Vail; the new people made a very favorable impression—Ralph Morgan and Gordon Anderson, Louise Gerard Huntington and Matthew Smith, Jr. And the one stage setting used, a living-room in a suburban home, was so solidly built and well lighted that the production as a whole had all the aspect and atmosphere of something just brought from a metropolitan run.

Mr. Morgan made a splendid impression in the part of Bradley Clement, which he created when the play was originally put on at the Belmont Theater in New York. He has intelligence, quiet humor, sincerity, and a gracious manner, and while the play makes no rigorous demands he shows a reserve equipment of romantic and emotional force that augurs well for his work in heavier roles. Gordon Anderson, the juvenile, seems to have stepped right out of Booth Tarkington, and Matthew Smith, a Pittsburgh boy, proved his ability to play high comedy with finesse. Louise Gerard Huntington showed herself a character woman of marked poise and a real sense of humor.

As for Anne Forrest and Mabel Kroman, it is hardly necessary to say more than that they were there—they have personality and skill enough to meet almost any exigency, and this play it not exacting. It is airy and bright—a take-off on fake dramatic schools and fake oil stock salesmen, as well as on the easy marks that fall victim to such fakers. Gus Forbes as the easy mark who knows his own easiness and Edwin Vail as the glib high power promoter, again showed their well-known gifts in comedy.

"Take My Advice" is built to amuse and fulfills its purpose. It has witty lines and intriguing complications, with a somewhat wild denouement—but it is just the play to start the stock season with—as the laughter and applause last night showed. The audience was hugely delighted, and after the performance made the happy players tell their happiness in happy little speeches. First to last it was a happy evening for everyone.

HEIFETZ TO APPEAR IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Heifetz is to give a concert in Carnegie Music Hall tonight. His program includes the Vitali "Chaconne," Symphonie Espagnole, by Lalo; "Estrellita," by Ponce-Heifetz; Ronda, by Schubert; La Fille aux cheveux de Lin, by Debussy; Perpetuum Mobile, by Novacek; Nocturne in E flat by Chopin; and Introduction and Tarantelle by Sarasate.

RALPH MORGAN

Mr. Morgan made his debut as leading man of the George Sharp Players last night, when the company opened its second summer season in the Pitt in "Take My Advice."

M'LAGLEN IS STAR ON OLYMPIC SCREEN

Victor McLaglen is seen in the role of a roving sailor in "A Girl in Every Port," Olympic photoplay. And there are a good many ports involved so the feminine cast is quite a large one and includes Louise Brooks, Maria Casajuana, Natalie Joyce, Gretel Yoltz and Leila Hymans. The Vitaphone program includes a male sextet in harmony numbers, "The Author," a comedy playlet, and Gene Morgan's Orchestra. News pictures are shown.

"The Love Call" Affords Large Audience in Mosque Colorful Picture of West

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"THE LOVE CALL," presented last night in a manner that was immensely pleasing to a very large audience in Syria Mosque, under the auspices of Syria Shrine Automobile Club, proved to be a native American operetta of the comedy-drama type worthy of ranging alongside of the best which are flavored with European spice. In it the basic elements of the old Augustus Thomas melodrama, "Arizona," have been transformed to the more romantic medium of lyrics and music and a very good piece of workmanship is visible in the transformation. The book, by Edward Locke, former Pittsburgher, and Harry B. Smith has been fitted with lyrics by the latter, set to tuneful music by Sigmund Romberg.

There is plenty of color, and the picture is a Frederic Remington conventionalized to stage standards.

It is well acted in all essential degree of operetta requirements and the dramatic factors have been admirably distributed to make a balance between comedy and the drama, which strikes a heavy note in several tense situations. Berna Deana, a charming actress with a pleasing voice, had the leading feminine role, that of a rancher's daughter in love with a young Army lieutenant. The latter, very capably played by John Barker, is placed in a false light when he prevents the betrayal of his sweetheart's sister, wife of an Army colonel, by a captain, the latter turning the tables in such a manner that the young lieutenant is made to appear a thief because he keeps silent to shield his colonel's wife from scandal. The captain is made a most perfidious villain through good work of John Rutherford.

The plot also involves an Indian uprising and in working it out to a satisfactory conclusion many characters are employed, including a friendly Indian, a Mexican ranch hand in love with an Army post girl, the latter's father, an Army sergeant, and others.

The comedy was well taken care of by Violet Carlson, as a school teacher with no pupils, Barry Lupino, as a silly Englishman of the type no ranch was supposed to be without, and Charles Lawrence, as a stuttering Army doctor, whose heart was in the right place. They did a singing and dancing trio, "You Appeal to Me," that was funny to the limit and kept the audience in an uproar, "stopping the show" effectively. "Eyes That Love," by Miss Deane and Mr. Barker, and "I Live, I Die for You," by Joseph Lertora, in the character of the Mexican, were among the most pleasing song numbers. The show has a big male chorus, cowboys in one act and soldiers in another, and it roused the audience with "The Ranger's Song," the solo part of which was sung by Mr. Barker.

Others who played their parts excellently included William P. Carleton, as the colonel; W. L. Thorne, as a rancher; Roberta Beatty, possessing a good singing voice, as the latter's daughter, wife of the colonel; Alice Fisher, as the rancher's wife; Richard Lee, as the sergeant, and William Balfour, as the friendly Indian chief.

Beginning tonight, "The Love Call" will be played in the Alvin for the remainder of the week.

The Adoria Beauty Salon Will Present

THE NEW COIFFURE

Demonstrated Upon Living Models by Mme. Auralea, of New York, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

At 3 P. M.

Because the mode's gone feminine, Madame and Mademoiselle must complete the perfection of their ensemble by the addition of distracting little curls, side pieces, and knots of additional hair—retaining the convenience of bobbed hair, yet conforming to the fashion of the moment. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Adoria Beauty Salon will demonstrate THE FEMININE COIFFURE, with its modern use of additional hair, upon living models.

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

'WINGS' THRILLS IN NIXON

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH.

The movies have written another war epic—this time of the skies. It is "Wings," the Paramount photoplay which opened a limited engagement in the Nixon last night. The premier performance was in a gala atmosphere. In the capacity audience were a number of Pittsburgh aviators, wearing the uniforms they glorified in the World War.

The photoplay tells the story of two youths lured into the maelstrom of zooming airplanes and whining bullets. They go to the war, from the same home town, as enemies—rivals for the love of the same girl. The one, a carefree, dreamy sort of boy, played by Charles Rogers. The other a fine youth of aristocratic family, essayed by Richard Arlen. And there is another girl, Clara Bow, who's in love with Rogers, but to him she is only the girl-next-door.

Then comes the farewells and the boys' experience at the training camp. In the first days of their training they bury their enmity for each other. They become inseparable comrades. And such they remain—that is, until death intervenes, when, months later, high over the battle area, one, mistaking his comrade for an enemy, shoots him down. This episode and the one that follows, the last farewell between the two youths, grip the emotions.

Thrills? Of course, there are thrills. The picture abounds in them. Suddenly, as you follow with interest the unfolding of the story, curtains are flung back and the screen becomes of magnificent dimension. Here you get the first air battle—"a dog fight," 12,000 feet in the clouds. The orchestra accompaniment stops, or else is lost to the hearing. In its place sounds the zooming motors, the whirl of propellers and the whine of bullets as 39 planes dive and tear through the clouds. One is aflame. Another careens crazily through space with stilled fingers at the control. In this and other of the air battle sequences the human element is lost and the planes become kind of living things. And it's not imagination, this drone of motor and hum of bullets—but stage effects that are effective.

Human interest? Lots of it. And realism? Yes, there is realism. To what extent those uniformed men in the audience can tell you.

The "dog fight" is only the beginning of combats in the clouds. The climax is reached in the St. Mihiel offensive episodes. As squadrons of airplanes swirl and spit fire high in the air, there is unfolded a panorama of ground fighting—"a five-mile square, pock-marked blemish of war."

But all isn't barking guns, death and blood. The thread of romance, though totally lost at times, remains throughout, for "the girl next door" follows to the battle front as an ambulance driver. There is comedy, too, and gay moments. Leave in Paris and that sort of thing.

The cast is a fine one. The portrayals of Arlen and Rogers are real achievements. Miss Bow is charming and capable. And Gary Cooper, though in a subordinate role as Cadet White, is responsible for one of the picture's most impressive bits. El Brendel, as Patrick O'Brien, the fellow who aspired to be an aviator, but who remained a "ground flier," injects numerous comedy episodes. Other players include Jobyna Ralston, Arlette Marchal, Henry Walthall and Julia Swayne Gordon. The photoplay was directed by William A. Wellman.

We have had "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory." Now we have "Wings." All of them glorious epics of war and movie achievement.

Heroine

BERNA DEANE

Miss Deane is the leading woman in "The Love Call," the opening performance of which was in Syria Mosque. It goes to the Alvin tonight for the remainder of the week.

HAINES FILM PLEASES: JACKSON FUNNY, PENN

William Haines, on the screen, and Joe Jackson, on the stage, cause plenty of merriment in the Penn. Haines is the star of "The Smart Set" and Jackson is the luminary of "Sun Shades." In "The Smart Set" polo comes in for an exposition and, fans, it just does thrill—something new to give the movies an exciting punch. Haines, as per recent pattern, is a smart aleck again—the spoiled youngster of a rich dad, and a whale of a polo player if he would only behave himself. He learns to do that, after disgrace, and saves the day for his polo team. Laughs and thrills in this. Alice Day is the girl. Jack Holt and Hobart Bosworth are prominent. Joe Jackson, featured on the stage, speaks no words, but his pantomime is eloquent with fun. Max and his gang run second. Terriers are the gang and they imitate Max in acrobatics. The Wainwright Sisters harmonize pleasingly and the 12 Foster girls dance. Griffin and Rosette sing and dance. Orchestral music and news pictures complete a good bill.

ACADEMY BURLESQUE IS "MERRY WHIRL"

In "Merry Whirl," this week's burlesque in the Academy, the funsters are headed by Art Gardner, an eccentric comic, whose antics are especially featured in a burlesque on a modern hotel. Dolly Lewis, soubret, has prominent roles and sings. Esther Lang and George Monfred play various roles and have a singing specialty. Billy Cavanaugh contributed comedy bits. Several dramatic successes of 1927 are burlesqued. Another fine featured player is Jack La Mont, tenor. Several special acts are presented in addition to the regular show.

LLOYD PUTS SPEED AND LAUGHS IN GRAND FILM

Harold Lloyd manages to get laughs in his new starring film, "Speedy," in the Grand. He "jerks" sodas, runs a taxicab, takes his girl to Coney Island, rounds up a group of G. A. R. veterans to help him combat a gang of thugs and ends up by doing a modern Ben Hur across New York in a dilapidated horse car. Harold has a lot of new "gags" in the picture, an attractive leading woman, Ann Christy, and sport interest in the person of Babe Ruth. Short screen entertainment is on the bill.

LYTELL SCORES DAVIS HIT

Fifteen minutes of the finest and sincerest emotional acting in the vaudeville bill of the Davis yesterday demonstrated that Bert Lytell is not merely a motion picture star—he is a real actor. In a little play called "The Valiant," he enacts the role of a condemned murderer who is hiding his identity. His sister comes to see him just before the execution. The scene between them is of the most tense and gripping quality—and was played without a false note, Anne Teeman as the sister being just as fine and sincere as Mr. Lytell himself. The play, too, by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middleman, has literary and dramatic appeal. More of this sort of thing would put vaudeville back on the map. But the bill this week is really excellent in nearly every particular. Harry Lang and Bernice Haley are as funny as they can be—they extract so many laughs out of Who, What, Him and He that they'd blow the roof off the house with a dictionary. Then there is a pair of clowns, Fortunello and Cirillino, whose comical agility keeps the audience in uproar until the big one finally knocks the little one into a sack and marches off with him. The Tillis and La Lue Company, a couple of dancers and four musicians, have such clever character dances and such enticing music that it's a pity they can't think of a better label than "Dance-o-Logue" for their act. Billy and Elsa Newell present very amusing comedy and songs, while the Frolic Four dance well and sing with vim. On the screen is a melodrama, "Woman Wise," in which an American consul in Persia pops off most of the natives when a lovesick pasha tries to abduct the consul's best girl. William Russell and June Collyer play the leading roles.

CLARA BOW'S HAIR FEATURED IN STANLEY

Clara Bow's red hair is shown in all its brilliance of natural color in "Red Hair," feature photoplay in the Stanley. The opening scene of the film introduces the famed tresses as they are. Clara is a mighty pretty girl and her prettiness is the appealing thing about "Red Hair," which has the little star as a gold-digging manicure. Her chief victims are uncle and guardian of the young fellow she falls in love with and this naturally means complications. It is not too funny, but the charm of the star compensates for other shortcomings. Lane Chandler is the leading man—does well, too. Lawrence Grant, Claude King and William Austin are well cast as the elder generation. On the stage, Charles Elby, eccentric dancer, very funny, takes top honors in "Sky Blues," which is pleasing throughout. Others who do well in it are Frolic Four, dancers; Four Masters, vocal quartet; Rose and Betty Washington, singing violinists, and the Alexis Kosloff Ballet, with Luna Nestor, capable stepper, as the principal dancer. Orchestral music and news pictures round out a program of merit.

CORBETT HEADS ALDINE ACTS

James J. Corbett, former heavyweight world champion, featured the vaudeville show that opened yesterday in the Aldine. He trotted out the little and funny comedian, Bobby Barry, and the two of them were responsible for about 15 minutes of good entertainment. Bobby admitted he didn't know how much Corbett got when he fought John L. Sullivan. "But I know what you got when you fought Bob Fitzsimmons," he said. George Fredericks and Company offered a comedy sketch, dealing with a fellow and his girl, who elope. The setting was the observation platform of the Broadway Limited and a novel and pleasing scenic effect resulted. Konosan, feminine singer from Cherry Blossom land, sang in Japanese and in English. Violet, Ray and Norman presented novel and difficult athletic feats. Elsie and Paulson whirled through a skating act. The photoplay was "Baby Mine," a comedy, antics of Karl Dane and George K. Arthur being responsible for the laughs.

$5,000 ASKED TO BALK SLIDES ON BOULEVARD

An appropriation of $5,000 for clearing the rock and trimming the surface of the hill above Bigelow boulevard between Kirkpatrick and Elm streets was asked yesterday by Public Works Director Edward G. Lang, who reported that one bad slide already had occurred and that others threatened.

DANCE, COMEDY IN HARRIS

Roxy La Rocca, with his harp and comedy antics, helps put a capital letter to "amusement" on the Harris stage this week. Then there's "Tango Shoes," an act that offers novelty, surprises and fun. It is presented by six performers. Marie and Ann Clark offer a comedy skit, "The Immigrant," in which they are responsible for worthwhile character work. The Agemos, two young and athletic men, do ladder and balancing work. Their act is brief and interesting. Manning and Horne display dancing talent. The photoplay is "Alex the Great," featuring "Skeets" Gallagher, who has been prominent in vaudeville and on the musical comedy stage. In the picture he is seen as a country boy who goes to New York because he thinks the big city needs a man like him. F. E. Dilks presents an entertaining organlogue, "Tin Pan Parade." News pictures and a cartoon comedy are on the bill.

COMEDY IS FEATURED IN SHERIDAN PROGRAM

Comedy, with songs intermixed, presented under the title "A Thousand Miles from Nowhere," gives George Niblo and Helen Spencer the featured position in the Sheridan Square vaudeville bill for the first half of the week. The skit pokes fun at the idea that the ocean is the greatest of the great open spaces. There's safety in numbers is the conclusion to be formed from a view of "Woman Wise," the screen feature, in which William Russell and June Collyer play the leads. Ray Wynne's "Cycle of Color" is a blend of harmony and hues. Ben Smith's monologue makes fun of various things. Madge Maitland gives a character study in "That Certain Party" and the Jimmy Ronney Trio appears in a novelty. An organlogue and other screen attractions complete the bill.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

April Rivals Popularity of June as Many Brides-to-Be Select Dates for Their Weddings

APRIL, if it is warm—as it should be but usually is not—is an ideal month for weddings. At least, that seems to be the opinion of quite a few of our brides-to-be, since the remainder of this month is dotted with several interesting wedding dates. June, of course, holds the palm as a time for weddings, but haven't you found, as I have, that both April and October run a close second? Just now, too, these weddings give such a good opportunity to throw off the shackles of Lent and enjoy "partying" again.

Today, for instance, there is a wedding down in Virginia that is uniting a local man and a Warrenton girl. It is, of course, the marriage of Margaret Keith and James Christy Hamilton and is scheduled for 4 o'clock in St. James' Church in Warrenton, with a large reception at the Warrenton Country Club to follow. There have been lots of parties at Warrenton within the past few weeks for Margaret, naturally, and yesterday afternoon a Pittsburgh couple, the H. R. Blickles, gave a tea for her and her bridal party.

I understand that one of our local girls, Eleanor McCargo, is going to be one of the bridesmaids Thursday at the wedding of Magda Merck, youngest daughter of Mrs. George Merck, of Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., and Huntington D. Sheldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Sheldon, of New York and London. The ceremony is to be performed in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church, and later there is to be a reception at the Plaza. Eleanor is a daughter of the Grant McCargos, of Woodland road, and, you remember, is engaged to Leighton Hale Stevens, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. McCargo, by the way, have returned to the city, and they have as their house guest Mrs. Charles Gibbs Carter.

Quite a few Pittsburghers are in New York over Easter, and among them are the James Francis Burkes. They have been stopping at the Ritz Carlton there. Yesterday morning their daughter, Mrs. Donald Scott Rodgers, landed in New York from the Leviathan after spending a short time in England. Mrs. Rodgers went abroad primarily to attend the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree and later she motored through England.

Also in Gotham are Judge and Mrs. James B. Drew, who are at the St. Regis, and the Thruston Wrights. The latter are stopping at the Berkshire.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crawford will be back at their Woodland road home today, I understand. They have been in Palm Beach all winter.

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who has been taking a short cruise to Bermuda with his son, Paul Mellon, a Yale student, is expected to return to New York the latter part of the week, and, I hear, is planning to come to Pittsburgh from Gotham for a short visit. Five of his son's classmates, including G. W. Dean, of St. Paul; Stanley Brady, of Rochester; A. Douglas, J. Douglas and Seeley Forbes, of New York, accompanied the Mellons on the cruise.

Alumnae of the National Park Seminary are going to hold their monthly meeting on Friday in the home of Mrs. J. S. Jenks in Morewood Heights. The hostesses are to be Mrs. Evan Jones, Mrs. H. C. Armstrong and Martha Arnold.

The George A. Harders, of New York, are arriving in New York this afternoon, I hear, after spending their honeymoon abroad. You remember, of course, that Mrs. Harder was Elizabeth Peebles Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Rhodes, of Sewickley, before her wedding in February in New York.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Merle W. Coulter, of Wilkins avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Luella Coulter, to E. Burdette Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robinson, of Duquesne.

The engagement of Miss Elnora Anna Weise to Paul Boone Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rankin, of Bridgeville, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund R. Weise, of Mayview road, Bridgeville. No date has been set for the wedding.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Frost, of the East End, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Bernice Frost, to J. Howard Stolzenbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stolzenbach, of Dormont. No wedding date has been set.

The marriage of Miss Minerva Beatrice Radebaugh, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Radebaugh, of Duquesne Heights, and Clair P. Schrecongost, of the North Side, was solemnized Saturday night in the Radebaugh home by the Rev. Herbert Gearhart. Only the families were present. Mr. and Mrs. Schrecongost will live in the East End.

* * *

Mrs. W. J. Barton, of Stratford avenue, and her daughter, Mrs. Robert G. Young, of Ferree street, entertained with a bridge luncheon yesterday in the University Club in honor of Miss Katherine Graham, daughter of Mrs. Walter Graham, of Clarion, whose engagement to Edward C. Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Byrnes, of Stratford avenue, will terminate in a June wedding. There were 60 guests and the appointments were in yellow and white.

PROGRAM OF SWISSVALE WOMEN FEATURES SPRING

The Woman's Club of Swissvale brought spring to its own members and to those of the Braddock, Edgewood and Regent Square clubs in the seasonable program presented yesterday afternoon. After the opening prayer by Mrs. R. B. Connor the guests were welcomed by Mrs. T. C. Rankin, Swissvale president, who spoke of the club ties that bind all women with their mutual interests, especially women of neighboring communities, such as were gathered together yesterday.

Mrs. Clyde E. Hague, who received her club training with the Braddock organization, presented the program, this including Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" as a piano solo by Mrs. John A. Esler, songs by Mrs. Jane Stratton Mitchell, who accompanied herself; two Chopin numbers for the piano by Dixon McCloy and a very interesting illustrated talk on birds by Graham Netting, representing the Pennsylvania Game Commission. In his talk Mr. Netting took his hearers on a day's journey through the Pennsylvania woods, showing pictures of the many kinds of birds to be seen there and giving interesting and diverting observations on their habits. No one need fear that hunters are killing off the wild life of the state, Mr. Netting remarked, for Pennsylvania has the finest wild life and hunting of any of the eastern states and the treasury is most generously profited by the hunters' fees. While showing pictures of the bald eagle, Mr. Netting observed that it is not a fit representative of American ideals and should not be "the American bird." The less beautiful golden eagle is the king among birds, the speaker stated.

Hostesses for the hour were Mrs. Neal Craig, Mrs. J. A. Bailey, Mrs. J. C. Forman and Mrs. J. R. Callihan. Mrs. Louis C. Edgar announced the club's outing for June 6 at the Edgewood Country Club.

Dr. Meta Glass, president of Sweet Briar College, who is to be the principal speaker tonight at a dinner of the Pittsburgh Sweet Briar Alumnae in the University Club, received her master's degree from Randolph-Macon Woman's College and her Ph. D. from Columbia, where she was assistant professor of Latin and Greek at one time. Dr. Glass has been president of Sweet Briar since 1925. She was a Y. W. C. A. secretary in France and was awarded the Reconnaissance Française in 1920.

ADDITIONAL CLUB NEWS

Mrs. Sara King, social chairman of the East Liberty Woman's Club, arranged the tea given in honor of new members and guests at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. Brief talks were made by Mrs. R. W. Johnston, state chairman of international relations; Mrs. J. G. Chalfant, district club institute chairman, and Mrs. Flora B. Bowden, district club extension chairman. Mrs. Robert F. Metcalf, president of Pittsburgh Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and Mrs. Harry G. Eakins, a past president of the Woman's Club of Pittsburgh, were among those who brought greetings. Mrs. William Staple, chairman of the membership committee, with the president and other officers and 21 new members, formed the receiving line, Mrs. Harry Ackerman, acting for Mrs. Vida McCullough McClure, chairman of music, presented Mrs. Grace Dove, who sang, accompanied by Charles Stitt. Mrs. Francis Stratton and Mrs. A. F. Earnest presided at the tea table, where tall pink tapers cornered a centerpiece of spring blossoms.

A speaker new to the members, Dr. Frank Bohn, lecturer, traveler and journalist, addressed the Twentieth Century Club yesterday morning on current events. He alluded to conditions in Chicago, saying they were due to the press of the city; that the press and the movies educate the masses everywhere. Mussolini's altercation with the Pope was also spoken of, Mr. Bohn saying peace between church and state cannot be permanent because the church has political influence. Government is coming to be more and more a political matter to be considered by technical experts, the speaker stated in his discussion of what is going on in Washington and of the presidential election. Whether or not a candidate favors farm relief is the all-important question, the speaker declared.

Mrs. J. H. Mulvey was elected president of the Monday Club of Carnegie at its meeting held yesterday in the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. R. M. Wright and Mrs. H. S. Kane are the new vice presidents, Mrs. Arba Williamson was chosen recording secretary; Mrs. C. E. Gullette, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Jacob Bradwell, treasurer. Mrs. Florence Tweed was hostess for the meeting, and the literary program was given by Mrs. W. H. Latimer, who spoke on "Amusements and Sports in Scandinavia"; Mrs. J. E. Haudenshield, whose subject was "Modes of Travel," while Mrs. William Francis Brown, of the Edgewood Woman's Club, reviewed Rolvaag's "Giants in the Earth." Soprano solos by Mrs. W. W. Booth, accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Holt, comprised the musical feature for the day.

There are two kinds of gardeners, dirt and book, said Mrs. Harper K. Beegle, of the Richland Unit, Farm and Garden Association, in a talk before the Woman's Club of Mt. Lebanon in the Beach home yesterday. The dirt gardener is the practical one and the book gardener the scientific, she went on. Mrs. Raymond Wright contributed two groups of songs, accompanied by Miss Helen Thomas, and for the tea hour Mrs. Paul Bolger and Mrs. W. R. Williamson poured.

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt

"'I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded,' was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an Old Gold. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris . . . they are surprisingly free from any trace of throat irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

Gloria M. Vanderbilt

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke . . . To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette . . . Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test . . . After smoking the four cigarettes, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to designate by number her choice . . . She immediately replied: "Number 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.

Scarlet Fever—Act Quickly When It Is Suspected

THERE are certain diseases which we consider to be associated only with childhood. As a matter of fact, scarlet fever is a disease which grown people suffer from as well as little folks.

This disease differs in its severity. It may be that dreadful form sometimes referred to as "malignant scarlet fever." On the other hand it may be so mild as to have its identity almost overlooked.

DR COPELAND

The contagiousness of the disease does not depend upon the severity of the attack. The person with a mild form gives it to another who may suffer so severely as actually to die.

Almost all the infectious or contagious diseases begin in the same way. Vomiting, and in a child, possibly a convulsion, may be the first evidence of trouble. Almost immediately there is elevation of the temperature.

In scarlet fever, in addition to these symptoms, we find the patient complaining of a sore throat. A few hours after this a rash appears on the chest and neck. In two or three days the rash spreads all over the body, beginning above and gradually extending downward.

You will observe that the rash of scarlet fever is quite different from that of measles. In the latter disease the eruption appears on the cheeks first.

A characteristic symptom of scarlet fever is the peculiar appearance of the tongue. I can well recall the doctor explaining to my mother, when I was a small boy, that the "strawberry tongue" I had was a sure evidence of scarlet fever.

The tongue is coated with a white fur. There project from this, here and there, extremely red points. It does make an appearance very much like the strawberry.

It is not uncommon to have the inflammation of the nose and throat extend up through the tubes to the ears. A running ear is one of the common complications of scarlet fever. The young child cries with the pain of the earache. He rolls his head on the pillow and throws his hand up to his ear.

The development of the disease after exposure is not so fixed in its period as some of the other contagious diseases. While a week or 10 days may be the usual period it may come on as quickly as three or four days after exposure. There are a good many doctors who claim that even 18 or 20 days after exposure the disease may develop.

The first thing to do if you suspect a member of the family has scarlet fever is to send for a doctor. Do not delay a moment.

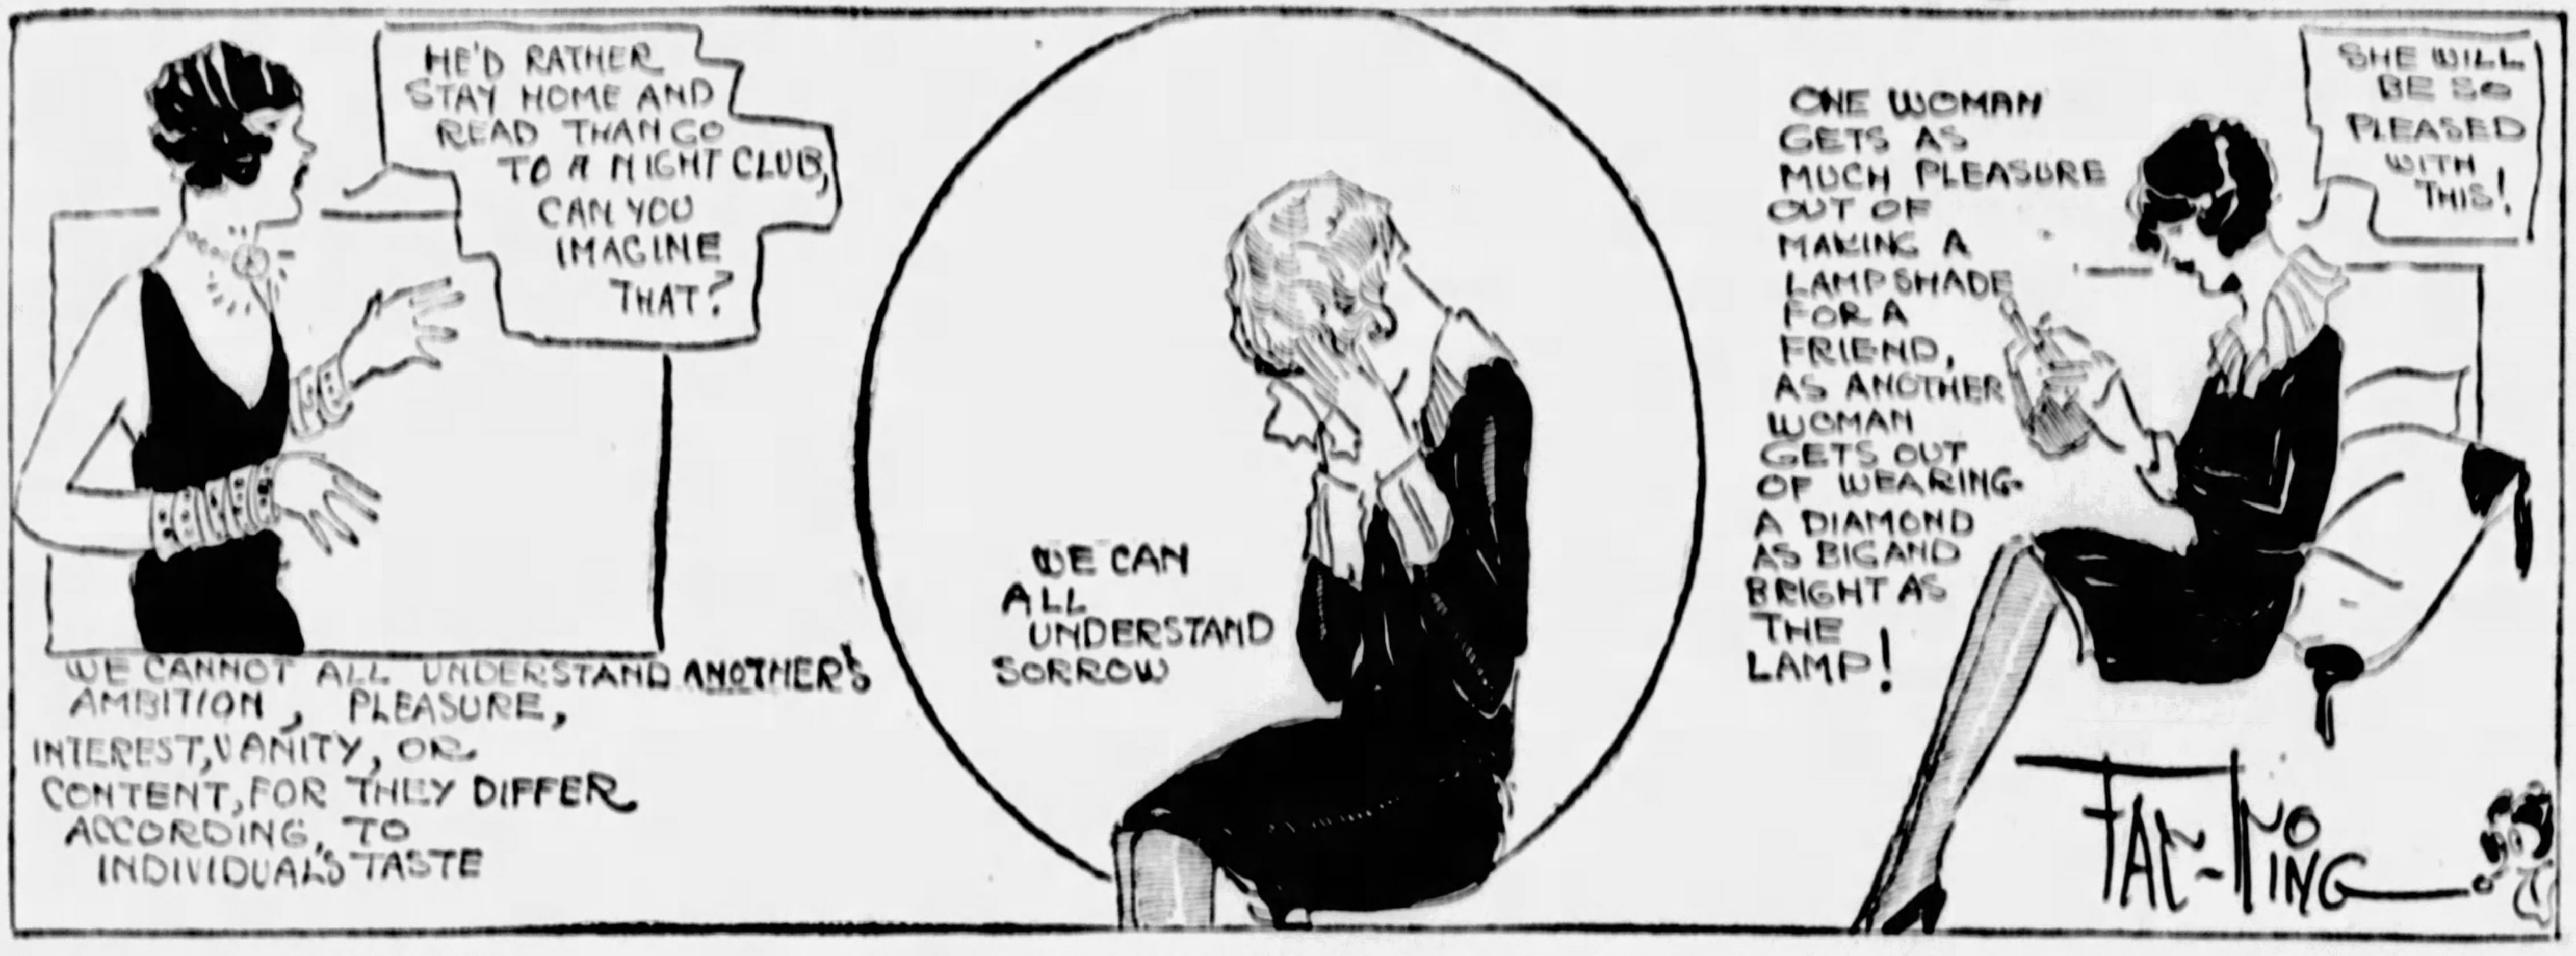
We're All Alike in Sorrow, Says Fay King



HE'D RATHER STAY HOME AND READ THAN GO TO A NIGHT CLUB, CAN YOU IMAGINE THAT?
WE CANNOT ALL UNDERSTAND ANOTHER'S AMBITION, PLEASURE, INTEREST, VANITY, OR CONTENT, FOR THEY DIFFER ACCORDING TO INDIVIDUAL'S TASTE
WE CAN ALL UNDERSTAND SORROW
ONE WOMAN GETS AS MUCH PLEASURE OUT OF MAKING A LAMP SHADE FOR A FRIEND, AS ANOTHER WOMAN GETS OUT OF WEARING A DIAMOND AS BIG AND BRIGHT AS THE LAMP!
SHE WILL BE SO PLEASED WITH THIS!
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

IT IS hard to understand the pleasures, the happiness, the vanity, the ambitions of others whose tastes are not like our own.

But it is easy to understand sorrow or trouble that comes to anyone, prince or pauper, star or shopgirl!

Because grief or trouble affect all alike, while reactions to these other things are entirely up to one's individual tastes.

One woman is happy to spend a fortune in jewelry. She revels in costly finery. She delights in the gay whirl of dining and dancing and entertaining.

Another woman considers this shallow and silly, and wishes nothing more than a simple home. She would not waste a fortune if she had it on diamonds and period furniture.

One man risks life and limb to pose for a moment on the tip top of a mountain peak! Another man spends a small fortune buying liquor with his friends. Another will go without meals to buy a set of books he has longed to own. "Fool," they say of each other.

But no matter how far apart the poles of pleasure may be between people, let sorrow or trouble come to any door and they all understand. One may sneer at another's tastes, but no one smiles at another's tears!

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

A GIRL'S DOUBLE JOB

THIS year's model girl certainly has her JOB cut out for her!

Once upon a time, if a girl was pretty and well bred and knew how to hang onto a man's coat sleeve gracefully and to use her eyes and tinkle a piano, she could get by and be normally popular and happy.

* * *

But NOW she has to be a "knockout" in order to attract any masculine attention. She must have "IT" and a permanent wave and an original "line," and enough clothes to stock a fashionable "shoppe," or she will scarcely be SEEN.

HELEN ROWLAND

If Mother had one smart tailored suit and two party dresses, she was prepared for anything on earth, except presentation at court. But Daughter must have hats, shoes and lingerie to match every ensemble, and must "look like a million dollars" on twenty dollars a week.

* * *

Once, if a girl had more than one or two beaus, she was regarded as a "belle." But now, unless she can keep at least half a dozen men in tow, and have a different "date" for every evening in the week, she is accounted a "flop." And the thought of that makes every girl's blood congeal.

* * *

Once, she knew that if she wanted romance and real love and marriage, she'd have to be sweet and sympathetic, but reserved and hard to kiss.

But now, she doesn't know WHAT to do! If she refuses to "pet," she may be classed as a "Nice Nellie" or a "flat tire," and never invited out. And if she DOES pet, she is only one of a crowd, and will be mauled today and forgotten tomorrow.

She doesn't know whether to sit at home alone, and wait for the One Man to come along; or to accept the unwelcome caresses of one bore after another, until she finds the One Man. But the black fear of not being a "riot" is forever hanging over her.

* * *

Mother could grow old or fat with perfect nonchalance—but those are crimes which nobody forgives, these days. So Daughter must starve herself to a shadow and paint herself up like a fire-alarm to beat Time!

Oh yes, Mother had a cinch! It was infinitely easier to be a moron than it is to be a miracle!

* * *

Today, a girl must work like the proverbial bee in the office or shop all day—and look like the exotic lovely butterfly all evening.

She must be able to manipulate a typewriter or a high-powered car with one hand—and a lipstick with the other. To read law, philosophy, stenographic notes, galley proof or a card-index with one eye—and cast a come-hither look with the other. To be a hard, efficient, snappy worker from nine to five—and a jolly little pal, a perfect thirty-six and Lorelei from eight until midnight!

* * *

It's a dog's life, being a girl, these days! It's doubling on the job—and no pay for overtime.

* * *

Men are constantly complaining that the modern girl "expects too much" of them. But LOOK what men expect of the modern girl!

New Undies

Combining comfort and convenience, many of the newest undergarments are made up with a silk bloomer bottom and a lace brassiere top. A casing at the waistline allows for regulating the fullness and a narrow ruching finishes the elastic band at each knee. A row of snaps on the hidden seam under the left arm serves to fasten such a cleverly designed garment.

For the Lovelorn

Miss Betty

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am 20 years old and I am not allowed to go out with fellows. I went out with a fellow on the sly and we went to a party and had a wonderful time. He treated me nicely and I am in love with him. I loved him ever since I knew him. I have known him for years and never went out with him. It was the first time I went out with him. How would I let a fellow be interested in me. I go to high school and will finish this month. Do you think this fellow loves me? I am anxious to know soon. Is it all right to let a fellow kiss you?

MISS BETTY.

You are certainly old enough to go out with boys without having to be secretive about it. Talk it over with your parents, and I am sure they will be reasonable. Don't let boys kiss you, my dear.

Truthful

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a girl of 16, but am much older in my ways and am usually taken for 18.

About two years ago I fell in love, but as the fellow didn't care for me I tried to forget him. Succeeded quite well because I go out quite a bit and therefore don't have too much time for thought. However, I have never cared for anyone since, but the other day I met a fellow who I care for exceedingly much. This boy is "different" and I am forbidden to go with those not of my nationality. But I know this is true love and not just infatuation. Does love come before my parents' commands? Oh, Miss Gale, if only you could understand, and please try to give this some thought, as I have a lot of confidence in you.

TRUTHFUL.

I am afraid I must tell you, my dear, that you are too young to recognize the difference between real love and infatuation. If you were several years older and in a position to consider marriage seriously, I would tell you that you must carefully weigh your love against all the sacrifices and adjustments that would follow such a marriage. As it is, I am advising you to listen to your parents who love you and want nothing but your happiness. Then, if your present infatuation ripens into real love in three or four years, you can face your problem with the confidence that a tried and true affection can give you.

Horoscope

Wednesday, April 11

The Eternal rules above us; nothing finally wrong has happened or can happen.—CARLYLE.

ACCORDING to the leading of the principal stars, this day may hold much in the way of unexpected activities and possible commotion. Changes are indicated, abruptly and unwelcome, probably affecting the personal and domestic as well as business affiliations. There will be an urge toward constructive efforts, especially as regards new projects, and these should thrive if care be taken against fraud and misrepresentation. Small losses are possible through theft, or carelessness.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of activity and change, probably suddenly and not entirely desirable. New undertakings should flourish if care be used to sign papers carefully and to fortify against all manner of fraud, misrepresentation and loss. Aim to keep personal affiliations harmonious.

A child born on this day will have enterprise and initiative, but should be trained to accomplish its desires by tact and diplomacy.

Notable Nativity: Edward Everett, statesman, author.

Do Unto Your Hands as You Would Have Them Do Unto You

By Edna Wallace Hopper

How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasurable game of betraying your hands. The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration. It is simple.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

I know that my hands have responded marvelously to it. Every time I wash them, in my theater dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.

This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the first application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.

Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bathroom shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

Aim to Live 100

An Easy System to Follow for People Half Dead Around the Age of 40.

The Danger Line in Human Life is around the age of 40. The Life and Power of youthful health that should be in the blood of most people around this age is gone—burnt out. Cold Germs and Intestinal Poisons have pulled you down through the hard winter months, and a reliable spring tonic is needed to aid Nature to put back into the blood, the Life, Power and Youthful Vigor that should be there. Follow this proven advice: Go to your druggist, get a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea—it is the world's most dependable Spring Tonic. It costs very little.

The rich vitalizing herb juices taken once or twice a week are guaranteed to cast out Intestinal Poisons, relieve constipation, sour, gassy stomach, tone the liver, flush the kidneys and enrich the blood.

Bulgarian Herb Tea is an absolutely Guaranteed Vegetable Remedy. Favorably recommended everywhere by physicians and druggists.

Stops Indigestion at the Source

Far better than relieving indigestion troubles as they come along is to remove their cause and keep free from this misery altogether. Even the worst sufferers can avoid indigestion by taking a few Bi-nesia tablets or a teaspoonful of the powder after meals, because this neutralizes excess acidity, prevents fermentation and makes indigestion impossible. Bi-nesia does more than this, it soothes, heals and protects the stomach lining and thus guards against ulcers and chronic acidity. Harmless to take, positive in action. Bi-nesia will prevent trouble always—or if indigestion has already set in, will stop the worst attack in less than five minutes. Large bottles of tablets or powder of any druggist for only 50 cents and satisfaction or money back guaranteed.

High Blood Pressure Caused By Poison

How to Remove the Cause With a Natural Remedy

High blood pressure is almost always the result of accumulated body poisons due to constipation or faulty elimination.

Fermented food and germ-laden waste matter clog the system and generate poisons which affect every vital organ, increase blood pressure and actually shorten life.

Get rid of these deadly poisons. Stimulate the liver, assist the kidneys and sweep toxic matter from the intestines by taking Lithuric Salts before breakfast for a week. Because it contains no sodium chloride or sugar—because it is composed only of valuable, natural mineral salts with fruit acids of lemons and grapes, Lithuric Salts is not only harmless, but can be depended upon to give quick results in reducing blood pressure and toning up the system generally. Try it. Get a large, inexpensive package at any May Drug Co. Store, or any other good druggist, today on our "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.

Modess

Greater Comfort
than you have known

RARE excellence plus absolute cleanliness of manufacture is the assurance of the Johnson & Johnson Red Cross trade-mark. That assurance distinguishes Modess from ordinary sanitary napkins.

To make the ordinary napkin would have presented no difficulty, but to create incomparable Modess demanded four years of laboratory research. An entirely new substance was invented for the disposable center or filler—fluffy as the downiest cotton but amazingly absorbent. A special gauze was woven, softened by a process known only to Johnson & Johnson, and then cushioned with a velvety film of cotton. The sides were smoothly rounded to prevent noticeable clumsiness and irritation. So that you may buy Modess without discussion, we suggest that the silent purchase coupon below be handed to the sales person.

Modess costs 50 cents for a box of twelve.

ELITE NIGHT CLUB RAIDED

RESORT FOUND NEAR HOMES OF RICH

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—A night club occupying an entire four-story brownstone residence in West Fifty-third street and surrounded by the town houses of many wealthy New Yorkers was raided by Federal prohibition agents early today. Three owners and nine employes were arrested.

Nearly 150 men and women attired in evening clothes were in the club, known as the European Club, Inc., but were permitted to depart.

The raid was made by three men and two women agents who said wealthy residents had complained. The agents said they seized 15 cases of liquor, including six cases of champagne.

The owners gave their names as John Jonmidis, Nicholas Prunis and Peter Kieboras.

Wants Dog as Eating Pal; He Pays

They don't serve dogs in the Rainbow Restaurant, 630 East Ohio street, North Side.

James Harper, 28, former prohibition agent, of 419 East General Robinson street, wanted his dog to sit with him at a table and to have a steak served in kingly fashion. Steve Adamopolus, proprietor, protested, and when Harper created a disturbance, he was arrested. Harper did not appear for a hearing in North Side Police Court today on a disorderly conduct charge and forfeited his bond.

$750,000 ALLOTED FOR NORMAL SCHOOL WORK

HARRISBURG, April 10.—(AP.)—Announcement was made yesterday at the department of public instruction that $750,000 had been allocated for new construction at six of the state's 13 normal schools.

The schools at California, Clarion, Kutztown, Lock Haven, Millersville and Slippery Rock each will receive $125,000.

POLICE INVOKE SNYDER ACT

City police evidently are going to give the magistrates an oportunity to hold liquor law violators for court trial, as requested by the district attorney. They charge three alleged proprietors of a speakeasy at 7217 Hamilton avenue, raided last night, with violating the Snyder act, as well as with keeping a disorderly house.

The raid was conducted by Lieuts. Elias Wentzel and Nuncie Marino who arrested Frank Capone, M. J. Holman and Frank Dunn. Police say the place has been raided twice within two weeks. A small amount of whisky was confiscated and 13 visitors were arrested.

Two other raids were made by the same officers, one at 7240 Tioga street where J. DeMarco and Samuel DeSarno were charged with keeping a disorderly house. Three visitors were arrested. J. J. Weiskirchur was arrested as the proprietor of a store at 208 North Sheridan avenue, raided by police. Four visitors were arrested and moonshine whisky reported found.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., April 10.—Mrs. Robert Watson, 74, was burned to death in her home here today. Her clothing ignited from a gas stove. A daughter, Ella, was slightly burned attempting to extinguish her mother's clothing.

Car Rider Hit By Stone Not Identified

Police are endeavoring to identify the man who yesterday was knocked unconscious by a stone thrown through a window of a Highland avenue street car outbound in Fifth avenue near Brady street. The unconscious passenger was placed in the machine of Regis Harmon, of 510 Neville street, and taken to the Mercy Hospital. The stone was thrown from a hill overlooking Fifth avenue.

TWO WOMEN INJURED BY AUTOS DOWNTOWN

Two women were injured in downtown automobile accidents late yesterday afternoon and last night. Julia Beacon, 20, of 2411 Fifth avenue, suffered a possible fractured skull when hit by the truck of Edward J. Riley, 25, of 357 Cedarville street, in Diamond street, near Smithfield street. A reckless driving charge was placed against Riley.

Mrs. C. L. Howley, 50, of 6343 Barchfield street, was struck at Grant and Diamond streets. George Miller, 49, of 1642 Potomac avenue, Dormont, driver of the machine, took Mrs. Howley to Mercy Hospital and later to her home. Miller was arrested.

Sleuths Solve One Mystery -:- WHO KILLED THELMA YOUNG? -:- Can They Now Clear Another?

DIRECTS SEARCH

W. S. BURCHINAL

Washington county's unrelenting district attorney, Warren S. Burchinal, personally investigates every major crime committed in the county. Two puzzling murders have occurred since he took office last winter. One is now cleared up.

NEAR HER HOME

ISRAEL SLOTSKY MARGARET OHS

The killing of Israel Slotsky, 17, as he emerged from the home of a girl friend, Margaret Ohs, Washington, last January 19, was solved when Wray Wormsley, Negro, confessed to the crime. Wormsley had seen young Slotsky with a large sum of money, it is alleged, and he waited behind a fence, mashing Slotsky's head with a heavy crowbar and searching his clothing for valuables. He obtained nothing, he told authorities.

SOLVE ONE MYSTERY---

WILLIAM B. DINSMORE FRANK A. CREPS

Chief County Detective William S. Dinsmore and his assistant, Frank A. Creps, solved the Slotsky murder and have been relentless in their efforts to uncover the brutal slayer of pretty Thelma Young, who met death at the hands of a powerul assassin as she was crossing the corner of her grandmother's property on her way home from a moving picture show. Hope is now held out that they will be able to solve the other of these two mysteries.

THELMA YOUNG

Many persons are of the opinion that Wormsley may know something of Thelma Young's murder. Wormsley also is accused of robbery and peeking into homes. He has admitted about 15 robberies, sleuths say. Now, rigid investigation by Detectives Dinsmore and Creps is anticipated and time will tell whether or not an early solution will be made of the Young slaying.

OHIO PUPIL TOURISTS INJURED

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP.)—Ten Ohio girls, all from the Waterville (O.) School for Girls, were hurt, seven severely, when a platform in the grounds of the Washington Cathedral collapsed yesterday. Physicians today said that all were expected to recover. Miss Inez Deruth, of Waterville, O., was at first reported to have a fractured back, but this was disproved by an X-ray.

Besides Miss Deruth, those who received treatment at hospitals included: Miss Lois Askey, Miss Alice Longworth, Miss Ethel Burroughs, Miss Pearl Studer, Miss Leona Perther, Miss Mildred Gunn, Miss Thelma Bucher, Miss Helen Bradley and Miss Helen Struhsaher. All live in Waterville or Whitehouse, O. They are here on an Easter holiday tour.

Why We Behave Like Human Beings

by George A. Dorsey, Ph.D., LI.D.

Early to Bed, Early to Rise, an Inherited Habit

The Mystery of Sleep and the Puzzle of Dreams, Which Often Are Very Frank

Man's goal is freedom and a faster life, as related by Dr. Dorsey in The Sun-Telegraph yesterday. He is moving toward it by the process of creative evolution, which is intelligent behavior based on experience. "Man alone can set man free," the author said. He will do it through the operation of mind.

Dreams Often Come True

CHAPTER LIV.

YOUR family physician can put you to sleep with a drug, but he cannot tell you why you suffer insomnia or why you can walk in your sleep. Or why you sleep—or wake up.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

One popular theory solves the problem with thyroid hormones. Muscle activity generates poison—"fatigue products." Iodine is anti-toxic. The thyroid furnishes iodine. Hence . . . But inasmuch as the infant sleeps early and late and cannot be presumed to have generated much fatigue product from muscle activity, sleep itself was assumed to be instinctive biologic defense mechanism to prevent intoxication!

Which explains sleep just as much as breathing is explained by saying that we breathe in order not to become asphyxiated. We cannot commit suicide by holding our breath, nor by withholding our sleep. Breathing and sleeping are reflex acts which travel on their own. The muscle toxins were assumed. It was then presumed that the thyroid—or some other gland—washed them out.

Why do we sleep? What is back of sleep?

But, first, what is back of life itself? Sunlight. The sun is the primary source of the energy of green plants; in sunlight they build up their bodies. But the light fails, the sun goes down. They had to meet that condition, to find the energy required to prolong life throughout the night. The problem was met in two ways: by living more slowly—that is, consuming less energy—during the night; by deriving energy from breaking down and so releasing the stored energy of their own body. Process of katabolism, or destructive metabolism.

Katabolism, then, is an adaptation to the dark.

Sleep a Habit

Ages ago our ancestors did not develop electric organs or luciferase; they did develop diurnal habits. The nights were given over to the vegetative processes, the days to action in the motor mechanism. Having nothing to do at night, they went to bed. There was no other place to go. With no electric lights to switch on, the wires to and from the highest brain centers were switched off. Sleep became a habit. It worked like a conditioned reflex, sunset setting it off. Even today some find it hard to break the habit; they go to bed with the chickens and are up with the dawn.

Judging from their behavior, all our four-footed friends dream. Presumably their dreams are as unique as are their individual selves. I find no explanation for my dreams that does not take stock of my experience. Dreams themselves are no more mysterious than is any other phase of adjustment. Dreams and sleep are processes of adjustment based on physiological processes.

It is assumed that dreams have a biologic function. "It is the dream that really keeps us asleep," says Humphreys. He cites the sleeper and a lawn-mower outside. The sleeper dreams he hears something else; if he "heard" lawn-mower, he would have to get up and go to work. "He can only consistently go to sleep by hearing noise as something else than the sound of a lawn-mower."

That explanation is too simple; it covers too much ground. True, many dreams seem to have the function of guarding sleep. But to say that the dream keeps us asleep is as lucid as to say that sleep causes dreams.

There are dreams and dreams, and sleep and sleep. Some animals and people are always dreaming; some seem never more than half awake. But inherent in life and human beings is the necessity to "come to" when life is imperiled.

Mind Active in Sleep

Sleep is primarily relaxation—general dropping off of the motor mechanism. But activity keeps on, though slowed down a trifle, in the digestive, respiratory and circulatory systems. The bodily functions continue; the motor mechanism goes out of action, including external receptors for outside stimuli. Consciousness quits, the mind stays on the job. Consciousness is a functioning of arcs of the cortex of the brain, where knowledge is stored and sorted. When certain parts of the cortex are injured—by disease or wound—we lose control of something as though we had quite forgotten. It may be use of part of the motor mechanism, or the speech mechanism, etc. But with the cortex out of action, we forget what we have learned.

A dream may be anything. If A's dreams are wish-fulfillments, A apparently is a Spanish-castle-builder and keeps at it in his dreams.

Sometimes the frankness of our dreams amazes us. Life is frank. With the cortex out of action, we lose the guardian of our morals. The mind of the dreamer rambles around aimlessly and shamelessly. For the same reason scientists often solve problems in chemistry, mathematics, etc., in dreams; their mind was free from inhibitions, it was not afraid to try out new combinations.

We solve many different problems of conflict just before we drop asleep, or we drive them from our head long enough to fall asleep. That problem is likely to form the subject of our dream: the body mind carries it on from the point where it was dropped by the conscious mind.

Dreams Come True

Children and morons do not solve problems in chemistry in their dreams. As in waking states, they deal with the simple affairs of the day or of yesterday. Adults' dreams may drop into childhood imagery and symbols. In sleep the mind wanders, and easily and naturally into childish things or into childish methods of playing cars with four chairs, one dog, one cat, two dolls and Johnny for engineer and Mamie for conductor.

"My dream has come true!" Often they do. As I write, my body's mind wanders fore and aft and up and down. It will be surprising if it can anticipate nothing of my behavior or my family's behavior tomorrow or next week. When our dreams do not come true—and generally they do not, for truth has little interest for dreams—we say nothing about it.

"Prophecy lies in my name, saying: I have dreamed, I have dreamed."

MILLIONAIRE BROKER, ILL, COMMITS SUICIDE

NEW YORK, April 10.—Walter Curzon Taylor, 64, millionaire retired stockbroker, ended his life yesterday by shooting himself. Ingraid Albrectson, a maid, heard the shot and rushed in to find her employer lying in his bed dying. He left four notes, one of which was addressed to the police, stating that he had suffered ill health and intended to kill himself.

Toastmaster

C. C. C. STOTLER

C. C. C. Stotler, treasurer of the Title Guaranty Company, will be toastmaster at the annual banquet and annual Pittsburgh chapter election of the American Institute of Banking, William Penn Hotel, tomorrow night. More than 900 bankers are expected to attend.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SNOW REMOVAL COST $4,900

The heavy snowfall on March 17 and 18 cost the city $4,903.91 for extra help, according to a bill received by Council from the Department of Public Works.

Edward G. Lang, director, asked authority to issue warrants totaling that amount to five contractors whose aid, he said, was necessary in clearing the streets for traffic, the city forces being unable to cope with the situation.

'OUTSIDER' IN JOB, BAN FIZZLES

Despite the councilmanic resolution against hiring "outsiders" and Mayor Charles H. Kline's veto of a subsequent councilmanic decision to hire a Chicago asphalt expert, Ralph Munn, of Flint, Mich., has been named librarian of Central Carnegie Library.

The appointment, originally decided upon at a meeting of the library committee last week, was confirmed yesterday by Carnegie trustees meeting in the Mayor's office. Mr. Munn first was nominated by Col. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, as successor to J. H. Leete, resigned.

At last week's meeting Munn was approved by the library committee on motion of Mayor Kline, who, only the day before, had vetoed a councilmanic bill authorizing the hiring of Hugh J. Skidmore, Chicago asphalt expert, on the ground that "Pittsburgh can produce some one in Pittsburgh big enough for any job we have to do." Council had approved the employment of Skidmore a week after unanimously approving a resolution to hire only Pittsburghers.

The Mayor's veto of the Skidmore appointment was received by Council yesterday and held over, with City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt being requested to report on the legal aspects of the resolution against outsiders and the veto message.

Mr. Munn, who is librarian of the Flint Public Library, is 34 years old. He was educated at Ohio State University, the University of Denver, the New York State Library School and at the Sorbonne in Paris. He served for four years in the Denver Library, in the New York Public Library, was assistant librarian at Seattle and for two years was librarian at Flint. He served in France during the World War and is married and has two children.

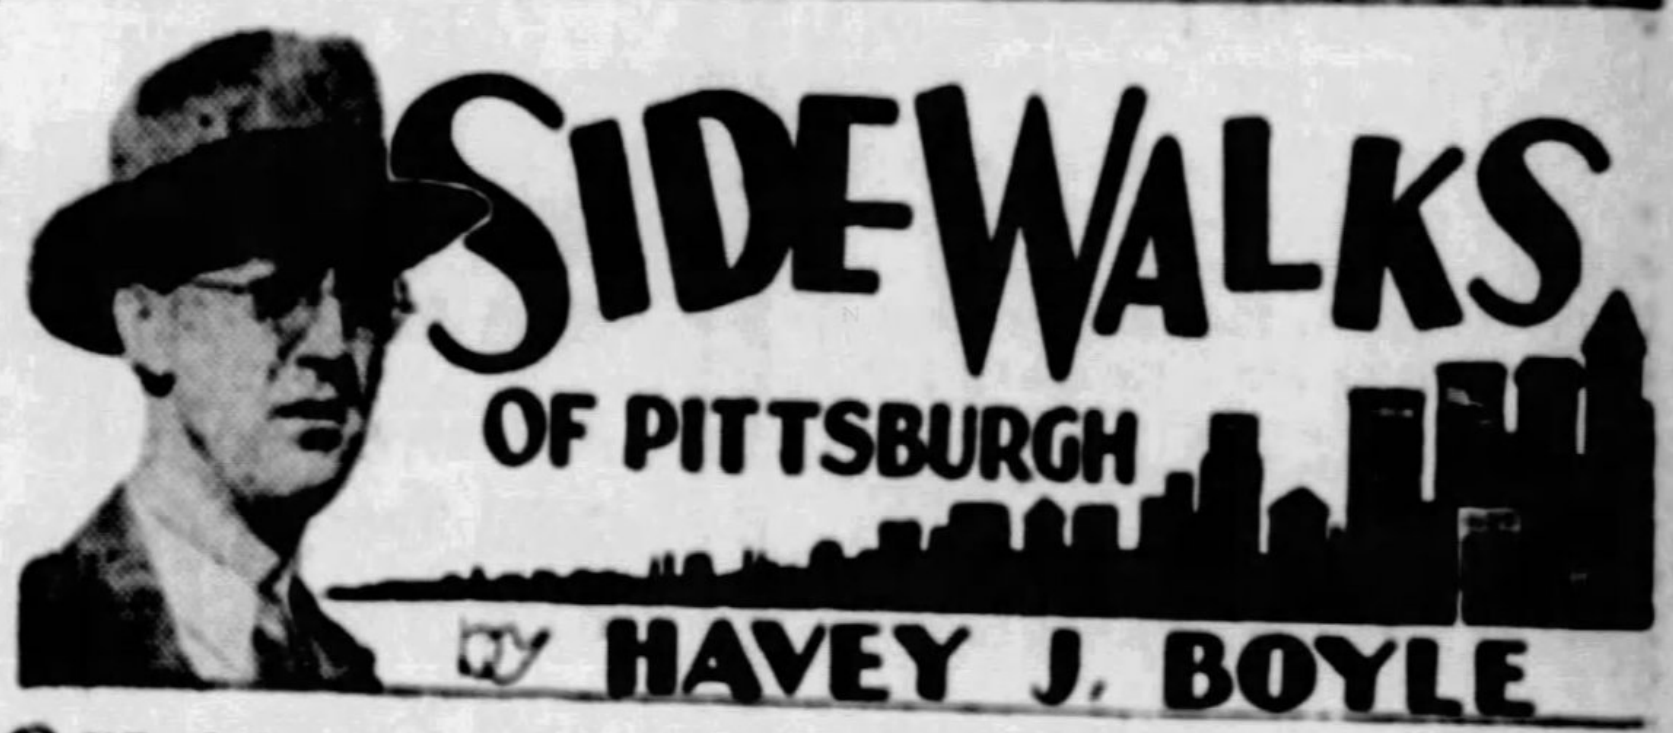
HONORS PLANNED FOR TWO WAR OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, April 10—(AP.)—Bills providing promotions to the rank of lieutenant general of two of America's World War generals—Hunter Liggett and Robert Lee Bullard, both retired—were approved by unanimous vote of the Senate Military Committee.

Both Generals Liggett and Bullard are retired as major generals, although each served in France as lieutenant generals.

Two With Same Name Battle, One May Die

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 10.—(AP.)—Objections to each bearing the same name, two Frank Shines, one 51, of Granville, W. Va., and the other, 27, of Monvue, resulted in a knife duel, in which the local man was stabbed seriously. The knife is believed to have punctured the victim's left lung. The West Virginia man was arrested.



SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

ONE of the interesting visitors to Pittsburgh this week is Jim Corbett, onetime heavyweight champion of the world. He perhaps was the style-maker for some of the champions who followed him. The man he vanquished, John L. Sullivan, was the fighting type, blustery, picturesque in a traditional ring way. Corbett when he became champion upset this tradition and took the role of the soft-spoken fellow who could fight and lick a bully when he was forced to.

HE WAS, relatively, educated, in that he had paid some attention to the lessons one acquires in a grade school. He was intelligent enough to hold down a minor position in a bank. He was of the white-collar class, although engaged in a racket that was frowned upon far more than at present.

* * *

PERHAPS, he was not always the polished talker that you find when you meet Jim Corbett today. Perhaps he had his moments when he swung a fist to settle an argument. He probably was forced at times to yield to the old tradition that a fighting man had to have a semblance of toughness about him. But his new contacts, coming from being catapulted into a world-wide glare of publicity, showed him that, after all, the most companionable men were not always talking about who they could lick in a physical encounter. He learned from stage engagements which came as a result of his ring prestige that there were more interesting things in life than smashing someone's jaw or threatening to do so. After all, a bully may have some glamour for a time, but he becomes just a little tiresome because his story is always the same.

I THOUGHT HE'D EAT WITH HIS KNIFE!

IT IS stranger that Corbett took on a polish than that Tunney, the present champion, can speak of Shakespeare and Shaw, for Tunney came into power when boxing was accepted by the moneyed-class whose approval of this or that is the sign followed by those who doubt their own judgment. Corbett had had a harder row to hoe, because for a fighting man to use good grammar, even, somehow raised doubts in the public that followed him whether there was not a screw loose.

HIS style did not catch on entirely until after Jeffries and Johnson had passed off the fistic horizon to make room for Willard. He was in the Corbett style. Dempsey took it up and Tunney elaborated upon it until now the portrait of a heavyweight champion does not mean crudeness, but rather the hero of a polite romance—a man who does not shovel food with his knife, yet a man who could lick the daylights out of the Gas House gang in toto.

IN A talk with Corbett there was revealed, somehow, an admiration for this flowering of the style he set—Tunney. Between the lines of his talk it was gathered by this listener that he felt it might not be altogether right to approve of Tunney's pose, but that, just the same, he had an admiration for Tunney who rather than following what he thought the crowd expected of him, owned the superior courage to act as he likes and let the boxing public make the best of it.

This analysis of Corbett's talk is a fair one, because he himself went through certain flurries of boxing public skepticism because he liked a clean shirt and a bath.

CORBETT is 61 and in perfect health. Here, at last, is the secret of long life and health. All you have to do is to win the heavyweight championship of the world.

I KNOW THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE AND HEALTH!

MAGEE'S 'FREE PRIMARY' PLEA FLATTENED

The 11 Republican ward chairmen of the Thirty-fifth congressional district will get their orders to support Congressman Harry A. Estep for re-election at a meeting to be held late this afternoon. The meeting has been called by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

The fact that the meeting had been called became known shortly after former Congressman James M. Magee, Estep's opponent, had made public a letter in which he asked State Chairman W. L. Mellon for "an uncontrolled primary" in which "the voters of the district are given a chance to register their preference without being intimidated or coerced," with the candidates being "permitted to fight it out, fair field and no favor."

SUSPECT SHOWS HE'S INNOCENT

F. J. Timm, 22, of Renfrew street, arrested Sunday as a suspect in an attempted burglarly and subsequently discharged, was absolved of any wrong-doing whatever by police yesterday. Timm was taken in custody soon after four men had tried to enter the home of Mrs. J. J. Fleckenstein, 6378 Aurelia street, and, because he was carrying a bottle of milk, was requested to clear himself in the theft of a case of milk from a delivery wagon. Timm proved conclusively to Magistrate William J. Soost and police that he had bought the milk and he produced the driver who had sold it. He also proved he was going home when arrested and was in no way involved in any wrongdoing.

DORMONT MAID CASE DELAYED

Charged with larceny, Miss Martha Julia Fisher, until last week a maid in the home of Mrs. Dorothy R. Peterson, 1419 Mervin avenue, Dormont, was arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Martin Weitzel, of Dormont. At the request of counsel for Miss Fisher the case was continued until Wednesday night. It is alleged that she stole wearing apparel valued at $150 from her employer. The cashing of several checks belonging to Mrs. Peterson figured in the case but no charge except that of larceny was filed against her.

ARREST BOYS TRYING TO LASSO CHICKENS

Two boys who spent more than an hour trying to lasso chickens in the storage house of Steinecker Meat Company, 1207 Muriel street, were arrested for their pains yesterday. Police discovered the boys on a roof, ropes hanging through a skylight into the chicken yard. Crumbs had been used for bait and the youths were endeavoring to drop the ropes over the necks of the chickens. At the South Side Police Station they said they were Nick Terleski, 14, of South Thirteenth street, and Edward Zagorski, 16, of Glendale avenue.

B. & O. TO PAY $12,000 FOR CROSSING SMASH

A consent verdict for $12,000 has been taken in Common Pleas Court in the suit of Mrs. Nellie Barousky against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company for personal injuries to herself, the death of her husband, Frank Barousky and the injury of two children. The Barouskys, living near Waynesburg, had the right of way at Evans Crossing near Uniontown, September 13, 1925. Their automobile was struck by a train. Attorney Rody P. Marshall represented the plaintiffs.

MEDICAL SOCIETY TO BANQUET TONIGHT

Old Bell Rings Today for Fire of 1845

The eighty-third anniversary of "Great Fire" in Pittsburgh was commemorated today by the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania when Fire Marshall Thomas L. Pfarr sounded the memorial alarm at noon on the old City Hall bell at Historical Hall. With a sledge, Pfarr struck the notes—1-5-1-5. In the ceremony, several officers of the Historical Society took part. The fire occurred April 10, 1845, causing a loss of $9,000,000.

ALONE IN HOUSE, FOUND DEAD

Neighbors, disturbed at the accumulation of newspapers on the porch at the home of Leo Ferla, 51, who lived alone at 12 Third street, Sharpsburg, investigated today and found Ferla dead on a couch. A preliminary report to the morgue indicated he had died of natural causes. He leaves two brothers, Jacob and Henry Ferla, of Sharpsburg.

CITY SUED AFTER FALL ON NORTH SIDE STEPS

The City of Pittsburgh has been made the defendant in a damage suit instituted by Marie Edith Opawski, 14 Richey street, who alleges a board broke under her while she was descending the steps leading from Hackney street to Quebec street, near the McNaugher school. She says she fell, suffering severe injuries.

Physicians Advise Hemo-Liver for Thin-Blooded Folks

Full of the Newly Discovered Vital Element or Red Blood-Making Vitamines Extracted from Beef Liver.

Not a Patent Medicine

The name of the new product that is doing so much for weak anemic people is Hemo-Liver and it can now be obtained from any druggist who keeps abreast of the times, with the distinct understanding that if one bottle doesn't improve your health wonderfully—the purchase be returned.

A big 12-ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver lasts eight days and one tablespoonful is a dose and as one Doctor remarked, "You'll have to eat a lot of liver before you get as much of the red blood making elements as you get in one tablespoonful of Hemo-Liver."

"Men and women who are suffering from lowered vitality, general weakness, overwork, nervous breakdown or anemia can put their faith in Hemo-Liver. For feeble old people, girls 13 to 18 and in convalescence it won't fail. It strengthens the nerves, increases the red blood cells, promotes health and rebuilds energy so quickly that often physicians are astonished."

You can get Hemo-Liver at May's Drug Stores.

SAYS MELLONS BACKED DRAIN INJUNCTION

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 10.—The exclusive Rolling Rock Country Club and the Mellons were named in a petition presented to the full court of Westmoreland county today as interests secretly behind an injunction preventing the Blair Coal Company from draining its mine into a tributary of Loyalhanna Creek.

Attorney Albert Bell, in behalf of David Blair and James S. Blair, trading as the Blair Coal Company, asked Judges Charles D. Copeland, Charles E. Whitten and William T. Dom to set a date for a hearing at which newly-discovered evidence regarding the injunction, granted a year ago, might be offered. The court took the petition under advisement without fixing a hearing date.

Farmers along Loyalhanna Creek obtained the injunction against the coal company on the ground that drainage from the mine was polluting the waters. Since then, the petition sets forth, the defendants have learned, the farmers were moved to seek the injunction through the Mellons.

"Your petitioners are informed," the petition states, "that the parties not of record in this proceeding, concealed as aforesaid, are known as the Mellon interests, owned and controlled, principally by Andrew W. Mellon, Richard B. Mellon and Richard K. Mellon, owning and controlling the Rolling Rock Country Club and other properties in Westmoreland county, Pa., and residing in Pittsburgh, Pa., and Washington, D. C."

The petition protests against "usurpation of his province" by the judge in the injunction case by "taking as a fact" testimony of certain experts that a filtration plant installed by the Blair Coal Company was not sufficient to cleanse the water.

At the trial of the injunction case, the petition recites, expert witnesses appeared in behalf of the plaintiffs, coming from the Koppers Company, Melcroft Coal Company and other concerns designated as "allied and controlled companies of the Mellon interests."

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait. by Elenore MEHERIN

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Jerry King, good looking, charming and nineteen, falls in love with Saxon Rhodes, a young architect. Marza, her fascinating mother, warns her that idealists like Saxon make poor husbands. When he goes abroad to study, Jerry promises to wait for him. Jerry agrees to wait three years longer. She wonders whether Saxon loves her as completely as she loves him. Saxon's attention to Ora Pringle gives Jerry a pang of jealousy. They attend a week end party where things start to happen. She decides to give Saxon up. She discovers that Marza has another daughter of whose existence her husband had been ignorant. Marza tells Jerry that this sister of hers is dying and needs them both. Stephanie recovers and they go back home. The months pass, and Jerry has not seen Saxon. She goes to a house party and there meets Saxon. Jerry discovers that Stephanie loves Heinie.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"I SAW you head and shoulders above the common herd. One writing his name on the stars. One who couldn't be swayed or sunk.

"And it got me all at once to see you going the way of all flesh: gamboling on the green with that captivating young ox lying in your arms."

"That's going a bit strong, isn't it?"

She ignored him with a bland smile: "Another thing that got me was that you tried to slip it over on me. And without necessity. You insulted my great intelligence telling me I was the only one and then allowing me to find you with another one. Very poor technique!"

He grew uncomfortably red and wished to defend himself. He was in a difficult and unfair position. For he had meant the things he said to her. She WAS the only girl he ever loved. And he DIDN'T expect to love in the same way again. That's all he told her. It was the truth.

Of course, he had liked saying it in that intimate, provocative way; had enjoyed bringing the fervor to her warm, sweet eyes, looking down at her and caressing her with a glance. Aware and exultant in his power to bring her lips trembling and eager to his. A delicious game!

He couldn't tell Jerry this.

With an illuminating flash more surprising to herself than to him, she took the thought from his mind.

"But I've sized it all up and I've got the straight of it. I see you as you are. And to understand is to condone. The sun-god is playing school with the lounge-lizards.

"They've some very exciting games. Making love is one of them: I see the lure of that. Brings a throb to the heart to try one's power over another.

"Only remember this, Saxon, the woman doesn't live who plays a clean, straight hand at that game. They've all a trump card up their sleeves. And sooner or later they bring it down. When they play—you pay!

"It's Lohengrin and going-grin for you!"

"Not I! The survival of marriage proves the blind stupidity or the insane optimism of the race. Take that party the other night—14 girls all under 25. Eight of them married and divorced. And they started out with the same fool delusion—marry and be happy ever afterwards! It doesn't work! And I don't fall for it."

"So all the benedicts of the world have boasted. But nearly every man dies married."

"Watch out, ole dear. Seeing that I'm not going to wed you myself, I warn you that all other women are in a conspiracy to nab you. And they're all WORTHLESS!"

"How do you know you're not going to marry me?"

"Well, I've got to be about God's business at present, which is to make a worthwhile person out of one Jerry King. And to pay the family bills, which are large."

"You don't care for me any more, Jerry?"

"Oh, vanity! Yes, I care. Enough to give you a broken heart when I see your hair getting thin at the temples. But that's the gerat little mamma in me, I suppose. Want to keep you sweet and pure like you never were, perhaps!"

Lavender eyes soft against the blue-black hair, arms wound about her hunched knees. Slim, woodland sprite poised for a brief rest. Like this she sat above him that dewy morning on the hilltop. Like this she had turned with delicious kid sweetness and asked him poignantly to judge her worth.

"Don't you love me, Jerry?"

"He can't help playing the game," thought she with hot unhappiness, "even when he knows a person's heart is his."

She answered after a long musing: "Love. For a girl that means to be on your knees. To be looking up. To be worshiping. The woman doesn't live who truly loves a man that she doesn't look up to. She may have a humorous affection for him or a nice, comfortable middle-aged tolerance, or a half-motherly tenderness. But real, bone-deep mate-love can't exist for a woman when she no longer looks up to her man."

She turned about quickly and gathered up her sketches. She had said too much. She was always saying irrevocable things! Making the barrier impassable—making it seem like that.

He colored hotly: "I've fallen quite low in your opinion! You think I drink and chase and am an all-around rotter!"

She was dismayed at the sudden unpleasant turn. She turned eagerly and came shrugging up and tucked a hand in his arm: "No, I don't. Don't think that at all. Quit gnashing your teth and acting Romeo! And don't get sore because a sap of a schoolgirl clapped a halo on your head and doesn't think you're wearing it quite straight.

"Were you planning on driving me home? I'm in a hurry."

She went talking on—arrogant—casual. Friends—they would be breezy and chummy.

She thought: "He's having his fling. Same as I would! As I may! Being he, it can't last long. He can't fall for that shabby stuff for very, very long!"

How deep he was enmeshed in this shabby stuff she learned to her dismay a few weeks later.

CHAPTER XLVII.

SYLVIA finished the portrait of Mary Eunice Pennings. She gave the nose and lips which were slightly thick in the model, a refining touch. Mary Eunice insisted on this and was charmed with the result.

She proclaimed Sylvia great, and by way of heralding her genius gave a bridge-tea. The portrait was displayed and Sylvia acclaimed.

The Pennings lived in Broadway. The house was large and old-fashioned, rising like an embattlement on the steep slopes above Vallejo street.

It was late when Jerry arrived. Only half a dozen guests remained. They were having gin-rickeys and settled about a card-table in the pleasing depths of very intimate conversations.

Some one touched off a bomb with this:

"Poor Edith Taylor—that rat hasn't paid her any alimony for seven months."

"Oh, why should he?" impatiently queried Inga. "Why should a man pay alimony to a woman who bore him no child and in all probability didn't even earn her keep while encroaching on his bed and board?"

"Well, she was married to him," offered Mary Eunice, as one settling the problem definitely. Mary wore black-chiffon like her replica on the wall. The shadowy gauze enhanced her slenderness and the pearl-pallor of her face.

"And she didn't wish to divorce him. She practically had to. At least, she's entitled to compensation."

"For what? She had bed, board and keep in return for the three years of misery she gave Bud Taylor. She's husky and unencumbered. Why should a man with whom she no longer lives pay her a life annuity? Why is it decent for a married woman to demand money from a man because she lived with him in the past, and indecent for a frail sister to accept it for the favors of today?"

"Well," said Nellie Spears, "Bud Taylor took her from a good home where her father was glad to support her. The husband promised to keep her for life. He certainly has no right, child or no child, to dump her back penniless. What's she going to do?"

"In other words, a woman has got to be kept by one man or another—by a father because he was foolish enough to beget her; or by an ex-husband because the law forces him.

"Isn't it just possible that free ladies in the day of emancipation might be taken seriously and asked to look out for themselves?"

Inga, never held for more than a flash or two, and secretly disliking the company of women, now drifted to the piano and began to sing.

As is the way with all social conversation, the theme was immediately tangled and lost in a mesh of personalities.

"My dear, I'm all-of-a-TWIT! I mean I'm HONestly so exCITed I could SHUCK WHORtleberries or something at this point because ARab has ACtually oRIGinated an EPitaph or whatever you call those sort of SNAPpy SAYings, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, I was VIolently disCUSsing with him about the adolEScence situAtion, my dear, and he REALly got off a TERribly CLEVer sort of reMARK about the subject, my dear, because I mean it sounded exACTly like a quoTAtion from one of those terribly HIGHbrow AUthors, my dear, only Arab SWORE he made it up himSELF—can you BEAR it? Well, ANYways, he said that YOUTH was—GOSH, my dear, I can't for the LIFE of me think of the exact WORDs he USED, my dear, and I mean unless you can sort of PUT it in just those exact WORDS it isn't FUNny or anything, do you know what I mean? But the IDEA of it, you see, is that YOUTH is sort of contraDICtory or something because I mean don't you KNOW how you're always contraDICting your PARents, my dear, when they say dumb THINGS and all? Well, ANYways, my dear, I think ARab was TERribly BRIGHT to sort of think UP a really CLEVer reMARK like that and ACtually oRIGinate it himSELF—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge and Mary Go Over the Events of the Party

I KNEW very well that, in Dicky's parlance, there was not the slightest use of my "high hatting" Mary concerning the mystery which surrounded Eleanor Lincoln, which she evidently was planning to discuss with me. The keen eyes of Dicky's young niece, sharpened by her jealousy, had shared my opportunities for observation of the mistress of The Larches, and the eager, knowing query which she just had voiced told me that she had neglected no angle of those opportunities.

There was but one thing to do, and that was to discuss the bizarre affair with her with proper "grown-up" solemnity. Indeed I was not sorry to avail myself of her fresh, keen young viewpoint upon the mystery which was so intriguing me.

"Yes, my dear young cat," I said, smiling, and purposely emphasizing the noun, "I not only heard 'the Lincoln dame' when your uncle proposed sketching her with the wolfhound, but I saw her, and observed how the proposal affected her. I don't mind telling you that the young woman's actions are occupying a great deal of my thoughts just now. I'm all at sea. I wish you'd tell me what you think of it all."

She flushed at my gibe, but answered it promptly.

"Oh, I'll own up," she said. "I am a cat, but she's a pig. She's trying to gobble up both Noel and that young Mr. Jackson. But I can be a little porker, too, and I'm here to tell you she'd better watch her footsteps."

I did not attempt to keep back a laugh at her vehemence.

"As far as my observation went, you had the better of it in those directions tonight," I said.

"Yes," she acknowledged, with a little grin, "it wasn't so bad. But didn't you notice how just the second she noticed I was having a good mumble with Georgie, she pulled her freight for home?"

There was mischief in her eyes and I guessed that she had used young Mr. Jackson's Christian name deliberately in the hope that I would put a horrified query as to her custom when talking with the young man. But I refused to be drawn by either that supposition or by her weird slang.

"Yes, I rather admired her adroitness," I told her, "but I can't say I enjoyed what you did to Noel. In your own jargon, I would advise you to watch your step, my dear. That boy is extremely sensitive, and there is a limit to his endurance."

"He's not such a tender, sensitive plant that he doesn't know how to stage a comeback," she said grimly. "Did you notice the moonlight-on-the-greensward he was putting over with the Lincoln this evening?"

"Oh, yes, I saw it."

"Well, then, don't waste any breath sympathizing with that lad. He knows his onions, also the rest of the salad. But he's a good egg, and after awhile, when he gets over his peeve, I'll make it up to him. Just now, he's only one idea in his head, and that is to show me that I'm not the only rose in the Colonial bouquet, that I'm not even the frilled paper around it. So I'm going to let him dream along that line for awhile. It'll keep him busy, and I'll have more time to find out which way the wheels are revolving inside Mr. George Logan Jackson's head. He sure puzzles me, that lad."

TEN HERBS GAVE AMAZING RESULTS

Mt. Lebanon Lady Now Knows Joys of Living, After Years of Misery.

"The results I got from Ten Herbs were nothing sort of amazing," was the statement of Mrs. Margaret Moorehead Belka, 373 Atlanta Drive, Mt. Lebanon, Pa., (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine. "I now know the joys of living, after several years of misery," Mrs. Belka continued.

"My trouble began in my stomach. I ate only a few mouthfuls of food at a time, but even that amount caused a burning sensation from the pit of my stomach to my throat. Coming at a critical period of my life, the shock of losing one brother and two sisters within eight days, worked havoc with my nervous system. I was almost a nervous wreck. I had rheumatism so badly that I could not use my hands or feet, and was confined to bed four weeks, helpless as a baby. I was unable to turn over without assistance. At times I had terrible heart palpitation, and my complexion was sallow.

"Realizing that I was going from bad to worse, I decided to try Ten Herbs, and now I must tell the wonderful results that followed. My nerves have become quiet, and I get a good night's rest. My bowels have become regular, and my stomach is so much better that I can eat anything that I relish without having gas, misery, or bloating. Rheumatism in my hands and feet is almost gone. My liver and kidneys are working fine. I do not have to arise at night like I used to, and heart palpitation is a thing of the past. The biliousness, dizzy spells and burning sensation in my throat have left me, and naturally my complexion has cleared. I can assure anyone that if they will give Ten Herbs a chance it will cleanse, purify and invigorate their entire system. Ten Herbs certainly did wonders for me, and I am glad to recommend it."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Old English Wax for FLOORS

Floors Always Look NEW Wear is on Wax Polish!

Whether your floors are old or new, wood, linoleum, varnished, shellacked, painted, or waxed—all can quickly be given this needed protection against scratches, heel-marks, children's carelessness and dirt.

And so easily! Just apply a thin coat of Old English Wax. Allow a few minutes for drying, then polish by hand or with an Old English Improved Electric Polisher (you can rent this new wonderful machine from your dealer for $2.00 a day).

Then you will have beautiful waxed floors that stay beautiful. Never again the need of a complete refinishing! The wear is on the wax, not on the floor. An occasional waxing will keep it beautiful.

Old English Wax contains such a high percentage of hard, high-grade Carnauba wax (imported) that the wax goes farther, and the polish lasts longer. It costs no more than ordinary floor wax. That's why it is preferred by hundreds of thousands of thrifty housewives—whose mothers and grandmothers also used it.

A one-pound can covers 300 square feet—or about two ordinary sized rooms. You can also buy it in two, four and eight-pound cans at quite a saving over the smaller sizes.

On sale at paint, hardware, drug, housefurnishing and department stores.

"Joy of Living"

"Boys will be boys"—happy boys—only when they're healthy boys. And who wouldn't be both happy and healthy after breakfasts of Heinz Rice Flakes—the crispy, crunchy, new cereal food with a flavor like toasty nutmeats!

Those are breakfasts that start folks off right... And that keep them "right".

For, by a special Heinz process, Heinz Rice Flakes are naturally "laxatized" by the use of the natural roughage of the rice itself. This process was developed by Heinz. It is owned exclusively by Heinz. In no other cereal food can you get the precise laxative qualities of Heinz Rice Flakes. So gentle. So natural!

Grown-ups as well as youngsters like Heinz Rice Flakes for they add to the "Joy of Living" and the fun of good health.

TASTE GOOD—DO GOOD

400-FOOT ROAD NEXT STEP ACE SAYS

Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, noted war ace and now head of La Salle motor car sales, at a dinner at the Fort Pitt Hotel last night, made astounding perdictions as to transportation development during the next few years. The dinner was given by the McAlister Brothers, Cadillac-La Salle distributors, for their Western Pennsylvania dealers.

"Not later than 1950," Capt. Rickenbakeer said, "the automobile industry will have a clientele of 50,000,000 automobiles, and I make that prophecy not on dreams but on what I have gone through in the last 26 years in my actual experience with transportation of all makes and descriptions.

"You are going to have superhighways crossing this whole nation—highways not 100-feet wide, but 400-feet wide. You will have one-way traffic, or four-way traffic. You are going to have a speed on those highways of 75, 80 and 85 miles an hour, and you will do it with less trouble and a great deal more safety than you can now at 50 or 55 miles an hour.

"Now we have another great industry coming, and it isn't 25 years away, when the aircraft industry will be one of the biggest industries in the world. In five years' time Los Angeles will only be 15 or 20 hours from New York City. It is thirty hours today.

"Air transportation is going to increase you radius from 25 miles to 100, and because of the better methods and means of transportation, you are automatically going to have a greater earning power, individually and collectively. You are going to have not only one, two, three and four cars, but a half a dozen automobiles to every family." P. T. Allen, district Cadillac representative, W. J. and R. P. McAlister of McAlister Brothers, also spoke. Capt. Rickenbacker spoke before the microphone of KDKA before the dinner.

"Monongahela" Drops "City;" 5th Change

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 10.—Monongahela City is now just "Monongahela."

A decree in Washington County Common Pleas Court here to that effect has been recorded with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the authorities of Monongahela City.

It was the fifth time in the history of the city that the name has been changed.

As a pioneer settlement at the time of the Revolutionary War, it was Devore's Ferry.

In 1782 it was changed to Parkinson's Landing and the first postoffice there bore that name.

In 1833, it became known as Williamsport and retained that title until 1837 when it became known as Monongahela City.

Amazing what this simple change in diet can accomplish!

Make the personal health test and prove it!

THIS health test isn't for sick people. It is for people who, like yourself, are outwardly well. People who are carrying on their daily work, yet who, for some strange reason, have lost some of the joy in living that should be theirs. Some of them don't sleep as they should. Some are irritable and depressed when they should be happy. Some suffer from headaches and indigestion.

Make this simple change in diet: Give up caffein—let Postum be your mealtime drink for thirty days! Then measure your physical gains! See how soundly you sleep! See how refreshed and alert you are in the morning! No more restless nights, no more draggy, headachy days! You'll feel worlds better!

A delicious drink, too!

You'll lose nothing in mealtime enjoyment by changing to Postum. Instead, you'll find it a hot, hearty drink with a rich, distinctive flavor—a flavor millions prefer to that of any other drink.

Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, prepared by boiling. Both are the same delightful drink—made of roasted whole wheat and bran. No trace of any artificial stimulant in them! Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks. Order today—start the 30-day test!

Rangers Get New Goalie

MONTREAL, April 10.—(AP.)—The New York Rangers will enter the third game of the hockey world's series here tonight with Joe Miller, hastily recruited from the minor leagues, guarding their nets against the flashing attacks of Montreal's rugged Maroons.

With the approval of Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, the Rangers yesterday engaged Miller, goalkeeper for the Niagria Falls, Ont., hockey team to replace Lorne Chabot, regular goalie, who was badly hurt in the second game of the series Saturday night.

With the series deadlocked at one victory apiece and a world's championship at stake, Chabot's injury has dealt what may prove to be a death blow to Ranger hopes of becoming the second American team to win the Stanley Cup.

Miller is no Chabot at the nets. He started the 1927-28 season with the New York Americans, but was traded later to Niagara Falls for Vernon (Jakie) Forbes.

Throughout the first game of the series Chabot was a bulwark on the defense and it was only his brilliant play that kept the Maroons from running up an overwhelming score. He was playing just as sensational a game in the second contest when he was struck over the eye by the flying puck. For a time it was feared he would lose the sight of his one eye, but physicians have stated he was improving rapidly and could see almost as well out of the injured optic as the other.

MILLERS WIN TITLE

DULUTH, MINN., April 10.—(AP.)—Minneapolis won the American Hockey Association championship by holding Duluth to a 1-1 tie in the fifth game of the final play-off series last night. The Millers took the title by making a total of two goals in the series, compared with Duluth's one.

Duluth took the lead after three minutes of play when Williams worked his way through for a beautiful solo. The Minneapolis score came after three minutes and was made by Anderson. It was a long high shot from center ice and caught goalie Turner napping.

George Gans of New Kensington will represent the Ray River Club of Tarentum in the 147-pound class. Joe Mazur of Brackenridge will be another Ray River entry.

JOIE RAY ACCEPTS PLAYGROUND POST

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP.)—Joie Ray, once America's premier mile runner, is going to tell his running secrets to the boys of Chicago. He has been engaged by the South Parks commission to visit playgrounds.

Congress Rolling Begins

WITH James F. Malone, president of City Council, making the address of welcome, the American Duckpin Congress first national tournament got under way last night on the Haus alleys, North Side, with a wave of enthusiasm and some good scores.

The competition will continue throughout this week and all of next week.

The Kerotest five-men team rolled the high score of the opening competition in the team event, with a total score of 2028. It is a mark that hardly will withstand the ravages of the other pin-toppling during the course of the tournament. Wagner, with a high single game of 168, led his team's scoring.

The Consolidated Paper Co. five rolled into second place with a 1975 score. Third place went to the Hilty No. 2 team, with a 1941, and fourth place is being held by the Edward A. Woods Co. team with 1934.

The Boggs and Buhl five with 1908, the Pittsburgh Detective Bureau with 1856, the Pittsburgh Hero Furnace Co. five with 1805 and the Hiland team with 1619 brought up the rear.

Steele of the Edward A. Woods team was high for single competition with a 189 score.

Tonight at 6 o'clock rolling will start in the doubles with 10 pairs slated to take the alleys. Singles rolling will begin at 6:45 and continue up until 9 o'clock, when more five-men teams will roll.

MARKET SQUARE TOURNEY

Some fine scores were hung up in the Market Square bowling tournament for the pinmen to attack today. Last night the Herman Clothes Shop went into first place in the five-men event with a score of 2465. The Casino team of Wilkinsburg rolled a 2312 score to place fairly high.

In the doubles, Coggins and Miller rolled a 1174 total, a mark that will be hard to beat.

Andy Reund rolled a 604 in the singles.

Leading scores follow:

AMERICA is now a two-car country

TODAY the American family is discovering that a second or third car is not only a convenience but an economy.

The schedule of the modern mother and her children is filled full. Days are rich in opportunity. In removing the barriers of distance, in enlarging the area of social contacts, in making it easy to meet the manifold engagements of the busy days, the family car does duty fully as important as the car which drives off in the morning to the office or the shop.

There are two ways to enjoy two-car ownership. Either buy a used car from a General Motors dealer or keep your present car, instead of trading it in, when you buy your new General Motors car.

Whichever plan you follow, you will be sure of satisfaction if you buy from a dealer handling Cadillac, LaSalle, Buick, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Pontiac or Chevrolet. These are General Motors dealers, selected for character, stability and service. Buy from them with confidence; and simplify your purchase, if you choose, through the convenient payments of the GMAC Plan.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Fred Clarke.

LOOKING down the backward trail on the eve of the beginning of another pennant race, comparing Pittsburgh's record in the pennant races of the bygone with those of other cities in the major league, and noting that the Pirates are again being picked to win the National League flag in the season that will open tomorrow, fans of this district must realize that they have been a great deal more fortunate than the rooters of other cities in the quality of baseball that has been given to them.

That's one thing that no one can find fault with in the manner in which the local club has been handled and operated since Barney Dreyfuss took charge of it way back in 1900. For during that time he has given them winning teams and high-class baseball with such consistency that the New York National League club is the only one in either big circuit that can compare with the Pirates.

BEFORE Barney Dreyfuss acquired control of the outfit here and put Fred Clarke in charge of it 28 years ago, the Pittsburgh club had finished in the second division 13 times in its 14 years of membership in the National League, the only exception being 1893.

Earl Combs.

After Clarke took hold he finished in the first division 14 consecutive times and landed in the second flight only twice, this happening in his last two years here, 1914 and 1915. During this 16-year period he also won four pennants and one world championship.

Since Clarke's departure the team has wound up in the second division only twice and has landed among the first four 10 times.

In the 28 seasons that have elapsed under the present ownership, therefore, or since 1900, Pittsburgh has had a first-division club 24 times and has finished in the second division only four times. It has won six pennants and has finished in last place only once.

WITH another possible flag winner, or at least a certain contender, representing the city this year, it will be seen that the baseball standards which Pittsburgh has set for the remainder of the country are as high as those she has set in all other lines, and that the fans hereabouts have every reason to feel satisfied with the kind of diamond sport they have been getting.

To appreciate the progressive policy of the local club owners you need only recall how some other cities have fared in the same period during which Pittsburgh was finishing in the first division 24 times in 28 pennant races, and landing at the bottom only once.

THE Philadelphia Nationals have finished at the tail end six times in the last nine years; the Philadelphia Americans wound up at the bottom seven times in succession; St. Louis was a joke in the National

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—The New York State Athletic Commission today announced it would approve the Gene Tunney-Tom Heeney heavyweight title match as soon as the contracts of the two fighters had been placed before it by Tex Rickard.

IZZY SCHWARTZ BATTERS PARRA, CHILEAN HOPE

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Corporal Izzy Schwartz, recognized in New York as the flyweight champion of the world, hammered Routier Parra, Chilean title holder into gory defeat last night in a 15-round title defense before 4,500 fans at St. Nicholas arena. Parra scaled 105 and Schwartz 111, a pound under the class limit.

Schwartz slashed and tore at the game little South American with every punch known to the game. Though he won every round, made a bloody mark of welts of Parra's features, and had the Chilean wobbly in a half dozen sessions, Schwartz could not floor the challenger.

BABE RUTH, BASEBALL'S RULER, AND TYPICAL GATHERING OF HIS SUBJECTS

The figure of the champion home run hitter (he broke his record of 59 by one clout last year) bulks large on the eve of the opening of a new major league baseball season. The Babe has trained well this spring and confidently expects to demolish even his present mark in the swatting line. As was the case last year, his teammate on the Champion New York Yankees, Lou Gehrig, figures to give him his liveliest competition.

CARDINALS FOLLOW WITH DRILL

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—Putting on the finishing licks relative to the opener tomorrow, four Pirate pitchers went through a course of sprouts at noon today at Sportsman's Park.

Under the direction of Coach Jewel Ens and Scout Chick Fraser, Remy Kremer, Burleigh Grimes, John Miljus and Erwin Brame took up the greater part of an hour in limbering-up stunts. The sun was out to encourage the athletes.

Manager Bill McKechnie, of the Cardinals, with many others, including Coach Jack Onslow, were at the park to greet the early Pirates. Skipper Bill planned to run his entire team through a long session this afternoon. The Redbirds reached St. Louis several days ago to take part in the perennial spring series with the Browns.

CARDS IN SHAPE

McKechnie's squad for the most part is in excellent shape. Ray Blades is suffering with a bad leg and may not get in the opening day lineup. McKechnie, however, said he would not be sure of Blades' condition until after the workout today.

Rabbit Maranville, in prime condition outside of a bruise sustained when hit by a batted ball, is a popular member of the St. Louis club. Rabbit would get into action in a hurry if anything should happen to Tommy Thevenow, crack shortstop, who is reported recovered from the broken leg which kept him out of action most of last season. Grover Alexander is another veteran in splendid condition.

The Pirates put on the ol' medicine show with many sidelights yes-

HICKEY LEAGUE SEASON OPENS

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP.)—Shorn of its outstanding young stars of a year ago but ranks replete with major league veterans, the American Association opened its 1928 season today. The scheduled games:

Milwaukee at Columbus, Kansas City at Toledo, St. Paul at Louisville, and Minneapolis at Indianapolis.

Four teams stood out in the opinions of the "experts" as the leading contenders for the championship. They were Milwaukee, St. Paul, Indianapolis and Toledo, the 1927 pennant winner. But the presence of so many veterans convinced many that it was a toss-up.

Milwaukee has almost a new team this year, having lost Pitchers Ossie Orwoll and "Bubber" Jonnard, Dennis Gearin, Paul Johnson, Roy Elsh, Lloyd Flippin and Harry Riconda. In their places the club has recruited some bustling youngsters and one or two major league vets. It is from Manager Lelivelt, who took the Brewers from the second division to a fighting first division club, that the Milwaukee fans look for big things.

CLINTON, Okla., April 10.—C. C. Pyle's 82 New York-bound heel and toe artists today moved out of Sayre for their thirty-eighth control, 51 miles eastward. The warm Oklahoma sun and wide, sandy roads are a boon to the bunion derbyists after a trying week-end in Texas in the throes of a blizzard that caused many of the stragglers of the race to fall by the wayside.

Andrew Payne, Oklahoma youth, headed the caravan out of Sayre with an elapsed time of 226:33:07 for the 1,335.6 miles from Los Angeles.

Johnstown Holds Up Action On Travia Waner

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 10.—(AP.)—No action has been taken by the management of the Johnstown club of the Middle-Atlantic League on the reply of Travia Waner, cousin of Paul and Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who has forwarded to the local club the terms under which he will sign a Johnnie contract. President Meehan of the Johnstown team said he had not acted on the matter because of the absence of his club manager and secretary.

May Start Games Earlier

THERE is a chance that all Pirate single games at Forbes Field this year will be started at 3 o'clock instead of at 3:30, as in the past.

Questioned about a movement to start the games earlier, emanating in the East, President Heydler, of the National League, here today, said this was a matter strictly up to the local club in each city.

Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pirates, quizzed before leaving for St. Louis for the opener tomorrow, said he would not oppose a 3 o'clock starting time if the fans preferred it. A test may be made, and, if the fans approve, 3 o'clock may become the regular starting time for single games, as is the case in Chicago.

HEYDLER, IN CITY, SEES HOT RACE

By HARRY KECK,
Sun-Telegraph Sports Editor.

"THE most interesting season in years is ahead for the National League. Not in a long time have there been so many new elements entering into a pennant race in the major leagues as we have before us now. No one can tell what will happen. It will be a true test of the best. The team with the best staying qualities, pitching strength and good managerial direction will win."

Those were the words of John A. Heydler, president of the National League, today, as he spoke during a brief stopover in Pittsburgh on his way to St. Louis to attend the opening game between the Pirates and Cardinals tomorrow. While here he visited some friends and called at Forbes Field. He left on an afternoon train for St. Louis, promising to return for Pittsburgh's opener Thursday of next week, provided there is no postponement of the Chicago-Cincinnati game at the new Wrigley Field, Chicago, the day before.

PIRATES BEST BET

"Most of the experts in the East are picking the Pirates to win again," Heydler said, "but they are not overlooking the strength of the Cardinals, Giants and other clubs and the possibilities of even the lesser considered ones. The Giants are playing bang-up ball and Andy Cohen is going fine at second base. McGraw has the old spirit in his men again and they will be a hard club to beat.

"Boston looks good with Hornsby and Bell in the infield and

"Ready," Pilots Chorus

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Not a manager in major league baseball is downhearted. As the season opens they all declare that they feel great and have the utmost confidence in their players. Some of them may be whistling to keep their courage up as they pass the graveyard, but they are whistling.

Not even a disastrous series of defeats by both major and minor league teams in the South has caused Miller Huggins to repudiate his world champion Yankees. "We have the team," is Hug's boast.

Owen Bush, leader of the Pittsburg Pirates, National League champions, has forgotten the world series, and sees improvement. "Adams has made our infield and we have plenty of pitchers," states his case.

Connie Mack does not claim a pennant for his Athletics, but he expects them to make their presence felt earlier in the race. "Last year we were slow starting. We should do better this season," he hopes.

Bill McKechnie is watching his old team, the Pittsburgh Pirates, from the bench of the St. Louis Cardinals. "We must turn back the Pirates to win, and I feel we have the team to turn the trick."

SANDLOT BASEBALL

by TOM BIRKS

NOW that it is evident that the president of the Allegheny County League is not going to show any favors to either of the umpire associations in the assigning of umpires in the league games, a peculiar situation is going to arise. This decision of the league president is absolutely right, but what stand will the Pittsburgh Umpires' Association take? Its by-laws state that none of its members can work with umpires that do not belong to the organization.

It is impossible for the association to change this rule until the annual general meeting has been held. Will it change it then? The new West Penn Association has no by-laws as yet, and as far as it is known the rule does not affect its members.

NEWS coming out of the Oakland and Greenfield and Hazelwood districts seems to give the impression that with Jimmy Smith backing the club and Johnny Burke connected with the managerial end of the club, a real first-class outfit will sport itself at Horp Playgrounds.

The new playground is a boon to Pat O'Shea and the Cathedral Chapel club, as it has outgrown the Sullivan lot at Frazier street. The new playgrounds are in a desirable location and will draw its patronage from the districts named.

THE club will not have Regis Leheny this season since the Buccaneer star went down to Salisbury. However, with Cruickshank and all of the other boys still on deck the pitching end of the club should go good in the better class ball. Cathedral Chapel is one of the most colorful clubs playing in the tri-state district, and if Smith goes into the venture deep the club should prove just as good a drawing card as the Homestead Grays.

Just what the name of the new club will be has not been decided as yet, but there is a chance that it might take the name of its backer.

THE box score of the game staged by the Grays indicates that nothing of last season's strength has been lost with the passing of five of the club's members. Beckwith, of whom much is expected, kicked in with three hits, and the pitching end looks good, as the McConkeys failed to get a run.

Yes, it is just possible that the Posey aggregation for 1928 will fill all the desires of the supporters.

HEYDLER

Brooklyn has a great pitching staff and is bolstered by the addition of Dave Bancroft at second base. Dazzy Vance looks better than ever at this time of the year and I never saw Max Carey hit a ball as far as he did in making his home run last Sunday.

CLUBS STRENGTHENED

"Pittsburgh has its weak spot of last year—second base—plugged, with the addition of Sparky Adams, and also has Pitcher Burleigh Grimes, and Kiki Cuyler has put a lot of punch in the Cubs. The Reds are starting with Critz and Kelly, a strong combination that was missing when the bell rang last spring. Thevenow is back with the Cards and his work following his injury of last year will be watched with a great deal of interest. The Phillies are under new management with Bert Shotton at the helm and their followers expect considerable improvement. All in all, as I said before, it looks like the most interesting race imaginable, what with the many important changes that have been made in personnel since the close of the 1927 season."

terday at Jackson, Tenn., where the Regulars beat the Yanigans, 9-2.

The appreciative fans of the Tennessee town were anxious to see the big leaguers, but the weather was the football variety and there was not much system to anything at the ball orchard, including the game itself.

Dr. William Marks of Carnegie Tech, was ringmaster for the one-day stand. Doc had to double in brass for the first time this year on account of lack of conveniences. The popular assistant to Wally Steffen was on the "gate" in the interest of the Pirates, but he kept one eye on the field and before the game was over he had to rush to first base to give first aid to George Grantham, who was struck in the leg with a ball.

The grandstand of the ball club apparently has not been given much attention since the town was a member of the Kitty League. There was fear that it might cave in while the big show was in progress.

Late in the evening Remy Kremer and John Miljus, inseparable roomies, put on a skit that was just as good as the Water act.

Accustomed to the sunny breezes of California, Kremer and Miljus shivered all day and when night came on they became colder. The train to St. Louis was not scheduled to depart until almost 10 o'clock.

KREMER-MILJUS SLEEP

More than an hour before this time the warm-weather pair jumped into a taxicab and went to the station. In the middle of the waiting room was an old-fashioned stove that was red with the heat it was throwing.

Remy and John went into a huddle on a station seat, and, in a few minutes, with their heads together, they were soon in the land of dreams. Ten minutes before train time the rest of the party came to the station and the sight that greeted the players was singular.

Kremer and Miljus at this time resembled a pair of hard working foreigners on their way back to the old country. The other Pirates drew close and began to sing, but this had no effect on the tired Californians. It required some time to [illegible]

By JESS CARVER.

CARNEGIE TECH'S loyal sons will strike the first gesture of what they fondly expect to be a brilliant year in football by inaugurating the 1928 spring football campaign with a workout in the Tartan Bowl this afternoon.

Howard Harpster.

Sunday the boys were gathered together in the field house, where Advisory Coach Walter J. Steffen of Chicago gave 'em one of his typically peppy addresses. The "Jedge" made a flying visit here for the day and evening, conferred lengthily with Coach Robert Waddell and his assistants, Al Irwin and Paul Allison, and with Howard Harpster, captain of the Skibo forces.

The Tartans will have about 50 candidates on hand for the varsity this spring and next fall. To a strong nucleus of last year's left-over veterans will be added a flock of promising sophomore's from last fall's undefeated freshman eleven, led by men of the calibre of Netherland, Karcis, Hilty, Rosenweig, Eyth and Schupp. Besides, Herbst, star of the 1926 frosh team, who was unable to compete here for a varsity berth in 1927 because of illness, will make a bid for a varsity berth.

Coach Waddell will pay particular attention to the line in the drills to come. Four positions must be filled on the Tartan forward wall, one more than must be taken care of by Coach Sutherland over at Pitt. Cowan's and Anderson's guard positions, Cooper's tackle post and John English's wing berth are open. In the backfield, Wertenberger will be missed, though with Letzelter, Harpster and either Moorehead, Kennedy or the admirable Pete Stauffer on hand for the remaining positions, the task of rebuilding will not be so terrifically difficult.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

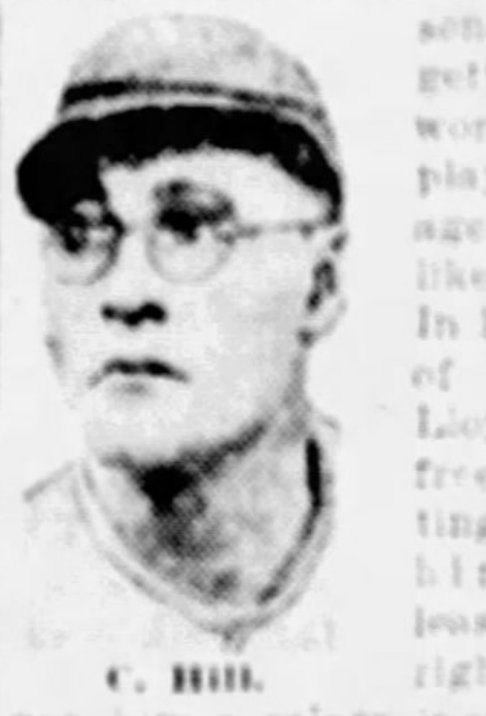
for nearly two decades, Boston has been in the second division of the National 11 seasons in succession. Brooklyn has had a first-division club only four times in 25 years. Chicago has landed in the second division 11 times in the last 23 years.

American League in addition to the Athletics similarly have had their ups and downs and long spells of gloom. The only club that has kept pace with Pittsburgh is the New York Nationals. In 26 years since John McGraw took charge the team has finished eighth twice and fifth once, and in all other years has been among the first four.

IF there is any club in the minor leagues that has lost more heavily than San Francisco, in a financial sense through not getting the full worth of its young players, the average fan would like to hear of. In 1926 the owners of the Seals let Lloyd Waner go free without getting a penny for him. They released him outright rather than pay him a salary increase they had promised. The result was that Pittsburgh picked him up, sent him to Columbia for some polish and last year he was the sensation of the big leagues.



C. Hill.

Now it appears that the San Francisco magnates made another blunder in not selling Frank O'Doul last fall, or in not pulling him one of those fake or cover-up sales to save him from the draft.

The Giants grabbed Lefty at the draft price of $7,500 at the meeting held in Pittsburgh last October and he has shown such sensational form this spring that every one connected with the Giants from McGraw down is declaring that he is the best new player of the year.

San Francisco could have obtained many thousands of dollars for him in a sale, but its present grief is shared by other major league clubs which did not pick O'Doul first the draft meeting when they had a chance to do so ahead of the Giants, having finished lower than New York in the pennant races. Three other National League clubs had him second on their lists, desiring to select other players first, and five American League clubs had him first or second on their lists.

PITTSBURGHERS who discovered during the last world series that the Yankees had in Center Fielder Earl Combs a ball player of unsung greatness, find their view borne out by Miller Huggins, who pays the following rare tribute to the athlete:

"I have been in baseball 30 years and have yet to see a player of more value to his club than Combs. I am speaking of outfielders, you understand. By this I don't mean to infer that Combs is more valuable than Ruth. The Babe defies classification. He is valuable as an institution, as a phenomenon, a gate attraction, a sports idol with color and personality, a prodigious record maker.

"But Combs is the quieter sort. He is a ball player's player. He has everything that a manager demands or longs for in a player—a perfect disposition, perfect behavior, great talent, great hustle—a consistent hitter, a great scorer of runs, a marvelous lead-off man, a dashing fielder, and an increasingly good thrower. A gentleman and an athlete, the like of whom you seldom find in the game."

IF THE spinal ailment of Carmen Hill is of the same nature as the one that bothered him last spring, Pirate followers see no cause for alarm. It will be remembered that Hill lost his first three games last year and then, after being treated by the same specialist whom he consulted the other day, he turned around and won eight games in a row. He lost his next game, but followed up with another string of seven straight, making 15 games won out of 16 pitched in succession.

PAULINO UZCUDUN, Basque heavyweight, has sailed for a visit to his home in Spain, carrying with him about $100,000, according to his own statement, after spending 15 months in America and taking part in a dozen fights.

Paulino Uzcudun.

He would have carried away a great deal more but for the fact that he had a whole swarm of managers, each of whom had to be given his cut. Even at that, $100,000 for 15 months is a pretty nice pick-up for a man who only a few years ago was a barefooted woodchopper in the Pyrenees. And it means a great deal more in Spain than it does in the United States.

Paulino is living in the wrong fistic age. In the days of finish fights he would have made trouble for all of them.

WINS WORLD TITLE

MILWAUKEE, April 10.—(AP.)—The unofficial world's match bowling championship changed hands here when Charlie Daw, recognized as the titleholder the last two years, was beaten by Adolph Carlson of Chicago in a 60-game series. Carlson's margin was 34 pins.

HOPPE DEFEATED

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP.)—Another upset has deadlocked the leadership in the national three-cushion billiard tournament.

The upset came last night when Willie Hoppe of New York lost his first match in five starts to 26-year-old Earl Lookabaugh of Chicago, 50 to 39, in 53 innings. The defeat placed him into a tie for first with John Layton of St. Louis.

Converting Hoppe's numerous safety shots into points and playing a spectacular game, Lookabaugh led all the way. He is considered out of the championship however, as he has lost three of the six matches he has played.

Gus Copulos of Detroit advanced to third place last night by defeating Allen Hall of St. Louis, 50 to 45, in 61 innings. The defeat shoved Hall from a tie for third place to a tie with the defending champion, Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, for fourth position.

Hoppe's defeat raised the hopes of Reiselt to defend successfully his title. With two defeats and three victories, he will play Hall in the feature match tonight.

Other pairings for today: Charles Weston, Pittsburgh, vs. Art Thurnblad, Chicago; Copulos vs. Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago, and Lookabaugh vs. Len Kenney, Chicago.

MARATHON

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, was second, 1 hour 24 minutes 43 seconds behind. John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finn, retained a tenacious hold on third place, with Philip Granville, Jamaica Negro, of Hamilton, Ontario, fourth. Olli Wanttinen, diminutive New Yorker, occupied fifth place.

Earl Dilks, of New Castle, Pa., negotiated yesterday's lap in 9:50:29. Dilks is now thirty-fourth in the race, with an elapsed time from Los Angeles of 327:00:48.

Increasing interest in the trans-continental race is evidenced with each passing day. At Erick, a town of 2,000, through which the field of runners and walkers passed yesterday morning, several times that number lined the streets. Local financiers lost no time in printing streamers, "Welcome Andy," a tribute to young Payne, which were readily purchased by his zealous supporters.

Athletes were given notice at starting time this morning that after reaching Tulsa next Monday all athletes would be required to reach each nightly control or thus be automatically disqualified.

PITTSBURGH STEEL A. A. BANQUET TONIGHT

High officials of the company are to attend the fourth annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Steel Company Athletic Association, to be held at the P. A. A. at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The event is to mark the close of the company's league bowling season, and the awarding of prizes to the winners in league competition will be a feature of the elaborate entertainment program. Homer D. Williams, president of the company; W. C. Heitz, treasurer, and Harry J. Miller, secretary, are to be honor guests. W. Steytler is to preside as toastmaster, and C. O. Johnston is chairman of the banquet committee.

THREE FAVORITES WIN AT PINEHURST

PINEHURST, N. C., April 10.—(INS.)—Easily surviving the first rounds of the North and South tennis tournament, George Lott, Jr., of Chicago; John Doeg, Stanford University, and Frank X. Shields, national junior champion, were favorites to advance further today. Lott entered the North and South tourney after winning the singles title in the Western North Carolina tournament at Asheville last week.

PLAN JONES BENEFIT

A benefit party for Alex Jones, former Pirate hurler who has been in ill health for many years, is to be held at Turner Hall, Homestead, on the evening of Friday, April 20, by sportsmen and Elks of the Homestead district. Sports events and dancing are to feature the entertainment program. Hans Wagner, Deacon Phillippe, Jimmy Smith, Thayer Torreyson, John J. Cavanaugh, Walter Adams, William Callahan, Jimmy Beech and many others are to help make the event a success.

STEADY TONE NOTED ON LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—The bond market was quiet and steady today, with the volume of trading rather small.

Buying appeared again to center around the New York Traction bonds. Manhattan Railway convertible 4s moved to a new peak at 73¼. Only the Interborough Rapid Transit refunding 5s were offered in early trading. New York Railways 6s made a small gain.

Some demand appeared for St. Paul 5s of 2000 and for Seaboard Air Line 6s, with resulting small advances in price, but other rails were inactive.

Andes Copper Mining 7s were stronger, but Anaconda Copper 7s showed little change. There was some buying of Consolidated Coal 5s, Kayser & Co. 5½s, Fisk Rubber 8s, which gained a full point, and Skelly Oil debenture 5½s. United States Steel 5s, Sinclair Consolidated 5s and Loew's 6s were inclined toward softness. Columbia Gas and Electric 5s sagged. Other utilities showed little activity.

Milan City 6½s, moving to a new top at 94⅞, led the advance in the foreign group. Kingdom of Norway 5½s and Brisbane City 5s also improved.

Announcement was made that $6,250,000 first mortgage 5¼ bonds of the National Press Building, Washington, D. C., will be offered to the public on Wednesday. Negotiations are under way with banks for $50,000,000 financing by Cities Service Company through offering of debenture 5s, proceeds to be used for refunding purposes.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Catherine Sandman

Mrs. Catherine Sandman, 68, widow of August Sandman, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Donald Ferguson of Allison Park. She had resided in Hampton township since 1895. She leaves four sons, Joseph Sandman of Rochester, Pa.; William Sandman of New Castle, Pa.; Charles Sandman of Blawnox and George Sandman of Clinton, Pa.; three daughters, Mrs. Harry Miley of Wildwood, Miss Alive Sandman of Blawnox and Mrs. Ferguson, and two sisters, Miss Sarah McLaughlin of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Margaret Brady of Chicago.

Edward D. Fuller

Edward D. Fuller, 63, choir conductor of the First English Lutheran Church, Grant street, died Sunday at his home, Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg. He had been an instructor of music in schools in Allegheny, Westmoreland and Fayette counties. Mr. Fuller also was a soloist at the First Presbyterian Church for many years. He was a member of the Mozart and Apollo clubs of Pittsburgh. He leaves two sisters, Lillian and Ella Fuller.

Mrs. Joan Johnston

Mrs. Joan Johnston, 87, wife of the late Capt. O. D. Johnston, died yesterday at the home of her son-in-law, Councilman J. O. Snyder of Eleventh avenue, Munhall. Mrs. Johnston was born in Bellevernon. For many years she lived in Pittsburgh and was a charter member of Central Christian Church. She leaves four daughters.

SCORE STOCKS REACH PEAK PRICES

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Reactionary price movements predominated in today's stock market, although pools succeeded in lifting more than a score issues to new high records. Trading was not as broad nor as active as it was yesterday, although sales crossed the 2,000,000-share mark again before the end of the third hour.

Further calling of about $25,000,000 in bank loans, and the higher renewal rate for call loans led to extensive profit-taking in several of the recent speculative favorites, and also some short selling. The decrease of 62,983 tons in the March unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation was about in line with expectations, and the stock held fairly steady around 147.

United States Cast Iron Pipe, which soared 45 points yesterday and lost all but 18 points of its gain, fell back nearly 9 points on realizing in the noon selling movement. Wright Aeronautical broke 5⅛ points and Radio, Houston Oil, Anaconda, Greene Cananea Copper and American Linseed, other recent speculative favorites, sold down 3 points or more.

Steady accumulation was noted, however, in several low priced and non-dividend paying issues in which special developments are believed to be pending. American Zinc common and preferred, American Metals, Graham-Paige, Third Avenue Railway, American Druggist Syndicate, Mexican Seaboard and Davison Chemical were among the outstanding strong spots.

Rails yielded with the industrials, Pittsburgh and West Virginia broke from an early high of 156 to 150, or 3 points below last night's close, and Chesapeake and Ohio, Union Pacific, Reading, Louisville and Nashville and Western Maryland common sold off 2 points or more.

THE PRODUCE MARKET

The movement of fruit and vegetables at the local wholesale produce district was fairly good today. All vegetables were sold at about unchanged quotations. The fruit market was firm. California oranges were somewhat higher. The prices on all other fruit were about unchanged.

Poultry supplies were liberal and the demand was good. The market was steady. Leghorn and 1928 colored broilers were a little weaker.

The egg market was firm at the quotations listed. Cheese and butter were steady. No change was made in the quotations on these markets.

Carlot supplies were fairly liberal, a total of 569 cars being on track. Arrivals included 9 cars of apples, 1 asparagus, 10 cabbage, 2 cauliflower, 4 celery, 10 lettuce, 7 onions, 15 oranges, 1 peas, 2 peppers, 27 potatoes, 4 spinach, 3 sweet potatoes and 4 tomatoes.

SZUHODOLINSKY WANTS NAME CHANGED TO HOLAN

Andrew Joseph Szuhodolinsky, of Duquesne, petitioned Common Pleas Court to change his last name to Holan.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Tonnage Decrease Small.

The decrease of 62,983 tons in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation between February 29 and March 31 was considerably less than the financial district had anticipated, but the more favorable figures failed to stimulate a buying movement in the rather draggy market prevailing at the noon hour when the report was issued. Trading throughout the market was on a heavy scale, with price trend slightly downward. The tape was 30 minutes behind the actual sales on the floor and the usual confusion accompanying such conditions was evident. The trading community was extremely nervous as a result of the 5½ per cent opening on call money, the highest rate of the year. Another factor creating mild apprehension was steady selling of Mack Truck, which broke to a new low for recent trading. Still another was the attitude of some market commentators who pointed out the old-time stock market idea that a group advance in the copper stocks was usually the sign that bull markets were approaching their finish. The evident purpose of these observers was to convey the impression that an end of the current upward movement would not necessarily mean an inauguration of a long decline, but would, rather, result in a more or less drastic readjustment of the general price structure, which many of them consider to be weak from a technical standpoint. The technical weakness in this case would be over-extended lines of long stock in the accounts of traders not financially prepared to withstand a severe reaction in general prices.

Call Money at 6 Per Cent.

Call money went to 6 per cent early in the afternoon, a new high for the year. It was said that more than $50,000,000 was withdrawn from the official market, making $65,000,000 called in two days, and there was a big demand for accommodation in the "outside" market. The raise in the money rate forced the entire market lower, offsetting any favorable influence that might have resulted from the steel tonnage report. Selling was concentrated against General Motors, Radio and Wright Aeroplane, all of which suffered sharp reactions.

Accumulating Oil Stocks.

A feature of the security trading markets is the increased demand for many oil stocks, reflecting the influence of the control which is now exercised in that industry. Vacuum Oil, which had failed to respond to the expected stock dividend of 100 per cent, is now in scant supply and made a new high record in the past few days' trading, and some of the Mexican stocks, notably Penn-Mex, are also being taken in large volume at advances.

Record Steel Ingot Output.

Steel ingot production during the first quarter broke all records for that period, increasing 1.28 per cent compared with the corresponding months of 1926, the previous high quarter, the American Iron and Steel Institute announced. March output was 4,507,520 gross tons, a gain of 12.2 per cent over February output, and the first time in history that production has exceeded the 4,500,000 mark. Production for the first quarter was 12,544,156 tons, a gain of 4.18 per cent over the 1927 period.

Paper Earned $2 on Common.

International Paper Company reports for the year 1927 consolidated net income of $5,736,499 after depreciation, interest, amortization and income taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $2 a share on 1,600,000 common shares outstanding, as against net of $3,275,283 or 1.07 on the same capita, for 1926.

Copper Pact Ratified.

Phelps Dodge Corporation, Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, New Cornelia Copper Company and Nichols Copper Company have reached an agreement by which an interest in the Nichols Copper Company will be acquired, permitting the producing companies to refine their own copper. The metal will be refined at the Nichols Copper Company Refinery at Laurel Hill, N. Y., and at another to be built in the Southwest at a point not yet decided. The agreement also incorporates a provision for the creation of a joint selling agency to be known as the Phelps Dodge Selling Agency, in which all four companies will be interested in proportion to the amount of copper which they may have for sale. It will be at least two years before the proposed refinery and be completed.

Oil Output Decreases.

Daily average crude oil output in the United States for the week ended April 7 was 2,415,309 barrels, a decrease of 7,101 barrels from the preceding week, according to the Oil and Gas Journal. Light oil output gained 15,070 barrels in week.

The gain in light oil output was due largely to an increase in production in the Hendricks pool of West Texas, which reached a new peak of 209,270 barrels daily. Production in California dropped 19,250 barrels as more heavy oil was shut in.

Coast Oil Merger Looms.

Merger of Pan-American Western Petroleum Company with Richfield Oil Company of California may be the next important oil company consolidation on the Pacific Coast, according to Los Angeles reports. James A. Talbot, president of the Richfield company, admitted that the preliminary feelers have ben advanced and that his company is ready to consider any proposition that might be attractive or advantageous to Richfield stockholders. Pan-American Western on numerous occasions has been mentioned in connection with merger negotiations and it has been generally reported for some time that Doheny interests are ready to sell their holdings in the company.

North Central Texas Oil.

North Central Texas Oil Company reports for the year 1927 net income of $192,025, equal to 72 cents a share on 266,346 shares, against net of $238,039 in 1926.

Sinclair-Marland Rumors.

Wall Street hears rumors of banking plans for changing the name of Harry F. Sinclair's $365,000,000 oil organization by consolidation with other companies. Marland Oil, the $170,000,000 company with which Morgan interests became identified two years ago, is mentioned in reports concerning the merger planned by the Sinclair banking interests. With the name "Marland" on service stations, it was pointed out, and the acquisition of producing properties owned by the Marland Company, the Sinclair organization would become one of the leading independent oil companies. While plans are tentative there have been several conversations between interested bankers that indicate definite action. Amos L. Beaty, who resigned as head of the Texas Corporation last December, has been mentioned most prominently as likely to head the combined organization. Sinclair and Harry Payne Whitney are regarded as the largest individual holders of Sinclair stock. In consummating the merger, it is expected, the stock of Sinclair will be purchased. His ideas of its value, it is claimed, are such as to indicate that rather long drawn out bargaining will take place before the shares change hands. Marland owns a 25,000-barrel daily capacity refinery in Oklahoma, in addition to service stations, casing head plants, etc.

National Tea Sales Up.

National Tea Company sales in March increased 61.2 per cent over March, 1927, to $7,702,731, while those for three months were up 45.7 per cent over the preceding year to $20,044,400.

Investment Funds Plentiful.

With bonds and stocks at such high prices the amount of investment money cluttering the market is getting larger and larger. There is scarcely an investment broker in the Street who is not pouring over stock and bond lists daily to find some outlet for investment funds in his possession. Many are advising their investment clients not to take profits, although they are large in many cases, because of the inability of finding any other medium of investment.

Ingersoll-Rand Profits Off.

Report of Ingersoll-Rand Company for the year ended December 31, 1927, shows net income of $6,550,896 after depreciation, interest, federal taxes, etc., equivalent after 6 per cent preferred dividends to $6.39 a share earned on 1,000,000 shares of no par common stock. This compares with $7,878,097 or $7.72 a share in 1926.

MOP Buys More Texas and Pacific.

The Missouri Pacific bought 39,600 additional shares of Texas and Pacific common shares during 1927, increasing its holding to 189,600 shares at the close of the year, or 46.3 per cent of the outstanding 387,551 shares. The Missouri Pacific owns the entire issue of $23,703,000 of the preferred stock, so with its larger holdings of common, controls 66.7 per cent of the Texas and Pacific's capital stock outstanding.

Pipe Stock Split Looms.

In quarters close to United States Cast Iron Pipe it is believed that directors will order a splitup of its common stock on a five-for-one basis in a few days. In event such action takes place the preferred will also benefit, since no change in common capitalization may be made without the consent of two-thirds of the preferred holders. It is thought the latter may receive an offer of some of the new common. A five-for-one split would increase the common from 120,000 shares to 600,000 shares.

Railway Equipment Orders Low.

Business in the railway equipment field in March showed little change in incoming orders from the low rate prevailing previously. Only 15 locomotives were ordered in March, according to the Railway Age, of which 10 comprised an order given by the New York Central to American Locomotive. There were 4,029 freight cars ordered during the month and 45 passenger cars.

GMO Gets Collins-Aikman.

General Motors Corporation has secured controlling interest in Collins & Aikman Corporation, according to Philadelphia reports. It is said announcement of this acquisition will be made following purchase of another substantial block of stock from an individual. Recent strength in Collins & Aikman was not attributable to contracts received from Chrysler, Hupp and others, it was said, but was due largely to open market buying on the part of General Motors representatives. Collins & Aikman Corporation is one of the principal manufacturers of automobile upholstery materials.

Copper Holds at 14¼ Cents.

Quiet prevails in the domestic copper market with the price firmly maintained at 14¼ cents a pound by leading producers. However, it is reported that some copper in small quantity is available as low as 14.175 cents per pound. Consumers show no immediate interest in dealings, having apparently satisfied their needs temporarily.

STD. SANITARY MOVES UP

Transactions on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange were in moderate volume during the early session today, with prices steady to firm, but with no important individual moves evident.

Lone Star, selling "ex-rights" to purchase one new share at $25 for each three shares held, was firm in the initial dealings with the first sale at 50½ representing a fractional overnight gain. Demand for the stock was steady although there was no apparent effort to bull the issue around the prevailing level.

Standard Sanitary displayed a little more strength today with stock changing hands at 35, the best price on the issue for several weeks. Following the issuance of the "new stock" which represents a three-for-one split up of the old Standard, the price dropped back to around 33 but met the strongest kind of support at that level. Recently it has been pointing upward, presumably in anticipation of declaration of dividends at the rate of $2 a year. This would place the issue on an attractive yield basis, considering the company's history and its position in the industry.

The Dixie Gas and Utilities issues continued to reflect the buying noted over the past 10 days with the common selling at a new high of $13 a share. The preferred changed hands at 91½, off slightly from the previous close, but only a small lot of the stock was sold at that figure.

In the later market Standard Sanitary improved over its early price with bids in the market for all stock available around 35 to 35¼. Lone Star sagged a little after the noon hour, but continued to receive good support.

Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt developed sudden strength on reports that first quarter earnings will show a decided improvement over the previous three months.

Electricity mans Pittsburgh's steel mills . . .

The might of Pittsburgh is its mills. Putting electricity to work in the mills has given steel making the distinction of being one of the most highly developed industries in the world. The story of steel mill electrification is centered in Pittsburgh, the very heart of the steel industry and the home of the Westinghouse Company.

The first large electric motor ever installed in a steel mill was in a Pittsburgh mill in 1891—a Westinghouse motor. Since that time, Westinghouse engineers and steel mill engineers have continually worked together. There are now more than 50,000 Westinghouse auxiliary mill motors in operation; their horsepower is almost a million. The total horsepower of Westinghouse motors driving main rolls is more than three quarters of a million. This tremendous application of electric power has resulted everywhere in lower costs, faster production, and a saving in the labor and lives of men.

Hats Off to Stalwarts Who Develop Foreign Markets.

By B. C. FORBES

ALL of us owe much to those who pioneered and to those who still are pioneering in opening foreign outlets for American goods. Were these outlets to close, we would have, not two or three millions of unemployed, but many millions. Our exports last fiscal year fell just short of five thousand millions of dollars—five billions.

JUST as John D. Rockefeller pioneered in bringing foreign money into the United States in exchange for American products, another veteran, Robert Dollar, is doing the same thing today, mainly in the Orient. Although he is now in his eighty-fifth year, he sailed from San Francisco the other day on a business-getting trip round the world. Before going on shipboard he sent this column the following communication:

"I was much interested in a recent article by you on prosperity and sales. You dealt entirely selling to our own people, who consume 80 per cent of our products; but you did not go into the importance of selling the 20 per cent in foreign lands.

"This is very important—if it were stopped, 20 per cent of our factories would be idle and a corresponding number of men idle. It is very difficult to sell more in the United States than is now sold, but foreign trade can be expanded indefinitely and bring money into our country.

"As an illustration: When we started our round-the-world service four years ago, practically no trade existed between California and Singapore, Penang and Ceylon. During the four years of our giving that part of the world a fortnightly service it brought into this country $29,000,000 of new money. The increase of the then existing trade in Japan, China and the Philippines amounted to $54,287,045, also new business that did not exist before.

"So I claim that foreign trade is a great factor to our prosperity.

"I mean what I write, for I am leaving on my fifth business trip around the world, the sole object being to increase and develop our foreign trade. I have to hurry up, as I have passed my eighty-fourth birthday."

HOW our exports of merchandise have been developed is brought out by this table, showing the total for various fiscal years (ended June 30):

Year.	Exports.
1895	$807,538,165
1900	1,394,483,082
1905	1,518,561,666
1910	1,744,984,720
1915	2,768,589,340
1916	4,333,482,885
1917	6,290,048,394
1918	5,919,711,371
1919	7,232,282,686
1920	8,108,988,663
1921	6,516,510,033
1922	3,771,156,489
1923	3,956,733,373
1924	4,311,656,491
1925	4,864,581,000
1926	4,753,381,000
1927	4,968,485,000

OF COURSE, increased exports have brought increased imports. By selling more abroad we have been better able to buy from other countries things needed or desired here. Imports often are just as necessary to well-rounded prosperity as exports. It will be noted, however, that we have sold far more to others than others have sold to us: the following table shows the balance of exports over imports in the years given:

1895	$75,568,200
1900	544,541,898
1905	401,048,595
1910	188,037,290
1915	1,094,419,600
1916	2,135,599,375
1917	4,630,753,209
1918	2,794,055,568
1919	4,136,562,618
1920	2,870,636,549
1921	2,862,050,687
1922	1,163,677,481
1923	175,774,468
1924	757,619,537
1925	1,040,452,625
1926	286,767,179
1927	726,302,000

AMONG stalwarts who have vigorously opened up foreign markets for American goods and labor have been, in addition to Rockefeller and Dollar, Andrew Carnegie, James A. Farrell, Charles M. Schwab, C. A. Coffin, George Westinghouse, Gerard Swope, John H. Patterson, James B. Duke, Henry Ford, A. P. Sloan, John N. Willys, Walter Chrysler, A. R. Erskine, Roy D. Chapin and other automobile leaders, Frank W. Woolworth, the Remington and Underwood people, Walter C. Teagle, S. Behn, our foremost international and other bankers, Theodore N. Vail and George Eastman.

THE most dynamic agency today engaged in fostering foreign selling of American products is the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, under the extraordinarily energetic direction of Dr. Julius Klein. It is authoritatively estimated that its trade promotive services bring in almost half-a-billion of business a year.

As the years pass, we shall need more and more foreign trade. Let us acknowledge our indebtedness to those who are helping us to get it.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The market for raw sugar was unchanged. The only early sale reported was of 1,000 tons of Philippines in port at an outport at 4.49 cents delivered.

The market for raw sugar futures was quiet. Prices were influenced by moderate orders either way. Traders seemed to be awaiting developments in connection with private cables from Cuba stating that the export commission had asked permission to sell part of the remaining 150,000 tons to Europe. There was a little buying here for foreign account. Advances seemed to meet increased offerings through commission houses. Prices at midday were unchanged.

The market for refined sugar was unchanged at 5.95c to 6c for fine granulated. The demand was slow and sugar was said to be available through second hands at discounts.

INGRAM'S POLICE CHIEF HITS AT PROSECUTOR

Counter charges were filed yesterday by Police Chief William Campbell of Ingram against Abe Lotman, 13 Center street, Ingram, following the chief's arrest on an assault and battery charge preferred by Lotman. Lotman accused Campbell of attacking him with a blackjack Saturday night in the borough lockup. The charges against Lotman include assault and battery, disorderly conduct and mayhem. Lotman is said to have become disorderly while attending the hearing of a friend and to have been taken into custody by Campbell.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 10.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 1 to 5 points under realizing, but quickly steadied on local and commission house buying on reports of rains in the eastern belt and low temperatures in the Southwest.

Active months sold a point or two above yesterday's closing quotations, May advancing to 19.79c and October to 19.[illegible], but an evident disposition to take profits after yesterday's advance and some selling for a reaction on the prospects for higher temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma, supplied the early demand and eased the market, which showed net losses of about 3 to 7 points at the end of the first hour.

Private cables reported trade calling, covering and continental buying in Liverpool but that the advance had checked business in cotton cloths.

The market was quieter late in the morning. Buying on the detailed weather reports, showing heavy rains in the eastern belt, was supplied by further realizing with prices working off to 19.68c for May and 19.36c for October.

The market at midday was quiet at about these figures, or 9 to 12 points net lower.

Your Financial Passport

SHORTAGE of money while traveling is always an embarrassing difficulty, particularly in foreign countries where you have few friends and where credit may be hard to get. If you provide yourself beforehand with Mellon Travelers Cheques they will serve as a "financial passport" wherever money is exchanged. A book of these cheques eliminates the worry and risk of carrying about large sums of cash, and the annoyance that often attends the intricacies of exchange.

The knowledge that there is no danger of your plans being disarranged through sudden limitation of funds will add immeasurably to the enjoyment of your trip. Since they cannot be redeemed in cash without your signature, travelers cheques furnish the safest and most practicable means of carrying expense money while traveling.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Trading continued in heavy volume over a broad list in the curb market today, but profit-taking and firmer money rates at noon appeared to have checked the more extreme advances and in some cases to have caused losses.

Deere & Co. again scored the widest gain, moving up 21 points to a new high at 374¼, but subsequently lost about 5 points. Industrial Rayon A moved to a new top at 22⅝ under heavy buying.

Chain store issues resumed their upward movement on announcement of increased earnings. Safeway touched a new top at 500, Sanitary Grocers advanced about 5 points and Dominion moved to a new peak at 129⅝.

Some of the issues which have led the recent advance slumped under profit-taking today, among them Marion Steam Shovel, Canadian Marconi and Columbia Graphaphone.

Heavy buying of United Gas Improvement on revived reports that it is involved in merger plans lifted that issue to a new top at 130⅝. It later sagged about 2 points. Other utilities gained on reports of increased sales and improved earnings during the first quarter.

Reports of decreased production continued to buoy the oils. Vacuum recorded another peak at 153¼.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

TODAY'S "LACK-A-LINE LIMERICK"

CAN you supply the best missing line and win one of the two $1.00 prizes awarded every day by the Pittsburgh Motor Club in the interests of safety? Send answers to Pittsburgh Motor Club, William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh.

John Scone parked his car on the road
And there his stupidity showed;
Although it was night
He burned not a light.

WINNERS OF THURSDAY'S LAST LINES

Two girl friends has Paul Allen Leete,
Both rode with him upon one seat;
Crash! Two battered cars at large,
Reckless driving was the charge.

"The ride proved a tragedy—not a treat."
Submitted by Miss G. M. Oursler, 7150 Penn Avenue, Homewood.

"Only numbskulls try such a feat."
Submitted by Albert Tillett, 1812 Brownsville Road, Carrick.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 10.—With dry weather persisting in the western part of domestic wheat territory, wheat values averaged higher early today. There were also authoritative estimates current indicating that abandoned acreage of winter wheat is becoming heavier. Opening unchanged to ⅝ higher, wheat held near to the initial limits. Corn, oats and provisions also were firm, with corn starting unchanged to ⅛ rise, and continuing to point upward.

At noon wheat and corn were both unchanged to ⅛c net lower.

Reports at hand today from the West gave evidence that not only is there yet a big portion of the wheat belt which has not received adequate moisture but that even where moisture has been ample the conditions are less favorable than has generally taken for granted. Hessian fly is reported in many of the early planted fields in Kansas, and green bugs are reported from many places in Oklahoma.

According to a comprehensive summary issued today by one of the leading crop experts here late returns—that is since April 1—shows steady increases over the estimates of abandoned acreage than given. From other sources figures today on probable world import requirements were also increased from 772,000,000 bushels to 800,000,000 bushels, so that weekly shipments will have to exceed 16,000,000 bushels between now and the end of July.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of our dear mother Katherine Haisch, who died April 10, 1927.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.

Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

In loving memory of Norbert C. Boucek, who passed away April 10, 1920.

What would we give to clasp his hand, or to hear his voice or see his smile, that meant so much to us.

AUNT NAN.

NO. 183.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting unto the Grennan Bakeries, Inc., its successors and assigns, the right to construct, maintain and use 4 concrete piers extending into Braddock Avenue, 13 concrete piers extending into Meade Street and 4 concrete piers extending into Council Way, a maximum of 3' from building line at a minimum depth of 7' below grade of said highways, surrounding a proposed building, property of the Grennan Bakeries, Inc., 14th Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That The Grennan Bakeries, Inc., its successors and assigns are hereby given the right and authority at its own cost and expense to construct, maintain and use 4 concrete piers extending into Braddock Avenue, 13 concrete piers extending into Meade Street and 4 concrete piers extending into Council Way, a maximum of 3' from building line at a minimum depth of 7' below grade of said highways, surrounding a proposed building located in the 14th Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa., for the purpose of erecting a proposed building, property of the Grennan Bakeries, Inc.

The said grant shall be in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and in accordance with plan hereto attached and identified as Accession No. B-227 Folder "B," in the files of the Division of Public Utilities, Bureau of Highways and Sewers, Department of Public Works, entitled, "Proposed extension of concrete piers into Braddock Avenue, Meade Street and Council Way for a proposed building, property of the Grennan Bakeries, Inc., 14th Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa."

Section 2. The said company, prior to the construction of said piers, shall submit to the Director of the Department of Public Works a complete set of plans showing location and all details for the construction of said piers, and the said piers shall be subject to the approval and supervision of the Director of the Department of Public Works.

Section 3. The rights and privileges herein granted shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the City of Pittsburgh and its powers over city streets, and to the ordinances and to the provisions of any general ordinance which may hereafter be passed relating to the construction, maintenance and use of city streets and compensation for same.

Section 4. The said grantee shall bear the full cost and expense of the repaving and repair of sidewalks and street pavement damaged, repair of sewers, water lines and other surface and sub-surface structures which may be in any way damaged or disturbed by reason of the maintenance and use of the said sidewalks and streets. All of the said work shall be done in the manner and at such times as the Director may order, and shall be subject to his approval and supervision.

Section 5. The rights and privileges granted by this ordinance are granted upon the express condition that the City of Pittsburgh, without liability, reserves the right to cause the removal of the said piers, upon giving six (6) months' notice through the proper officers pursuant to resolution or ordinance of Council to the said Grennan Bakery Inc., its successors and assigns, to that effect; and that the said grantee shall, when so notified, at the expiration of the said six months, forthwith remove the said piers and replace the sidewalks and streets to their original condition, at its own cost and expense.

Section 6. The said grantee shall assume any liability of the City of Pittsburgh for damages to persons or property, including the streets and sub-surface structures therein, by reason of the construction, maintenance and use of concrete piers in said sidewalks and streets and it is a condition of this grant that the City of Pittsburgh assumes no liability to either persons or property on account of this grant.

Section 7. The foregoing rights and privileges are granted, subject to the following condition, to-wit: This ordinance shall become null and void unless within thirty (30) days after its passage and approval, the Grennan Bakeries, Inc., shall file with the City Controller its certificate of acceptance of the provisions thereof, said certificate to be executed by the President and Secretary of the Company, with its corporate seal attached.

Section 8. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Said sewer to be terra cotta and 12" in diameter.

Section 2. The Mayor and the Director of the eDpartment of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the construction of a Public Sewer as provided in Section 1 of this Ordinance; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said Acts of Assembly and Ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices not to exceed the total sum of Five Thousand Eight Hundred ($5,800.00) Dollars, which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Passed in Council April 2, 1928.
Approved April 4, 1928.

NO. 193.

AN ORDINANCE—Amending the title, Section 1 and Section 2 of Ordinance No. 801 entitled "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the construction of a 27", 30", 33" and 36" sewer in the Bells Run Drainage Basin on the southeast sidewalk of Noblestown Road, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby and authorizing and setting aside the sum of Ninety Thousand ($90,000.00) Dollars, from the proceeds of Bond Fund No. 269, 'Peoples Bond Issue, 1926,' for the payment of the City's share of the cost thereof, and further authorizing and providing for the letting of a contract therefor," approved December 8, 1927, by changing the words "One Hundred Thousand ($100,000) Dollars to Ninety Thousand ($90,000) Dollars," and "Ninety Thousand ($90,000) Dollars" to Eighty Thousand ($80,000) Dollars.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the title, Section 1 and Section 2 of Ordinance No. 801, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the construction of a 27", 30", 33" and 36" sewer in the Bells Run Drainage Basin on the southeast sidewalk of Noblestown Road, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby and authorizing and setting aside the sum of Ninety Thousand ($90,000.00) Dollars from the proceeds of Bond Fund No. 269, 'Peoples Bond Issue 1926,' for the payment of the City's share of the cost thereof, and further authorizing and providing for the letting of a contract therefor," approved December 8, 1927, shall be amended as follows:

So that the title of said Ordinance shall read Eighty Thousand Dollars ($80,000.00) instead of Ninety Thousand ($90,000.00) Dollars.

So that Section 1 of said Ordinance shall read Ninety Thousand ($90,000.00) Dollars, instead of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars.

So that Section 2 of said Ordinance shall read Eigthy Thousand ($80,000.00) Dollars.

Section 2. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Passed in Council April 2, 1928.
Approved April 4, 1928.

CONGRESSMAN FRISBY TO SOLVE WATER PROBLEM

Atrophy Doakes, eminent chiropodist, who sees no objection to Frisby's plan. In fact, he has not even discussed it.

WASHINGTON — Congressman Frisby today made the following report to the Ways and Means Committee:

"Gentlemen—

"Let's do something about this. Why not have the Mayor of Chicago and the Mayor of New York get together and trade drinking water—that is, if Arizona will permit it.

"We could tap Lake Michigan and run fresh pure lake water into the side ditches of the Santa Fe and run it out to the Mohave Desert in California and make a lake. The water would get hot, and then we could pipe the hot water to New York.

"Now, in return, we could give Chicago pure salt water from the pure Atlantic, running it back to Chicago in the side ditches of the Pennsylvania.

"It is my idea to get a fairer distribution of pure water so that after awhile the whole United States will be so pure that all the lawyers will have to do is stand around with their hands in their pockets, and that would be the first time any one ever saw a lawyer with his hands in his own pockets. Ha! Ha!

"Yours truly,
"HORACE FRISBY, M. P."

BUGS BAER Says

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF AN OIL CAN

IN 1920 the oil can was a loving cup.

It has a thousand handles.

In 1922 it was a shaving mug. All the boys worked up a nice creamy lather.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

In 1923 the oil can was a community chest. The boys who voted the right ticket dobbed in and grabbed plenty.

A year later it was a collection plate. But the offerings never reached the starving Chinese.

In 1925 the oil can was dripping at the snout like a wolf in a thundershower. But the handles had been torn off by rough juggling.

In 1927 the Democrats stuck a poison label on it.

And now the old oil can is an oil can again.

Increase in Building Is Boost for Prosperity

Construction begun in March is reported to total $76,438,600 in the Pittsburgh district, a gain of 86 per cent over the previous month and of 20 per cent over the same month last year. It is the largest in 10 months. New work contemplated, figured at $112,671,600, also represents a large gain over the previous month and corresponding month of the previous year.

It is an encouraging sign on Prosperity highway. It is when we build and produce crops that we really add to our wealth. While our comforts are greater, we still are not much different from the pioneer who cleared a space in the forest for a home and a place to raise food for his family. Our building still is a cleared place in the forest—more homes. More homes for the family, for industry and for commerce.

A big building program means work, of course, work for the artisan, for the bookkeeper, for the farmer, for the mill worker, for the artist, for the professional man. We need to do lots of building in this county—more improved roads, more tunnels, more bridges. We have the need and we have the men; lets get to work.

America Should Back American Oil Companies

Every responsible official in the Federal government, including President Coolidge, Secretary Hoover, Secretary Work and the Federal Oil Conservation Board, has stressed the necessity of providing this nation with a long-term supply of oil, the basic fuel of our industry and our agencies of national defense.

This means scientific conservation of the limited oil resources of the United States. And it means consistent search for oil fields outside of the United States by American companies, supported by the American government, so that we shall have foreign supplies when our own fail.

The Federal government finds itself blocked in both these directions.

First, conservation of our limited resources is frustrated by the senseless, competitive method of looting oil fields now by our oil industry.

In their attempt to squander our oil supplies in the shortest possible time, our own companies have been very ably supported by the Royal Dutch Shell Company, British-owned and controlled, practically a subsidiary of the British government. Royal Dutch Shell Companies in the United States have the fourth largest production in the country. Royal Dutch is exporting 300,000 barrels of oil a month, taken from the United States Naval Reserve itself.

Second, not only does the Royal Dutch help us dissipate our own supplies. It also prevents us from getting a foothold elsewhere. A dispatch from Washington tells of some of the moves that Royal Dutch has made.

It has attempted to wheedle the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company into giving up their contracts for $8,000,000 of oil annually bought from Russia for sale in India, in competition with Royal Dutch.

Failing in this, Royal Dutch is persuading the Indian government to put a tariff on imported oil—meaning oil brought by the two American companies—so as to leave the field a monopoly for Royal Dutch and its associates.

The American government has two obvious jobs, and is, no doubt, attending to them. One is to make our own fields last and the other is to assure us our future foreign supplies.

1. This means legislation to compel American operators to exploit their field in a scientific, co-operative manner, under suitable government regulation of price.

2. And it means adequate, constant, consistent support of American oil companies abroad—just the same kind of support that the British government gives to Royal Dutch Shell and the Anglo-Persian Oil Company.

French Are Born Actors

Everybody in France Can Act

WATCHING JOAN OF ARC BURN.

The French have talent of many kinds and prove it many ways.

They proved their power in one way at Verdun when they said, "They SHALL NOT pass," and they DID NOT pass.

They showed it when they produced Charlemagne, Bayard, Duquesclin, Pasteur, Michelet, Jean Bart, Charles Fourier, whose genius and great intellect will be remembered thousands of years hence.

The French possess, above all other races, excepting possibly the Italian, INNATE ability to portray emotion.

The faces are watching poor Joan as she stands against the stake, her eyes turned upward, being burned alive.

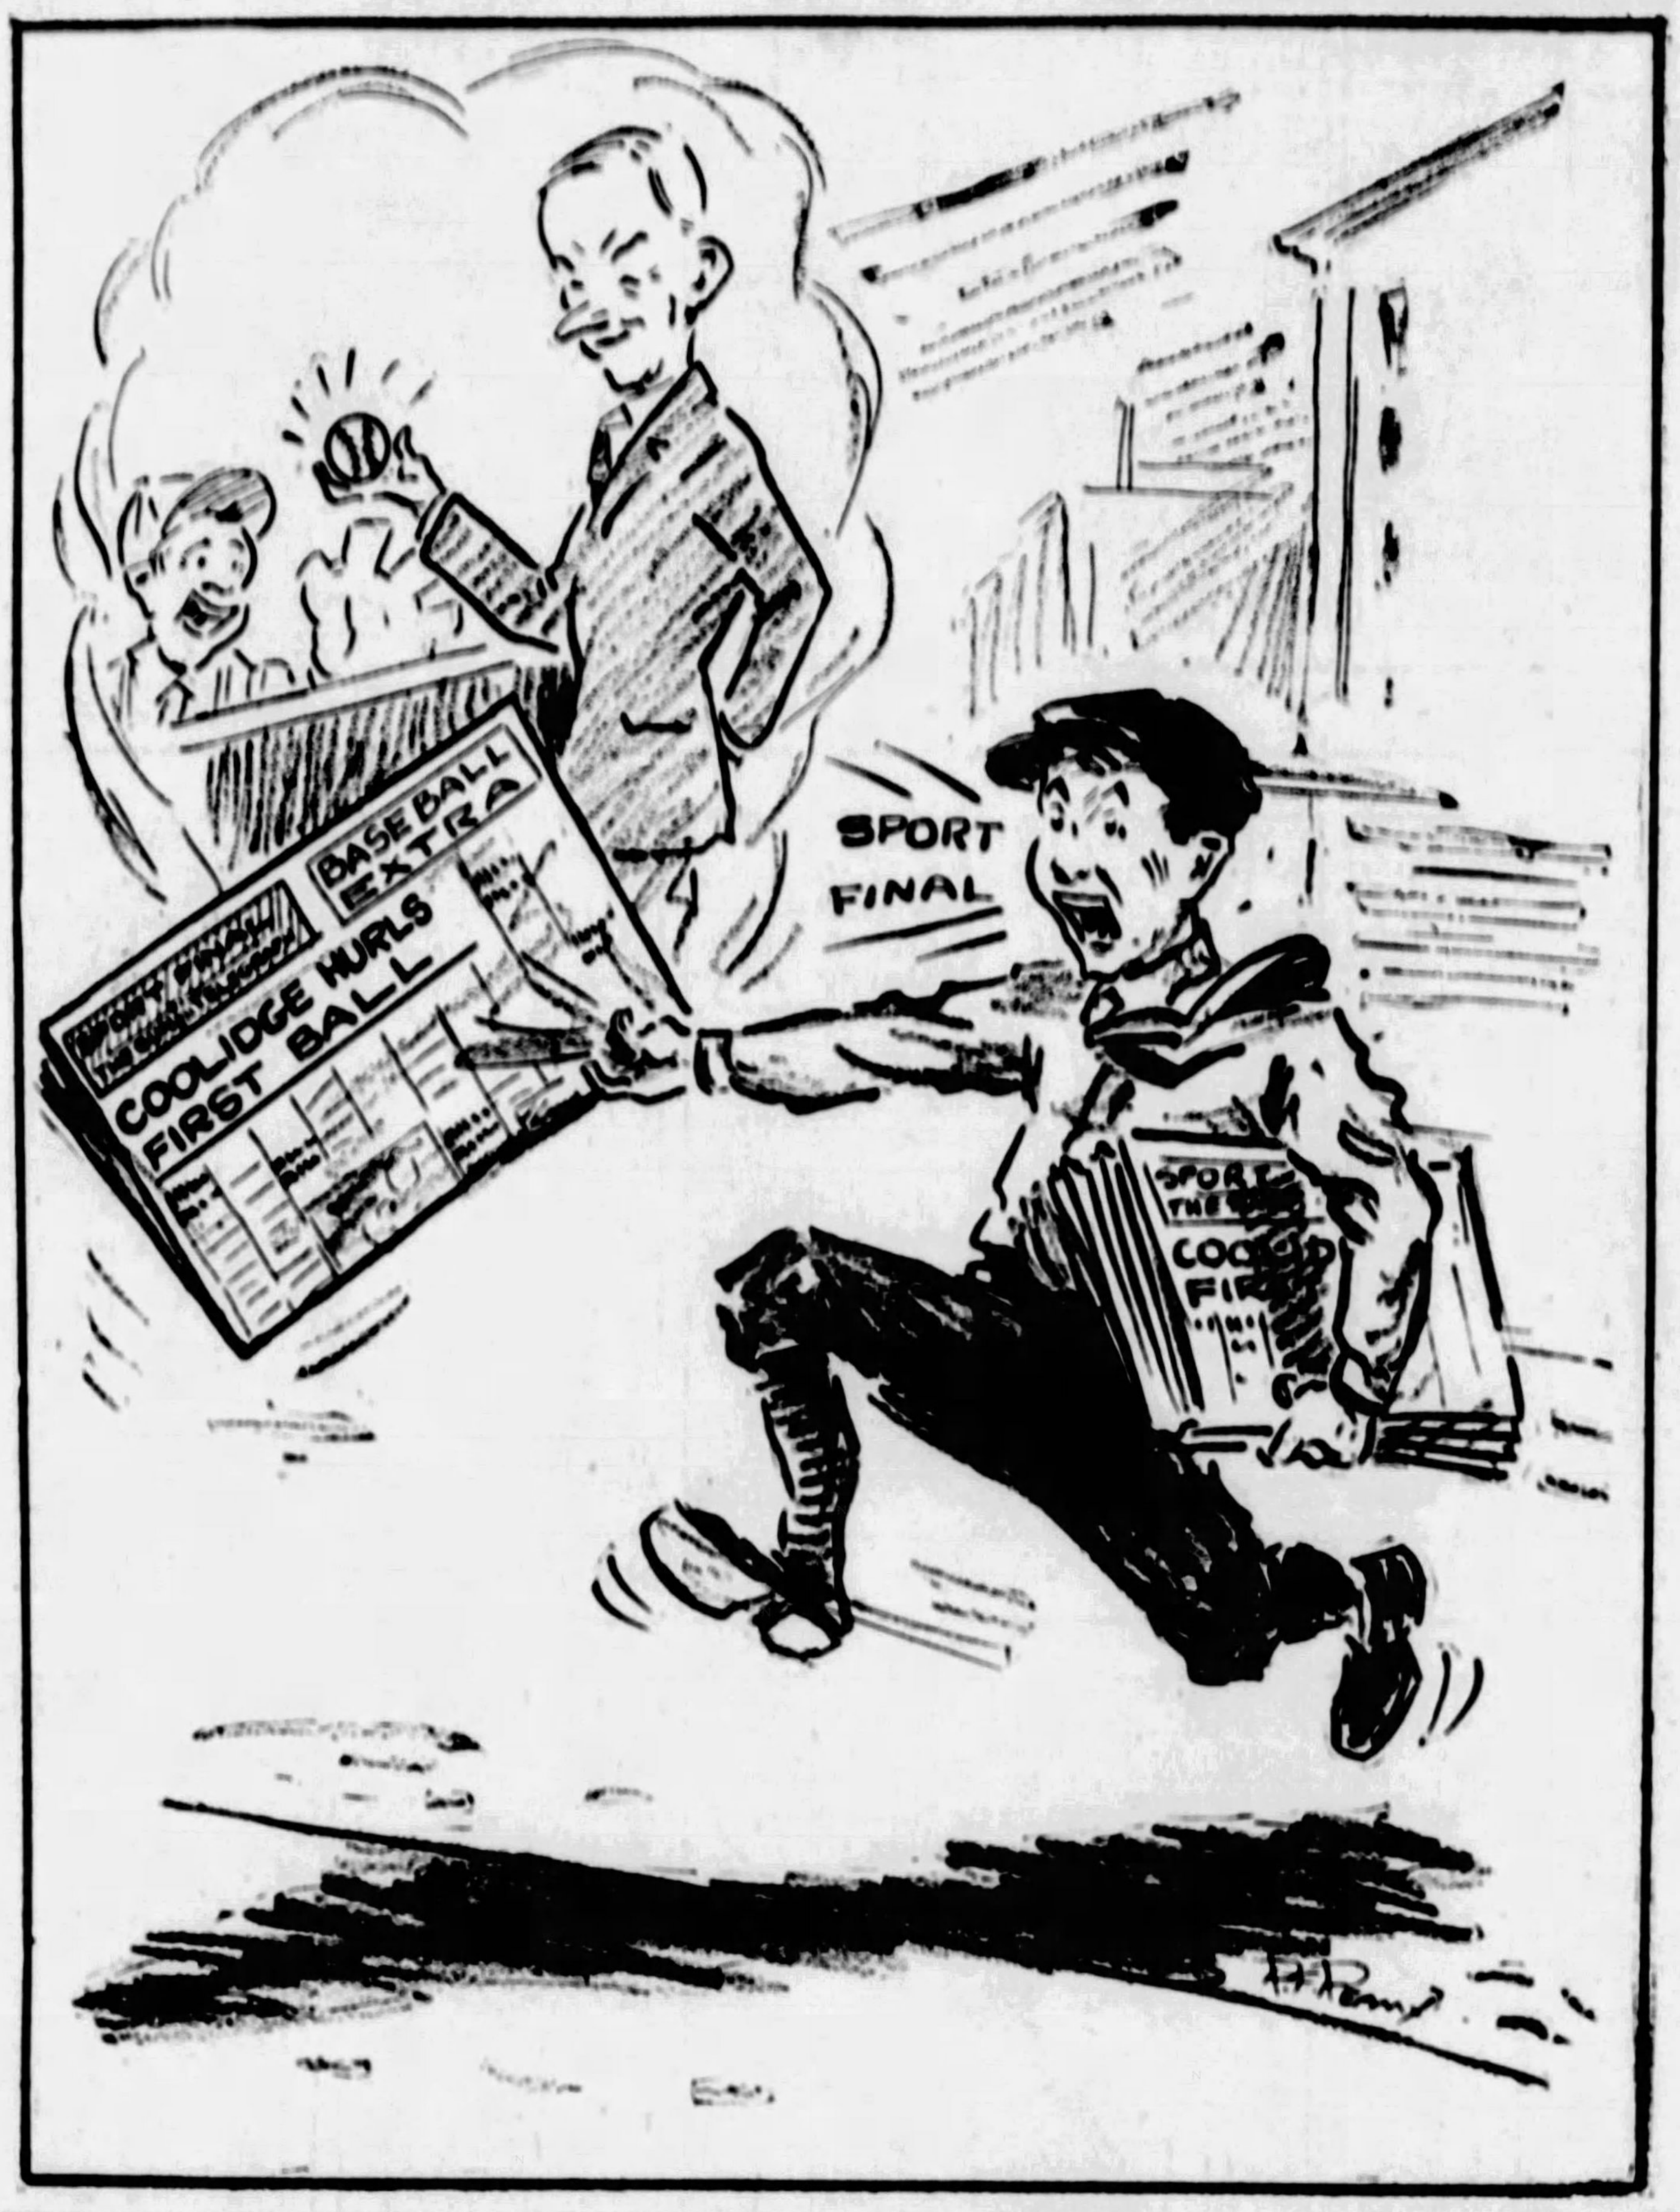
The face of the woman on the left expresses anguish, sympathy, pure and simple. The earnest face on the right shows intellectual comprehension, reverence and resignation.

Deep was the sorrow of the French peasants who knew that Joan had saved France from England, when they saw her burned alive, by a conspiracy of English and French, at the instigation of Frenchmen forever accursed. Many soldiers were needed to keep the peasants from rushing at the fire to rescue Joan.

BEGINS TO LOOK LIKE SPRING



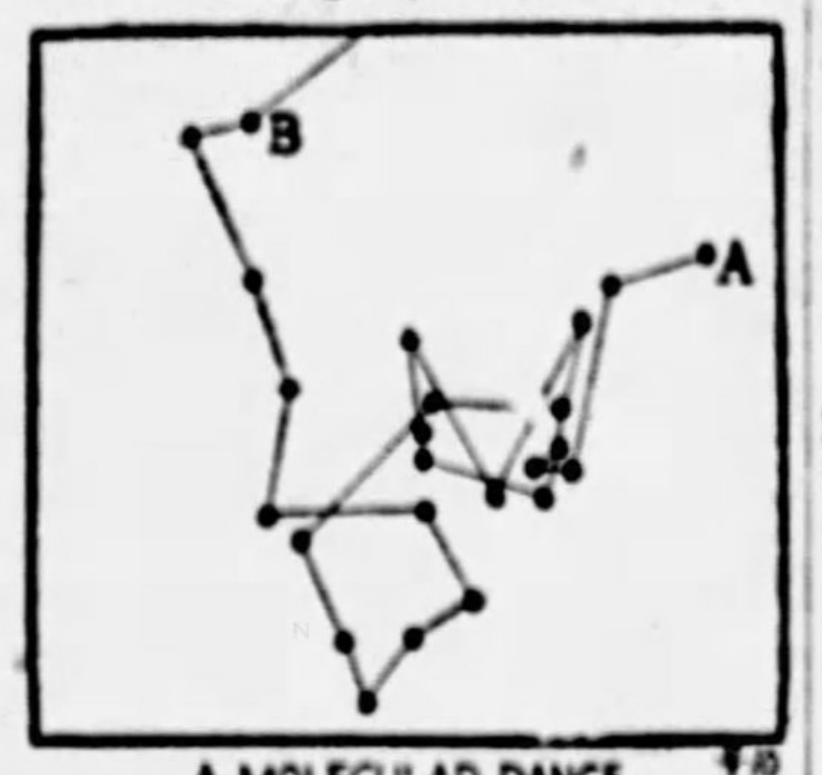
Garrett P. Serviss Says:

The Molecular Ballroom

"Is the 'Brownian Movement' of minute bodies suspended in water due to the molecular motion of the water, or what? An article on this phenomenon would be deeply appreciated.—J. T. T."

THE "Brownian Movement" is a crowd affair. It is a matter of jostle, bump and push. When an aviator looks down upon a crowd from such an elevation that he cannot clearly distinguish individuals, he perceives a constant agitation throughout the mass which may be likened to the Brownian movements of small particles suspended in liquids or in gases. The more excited the crowd becomes the more conspicuous the agitation. Just so with the particles, the higher the temperature of the medium in which they are contained the more violent the movement. The phenomenon affords a glance into the microscopic world of the molecules and atoms. It is a case in which motion reveals what sight alone could not detect.

For half a century after its discovery, in 1827, the Brownian Movement was a standing mystery in science. It was first noticed by an English botanist, Robert Brown, who reported that with a high-powered microscope he could see minute particles of dead matter suspended in liquids moving about with irregular, wiggling motions, as if they were endowed with life. There was a suggestion of diablerie about this that brought immediate fame to the phenomenon and its discoverer, but defied rational explanation until at last a solution was reached which seemed as extraordinary as the phenomenon itself.



A MOLECULAR DANCE.
Follow the Particles from A to B.

The explication was that the particles were knocked about by "bombardment" from the moving but invisible molecules of the liquid or gas in which they were suspended. The understanding of the phenomenon was greatly advanced when, about 1881, it began to be studied in connection with smoke particles suspended in air. In 1905 Einstein worked out mathematical equations by which its relation with the kinetic theory of gases was made clear, and it was shown to be a necessary result of heat motion.

Heat motion is molecular motion. Molecules themselves are too minute to be seen with microscopes, but the suspended particles concerned in the Brownian movement imitate so closely the motions of the molecules whose impacts they receive that their movements may be used to represent those of the molecules.

Thus, in the little sketch herewith, which is based upon a representation by the French physicist Jean Perrin of the motions of a "Brownian particle," as measured by himself, we get, in effect, a picture of the incessant and erratic motion of a molecule subjected to constant interruptions and changes of velocity by collisions with other molecules and particles in the same medium.

Millikan's famous experiments by which he isolated the electron and determined many of its fundamental properties, began in 1910 with a study of the Brownian movement in gases. This phenomenon has also served to enable physicists to count the number of molecules in a unit volume of any kind of gas. This same incessant movement of the molecules of a gas promotes the diffusion of invisibly small particles through the air, such, for instance, as the "odoriferous molecules" of a perfume, which are driven gradually into every corner of an apartment by incessant impacts from the never-resting molecules of air.

Isn't It So?

Business is as good as you make it.

Good judgment and hard work will bring you more work than rabbit feet and four-leaf clovers.

Your Other Interests

YOU have been fortunate in making money.

Your children shall not want for lack of anything they desire.

You have made it your business to pave their paths with gold, figuratively speaking.

Has it ever occurred to you that this younger generation, never having wished for a material thing it could not purchase, will not be so concerned about money or the lack of it, as you, who have made the money?

What, then, will they seek?

Your grandchildren will not think about it, till they have grown older.

When it does come up, you will be gone, perhaps.

But your descendants will meet men and women who have distinguished themselves, in one way or another.

The question will come up—"What did grandfather or great-grandfather do to amuse himself?"

What were the hobbies of those dim, distant ancestors?

Were they well-educated, artistically inclined?

Were they honest and true and kind? What are your interests, other than money?

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

The Picture

ONLY a sweep of waters green,
Only a wind-swept sky,
Cloud-banners trailing, and between
Blossoms of sunset die.

Strange, how a picture can set aside
Years with their joy and pain;
Strange, how the sight of that ebbing tide
Wakens thought's sleeping train!

Strange, how it beckons and calls to me,
Stirring old memories dim,
Only a line where sky and sea
Meet at the Earth's far rim!

Stars and Stripes

Not our idea of charity—Why should anybody give John D. Rockefeller a dime? He's got one.

Tales that are Told

A Long Way Round

"HEY, there!" the conceited motorist called to the pedestrian. "Can you tell me the way to Loxbourne?"

"It's not easy to explain," replied the pedestrian, "but if you'll take me in your car I'll point it out to you as we go along."

"Good," said the motorist. "Jump in."

"First," directed the man, as he took his seat, "you drive straight ahead for about two miles."

At the end of them he said: "Now, if you'll drop me here, I can show you the rest of the way. Just turn round and go back three miles, and there you are."

"Why didn't you tell me that in the first place, instead of taking me two miles out of my way?" demanded the motorist.

"I live here," said the pedestrian, simply. "And didn't you notice I was wearing new shoes?"

Wonderful!

ALREADY we are being told there will be thousands of new motor-drivers on the road this spring. We hope there will not be many like this.

Two cars were standing radiator to radiator outside a postoffice. A girl was driving one, a man the other. The girl, having transacted her business, jumped into her car.

The man, wishing to be polite, called out: "Shall I get out of your way?"

"Please," came the reply.

He reversed a few yards. The girl started her car, and as she came abreast of his said in a voice of genuine astonishment:

"How did you do that? You went backward!"

Meaning to be Tactful

SHE dabbled in water colors, and was rather proud of the results, also, her complexion was the envy of her acquaintances, and they said spiteful things about it.

At a dinner party she sat next to a shy, awkward young man who cudgelled his brain in vain for something to say.

She took pity on him, and tried to open conversation by remarking with expectant modesty: "I dare say you have heard that I paint?"

"Y'yes," he stammered, looking at her face. Then he added, with a pleasant smile: "But I don't believe it!"

Caught!

"AH," said the lounger to the ardent fisherman, "you've got a bite at last."

"I should think I have," replied the fisherman. "And by the way it's pulling, it must be a big bream."

"How do you know?"

"Oh, easy. I can tell what kind of fish it is by the way it bites. I'm always right. The eel makes little pecks at your bait, and then swings away with your line; but the bream fusses about a lot, and then pulls and swims downstream. I never make a mistake. Ah, here he comes."

And the fisherman's catch rose to the surface. It was an old boot!

In the Nick of Time

BY SOME misfortune the carpenter had left the gas turned on in his shop, and on entering the following morning the first thing he did was to strike a match.

There was a terrible explosion and the carpenter found himself in the street once again.

A passer-by rushed to his assistance, and after helping him to his feet inquired if he were injured.

The carpenter gazed at his shop, which was now burning merrily, and said:

"No, I'm not hurt; but I only got out just in time."

Women Want Love

MARGARET B. BENSON, director of the woman's division of the National Manufacturers' Association, finds that among female wage workers "the uppermost thing in their minds is to make some man fall in love with them."

All of which proves that the world's chief problem is being solved in the good old-fashioned way.

It may be just as hard work to keep house and tend babies as to work in an office or a factory, but it is a lot more fun.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 10.—The value of space in New York is strikingly illustrated by its variety of tiny shops blooming in crevices of skyscrapers, doorways and halls of buildings. In these miniature stands men and women make a good living.

The smallest store in town is that of a locksmith—one of those keys-made-while-you-wait places. It is eighteen inches wide across the front and three feet deep. Customers transact their business from the sidewalk window and the proprietor has been able to provide for a large family from his profits.

On Seventh avenue is a pie-shaped jewelry store, with room for proprietor and three customers. Most of the stock is in the window. The rent is $4,000 a year, but the owner is able to come to work in an auto. His trade is confined almost exclusively to theatrical folk.

On the lower East Side is a cigar maker with a cubby-hole three feet wide and six feet deep, and he has two employes. The smallest florist shop used to be in a lower Broadway hotel with room for four customers and did a business of some $30,000 a year.

There are innumerable soft drink stands in the congested mid-town district paying annual rentals from $25,000 to $60,000 and with 5 and 10-cent patronage have made the proprietors rich. One theatrical ticket agency with space six feet wide and four deep pays rental of $25,000 yearly.

That these holes-in-the-wall in crowded sections are profitable is illustrated by a man who had a three-storied printing shop in a New Jersey town employing 28 people. It went into bankruptcy. He came to New York with less than $300 and opened a one-man printery on Sixth avenue.

He had just enough room for three cases of type and a small hand press and specialized in while-you-wait calling cards and stationery. At the end of three years he was able to buy his own home and his profits are greater than those of his best year in the larger establishment. So he sticks to his hole in the wall.

New York may soon have high grade musical shows at low prices. A scheme is on tap to build a large theater so arranged every seat is desirable, the depth being sacrificed to width, and playing to a $2.50 top price. It will be able to play to $38,000 weekly, which will permit its sponsors to engage talent now employed by $10 top shows.

* * *

Theatrical managers see no immediate hope of a reduction in salaries for actors. With the glorified movies, owing to tremendous seating capacity, able to pay stupendous stipends, there is nothing left but for legitimate producers to meet the scale or sink.

The adroitness of pickpockets has reached a high spot. The mob had singled out an immigrant who, after years of back-breaking ditch-digging and painful frugality, drew his $2,000 from a savings bank to take to Italy. He carried his purse in a pair of trousers whose pocket was protected with safety pins. Over these trousers he wore two other pairs. He was followed to the subway and then by a process of jostling and squeezing that continued until he passed over the gangplank, the wallet was lifted.

Pickpockets in difficult hauls work in sets of threes—the "stall," the "hook" and the "line." The "stall" does the bumping to throw the victim off guard, the "hook" does the actual purse-lifting and then passes it to the "line," who makes the getaway.

The leather lifter is not always the dapper type with manicured hands. Clever dips nowadays often dress as day laborers and make their hands look greasy and grimy to help throw off suspicion. The subway remains the paradise for the nimble-fingered gentry.

One of these off days I must scout for some porch-climbing gossip. Their season opens on Long Island shortly.

The Napoleonic Complex

By DR. FRANK CRANE

We often hear of Napoleons of business, Napoleons of finance or Napoleons of this, that or the other.

We generally mean a man who has determined to accomplish his purpose and crushes everybody and everything ruthlessly to achieve success.

Napoleon was a tyrant that stopped at nothing to gain his own ambitions. He was ruthless and he never looked at the interests of anybody else, but at his own advantage.

He was diametrically opposed to Jesus of Nazareth. The latter went about doing good. His object was the betterment of his fellows and he had no selfish ambitions of his own.

The purpose of Napoleon was to make Napoleon great and, if any man stood in his way, woe to that man!

The jails and penitentiaries of the world are full of Napoleons. Almost every criminal is a monster of selfishness. If he had thought of the welfare of others he would not be a malefactor.

All crime, in its last analysis, is but super egotism. When a man's desires and ambitions center upon himself and do this to such an extent that he disregards the rights of others, he may become a Napoleon, but society very properly claps such a Napoleon into a prison cell or hangs him.

To follow the teachings and example of the Nazarene remains the surest way to permanent success and lasting fame.

George Washington was never greater than when he refused the crown, and Lindbergh was popular not because of his exploits but because of his modesty.

No man that takes Napoleon for his model is going to be of help to his fellow men or is going to be praised by them. It is not the domination of some great man or leader that the world needs. It is for men to be of great service. Napoleon lusted to be the master of all. The Nazarene called himself the servant of all.

God is more than the Almighty King seeking the worship of his creatures. He is the Almighty servant that goes about sustaining life, bestowing his benefits on everything that he has made.

He still remains the most modest Being in His universe.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Are You a Self-Starter?

FUNNY about Fanny. There's a girl you'd say had all the makings for a successful career. Bright, attractive, hard working, polite, punctual, neat, sympathetic, reliable—with such a battery of virtues, Fanny should have the world by the tail after seven years of business experience. But she hasn't—instead, she is still grubbing along at a job that's little better than her first position.

During those seven years, girl after girl has shot ahead of her. Many of them weren't half as hard workers as Fanny, yet they were given promotions while she was overlooked.

Fanny's pretty bitter about it. She's beginning to say sneering things about "decent girls having no chance nowadays." She honestly thinks that there's some mysterious, immoral prejudice working against her. But there isn't. The reason for Fanny's failure is tragically simple.

SHE HAS NO INITIATIVE.

SHE ISN'T A SELF-STARTER.

She's a fine, accurate tool—but that lets her out. Consequently, she rates in with the rest of the filing cabinets and rubber stamps. While the girls who ARE self-starters—the girls who lift the boss' burden by assuming responsibility and going ahead on their own—get all the rewards.

Like every normal baby, Fanny was a Go-getter when she was born. She was curious and eager and excited about this new world. She wanted to grab and make experiments and run ahead and do things for herself. But every time she tried, Mother and Father cried "DON'T!"

Sometimes they said "Don't!" because they were alarmed. Sometimes, because they were cross. Usually they said "Don't!" because they thought that was the way to bring up little girls. They thought that Obedience was the First and Greatest Virtue—and they were sure that parents who allowed their children to be unruly and restless were a disgrace to the community.

It never occurred to them that some day Fanny must go out into a rushing world where people would be too busy to do her thinking for her—where she'd have to be a Self-Starter or be left behind in the race. They could only see the little world in which they lived, the little law by which they functioned. And, of course, like most parents, they really liked to boss.

So bit by bit they crushed out the individuality in Fanny and developed fear of all new or risky departures. They did not know they were hurting her. They thought that such fear was wholesome. They called it "conservatism." They were sure that their bright, pretty, docile little girl had everything needful for a great success. They would be appalled if you told them that they have crippled her as surely as if they had bound her feet or broken her spine.
